

THE RAFTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Raftsmen's Journal.

S. J. ROW, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JAN. 23, 1867.

THE MURDER TRIAL.—We take up the greater portion of our paper to-day with the proceedings of the trial of Mrs. Lena Miller, charged with poisoning her husband, at Frenchville, in this county, in the month of July, 1866. The case was submitted to the Jury this (Wednesday) morning; but, up to the time of going to press, have not rendered their verdict.

MORE SNOW.—There seems to be "no end" to snow in Clearfield county this winter. Every day in January, thus far, more or less snow has fallen, and at this time it over two feet deep. It is retarding timber hauling to some extent.

THANKS.—Mr. Duglison will accept our thanks for an early copy of Gov. Geary's Inaugural address, and Col. Campbell for a copy of the Surveyor General's report. We also tender our thanks to Senator Wallace for several public documents.

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC for 1867 possesses its usual, and even greater degree of usefulness. We know of no other publication of like size comprising more general information and statistics, such as all desire to possess. A few copies for sale at this office.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday, Jan. 15th, John Leonard of Girard tp., this county, had his shoulder dislocated and the small bone on the top of the shoulder fractured, by a kick from his horse, which ran away with the sleigh, as he was going down Lick Run hill.

U. S. SENATOR.—On Tuesday, the 15th instant, the Legislature of Pennsylvania elected Gen. Simon Cameron as United States Senator for the term of six years from the 4th of March next. The Republican members, 81, voted for Gen. Cameron; the latter-day Democrats, 48, voted for Edgar Renegade Cowan.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—All who are afflicted in any manner should consult Dr. Newcom, of New York, who has taken rooms at Johnston's Hotel, in Clearfield. He treats nearly all manner of diseases with great success, without the use of medicine or surgical instruments. He will remain from the 27th of January to the 5th of February. Consultation free to all. Terms of treatment moderate. Don't forget the time and place.

THE MILESBURG SHOOTING AFFAIR.—Last week we noticed the fact that William Cooke, of Milesburg, shot three young men who, with three others, had dragged him from a house, where he was visiting some female friends, with the intent of ducking him in the canal. We learn that one of the men shot by Mr. Cooke, has since died.

THE RAIL ROAD.—We understand that the Penna. Railroad Company has formally agreed to the proposition which we referred to in our last; that they would pay $150,000 to responsible parties here if they will undertake to grade the road, build the bridges, furnish the ties, and secure the right of way—the work to be done within two years. So we can, at last, look confidently for the completion of the road to Clearfield within a couple of years.

A SECRET REVEALED.—A correspondent at Oil-city writes us as follows: "On Jan. 6th, 1867, John Franklin Worley, a resident of this place for about two years, died from the effects of a wound received at the battle of Antietam. On his dying bed he stated, that four years ago he left a wife and two small children, near Janesville, Clearfield county. And now, he leaves another wife and two children in this place, she not knowing that he was married before. He could not die without revealing the facts to her, and asking her forgiveness, as well as that of his first wife. I thought it right to publish this statement for the information of his widowed companion and fatherless children."

UNFORTUNATE AND FORTUNATE.—The Venango Citizen, says: "About ten days ago Mr. Francis Collier, one of our citizens, was working at an oil well on the Allegheny river, and while turning the bull-wheel, he unfortunately had his arm caught and broke off immediately above the wrist. This is a sad case, as Mr. C., is dependant upon his labor for a living. We are glad to learn, however, that he acted the part of a wise man, by the timely insurance against general accidents in the sum of $2,500, in the Traveller's Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., by which he receives promptly, at the end of each week, $12.50." S. J. Row, at Clearfield, is agent for this company, who will issue policies on application.

HIS HONOR, Mayor Wood, of Williamsport, has got himself into the deep waters of humiliation. He has been arrested and bound over for trial at next Court on a charge of conspiring to swindle certain parties out of large sums of money.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The State government of Pennsylvania, under the new administration, stands as follows:
Governor—Major General John W. Geary, of Cumberland county.
Private Secretary—John Rabley Duglison, of Philadelphia.
Secretary of State—Colonel Francis Jordan, of Bedford county.
Attorney General—General Benjamin H. Brewster, of Philadelphia.
Adjutant General—Brevet Brig. Gen. David R. McCreary, of Erie county.
Auditor General—Major General John F. Hartranft, of Montgomery county.
Surveyor General—Col. Jacob H. Campbell, of Cambria county.
State Treasurer—William H. Kemble, of Philadelphia.
President of the Senate—Louis W. Hall, of Blair county.
Speaker of the House—Colonel John P. Glass, of Allegheny county.

THE SOLDIERS BECOMING RADICALS.—The recent letters of General Heintzelman, in the department of Texas, and Gen. Ord, in the department of Arkansas, both heretofore classed among the conservative men, testifying to the utter cruelty and ingratitude of the seceding population, go much farther than the ordinary testimony from the South. Such men do not speak except on the gravest provocation, and I am not, therefore, astonished to hear that General Grant freely expressed his mortification and indignation at the manner in which the Southern leaders are conducting themselves.

THE RESPONSE.—The Republican response, from beyond the borders of Pennsylvania, to the Inaugural Address of Gov. Geary, and the speech made by Hon. Simon Cameron immediately after his election to the United States Senate, are significant of the unbiased opinion of the country. Both are pronounced admirable as to matter, and the feeling is that the loyalty of Pennsylvania will be fully supported in the Executive Department of the State government and in the National Senate.

The lumber trade of the distant western regions, where large supplies are usually drawn, is now suffering great embarrassment by a lack of snow. The absence of snow makes it impossible for lumbermen to get their logs to the banks of streams preparatory to being floated to lumber mills and market. It is feared, unless more snow falls, the stock of sawed lumber in the west will fall far short the coming of any former season and that prices, as a consequence, will be very high.

NEBRASKA AND COLORADO.—Both Houses of Congress have passed the bills admitting Nebraska and Colorado as States; but they are likely to encounter a brief delay in the threshold, before entering into the Federal family, in the form of a veto. The objections to the proposed terms of admission are said to be, "that there is too much allowance made to the colored race, in the exercise of the elective franchise."

Horace Greeley sets off a good thing now and then. In a lecture delivered on advertising he said: "Some men who know enough to advertise are yet so narrow-minded as to confine their advertisements to journals of their own creed and party. If they do not choose to trade with any but men of like faith, this is wise, but if they desire the whole public for customers it is otherwise."

A SAD MEMENTO.—Secretary Stanton on Jan. 14th, turned over to Secretary Browning, of the Interior Department, for safe keeping, the chair occupied by President Lincoln when shot by Booth at Ford's Theatre. It has been in the custody of the War Department since the night of the assassination. The chair is an arm rocking-chair, covered with morocco colored cloth.

JUSTICE FIELD.—The friends of this gentleman insist that his decision against the test-oath is a two-edged sword, and that, while it prevents State Governments from adopting test-oaths to interfere with professions and trades, it will also operate to prevent what are called the State governments in the rebel States from defying the provisions of the civil-rights bill.

One million six hundred and fifty thousand dollars capital is invested in the Cambria Iron works at Johnstown, Pa. Three thousand two hundred men are constantly employed at wages varying from $1.42 to $4.00 per day. From a mere village these iron works have caused Johnstown to expand into a good sized town of fifteen thousand inhabitants.

A few days since a farmer near Newark, N. J., was waited upon by a respectable looking gentleman, who said he had come to pay for a basket of apples which he had taken from the orchard when a boy sixteen years previously. He insisted upon paying not only for the original value but the interest. That man is too honest to be trusted.

Information from North Carolina is to the effect that secret organizations with revolutionary objects, exist in Union county. Outrages of an aggravated nature are being perpetrated on negroes in Wayne county, and officers of the law confess themselves afraid to molest the perpetrators with the remedies provided by law.

General Ord's report on the condition of affairs in Arkansas, is frightful. Fifty two murders of freed persons in various parts of the State took place in three or four months, and the General thinks not half the real number was reported. None of the murderers have been punished.

FIRE.—On Jan. 18th, a fire occurred in the conservatory attached to the Executive Mansion at Washington, damaging the building and destroying many of the rare plants. Estimated loss $20,000. The fire was caused by the bursting of one of the main heating flues.

Returns received at the office of the Secretary of State of Maine show that during last year there were two hundred and sixty-five bears killed in that State. In Penobscot county alone there were one hundred and nine killed, and in the town of Lincoln forty-five.

Gen. Sickles' testimony before the Congressional Committee in relation to affairs in South Carolina is very strong. He declares that many counties require constant military control to secure to the freedmen any of their rights.

A correspondent of the Portland Star, tells a story of an old lady who lived somewhere west of Norway, who sent her husband to the barn to search for eggs; he went, succeeded in finding a few, and when returning fell and broke his neck. A little girl in passing by saw the mishap and ran to tell the forlorn widow the news. "O Lord," said she, "I wonder whether the darned old fool saved the eggs."

TERRIBLE DISASTER.—The steamer Platte Valley, on its way from Memphis to Nashville, on the 17th January, struck the wreck of a gunboat and sunk almost instantly to the hurricane reef. It is estimated that one hundred persons were drowned. There were some forty women and children aboard, most of whom lost their lives. A tug boat passing saved such as had the presence of mind to stick to the wreck.

When Jeff. Davis was in Congress he was on a committee for the decoration of the capitol. On one of the paintings purchased for the purpose, the South was represented by an Arcadian scene, with a negro in the midst, sleeping on a bale of cotton. Mr. Davis made a single comment on the picture: "What becomes of the South when the negro wakes up?" Perhaps he can answer it now.

The excursion party from Philadelphia, returning home from the inauguration of Gov. Geary, tell a story of a pick-pocket who got in their car and proceeded to play his nefarious business, when he was discovered and severely beaten by some soldiers. The conductor interfered, and probably saved the man's life, but had his own pockets picked in the operation.

Of six hundred students at the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, in that State, there are but three who openly avow their attachment to the Government of the United States. These are among the future teachers and statesmen of the South.

Information received in Washington from the frontier, official and otherwise, leads to the conclusion that a majority of the Western Indian tribes are now on the war path ready for a war of plunder and extermination against the whites.

Gov. Orr, of South Carolina, who is in Washington, states that it is his intention to confer with leading Congressmen on the situation. He declares that his own State will accept anything rather than ratify the amendment.

The best evidence yet given of Maximilian's purpose to remove from the Western Continent is the insurance, as announced by Cable, of his personal effects to a large amount, to be shipped from Mexico.

A hotel proprietor of Wisconsin had his valise stolen while on a recent tour in the southern part of the State. On returning home he found the valise and thief stopping at his own house.

Pittsburgh only enjoyed sunshine one hundred and thirty-two days during 1866, although the almanacs announced the sun's appearance some three hundred and sixty-five times.

An extensive conflagration occurred in Johnstown last week, by which a drug store, six stores, and several residences were consumed. Loss $19,000; insured for $13,000.

Two brutes in human shape had a prize fight, at Goldsboro', York county, a few days ago. Is there no law in that cradle of Democracy to punish cruelty to brutes?

Ex-Governor Curtin, it is stated, will make Lancaster his future residence, with the expectation of succeeding Mr. Stevens in the House of Representatives.

The President has approved the bill suspending payment of money to persons claiming the labor or service of colored volunteers or drafted men.

Two more Militia companies have been sent to Lafayette county, Mo., to preserve order.

MARRIED:
On Tuesday, Jan. 15th, 1867, by Rev. A. H. Sombower, Mr. JOHN D. WRIGHT, of Lawrence township, and Mrs. MARY J. WILLIAMS, of Knox township.
