Select Poetry.

MY ALICE IS DEAD.

They tell me my Alice died Like a wave on the sandy shore. When the wind is hushed at eventide, And the light of day is o'er; They say that she sank to rest Like the zephyr that warms the deep, With her white hands laid on her marble breast And her blue eyes closed in sleep.

Ah! the sun of life went down, Ere the hours of morn had fled; And the shadows rolled with an angry frown O'er my darling's sunny head ! And her heart grew faint and cold, As the snow on the mountain's breast When the frozen wings of the north wind fold On its darkened sides to rest.

She murmured her mother's name, While her eyes grew bright and blue; And their lustrous depths were the same Which the olden moments knew; And she pressed her parting kiss,
As the winged moments fled;
Then sank to sleep in the arms of bliss,
With the sunshine round her head.

They parted the wavy hair, O'er the brow as white as snow, And pressed the lids o'er the blue eyes fair, That would wake no more below, And the evening's golden light 'As it fell on my darling there,
Revealed the form of an angel bright,
With the look that she used to wear.

The Great Secret of Masonry.

One of our exchanges relates an anecdote of a brother who is noted for his acts of charity, and who is withal a man of good presence and a great favorite among the lalies-so much so as to cause some jealousy on the part of his worthy spouse. One evening a bundle came to the house for him, labelled, "private." Of course this was sufficient for female curiosity, and therefore indulged in an inspection. Horror! of horrors! blankets, baby-linen, &c., greeted her astonished vision, and dreams of two families floated through her brain. The husband soon came in, and after tea, when the wife had discovered in his eye the treachery of his conduct-as she supposed-he took the bundle and went out, but not alone, for his jealous wife was on his track. . The faithless husband little imagined that she, who small tenement, which he entered. Here in Susan which called out our respect. he paused to hold a council of war. What One Saturday afternoon, as I was looking and hastily brushed past the little child who feelings were about to find expression, when vulgar part of the town?" the scene before her caused her to pause. A pale and care worn man, shivering over the expiring embers of a scanty fire, a poor population live here." woman on a sick bed, a babe not old enough for christening, and two little girls snugly her ferocious gaze. She read the story at a clance, and returned home with her hus- ed the front door. band, a better and a wiser woman, satisfied

FASHIONABLE WOMEN. -At a meeting in New York recently held by a number of gentlemen interested in the establisement of an institution in that city for the proper edueation of young women, the following letter from the Rev. Howard Crosby was read :

My DEAR DR. GRISCOM :- I wish I could be present at the meeting this evening, which is to consider the propriety of taking measures for a central educational institution for women. I have long felt very deeply the need of this movement. Our women are fast becoming butterflies for want of a true training. Most of our female schools are fashionable hot-houses, to encourage the growth of listlessness, affectation and extravagance. Society is made artificial, the laws of God despised, and all things set topsy-turvy; wives lord it over their husbands, and children lord it over their parents; wisdom is driven into the corner, and folly wears the crown. I trace nine-tenths of the flippancy and falsehood of modern society to the mockery of an education which the daughters of the land receive. God help your colleagues in this good work to send the devil yelping to his den. Yours, very truly, HOWARD CROSBY.

AN ANCIENT TOWN FOUND. -The Russians have made a discovery on the Syr-Daria which may be of considerable interest to antiquarians. An officer of Engineers who had observed that the bricks with which the Kirghise supplied Fort No. 1 were extremely well baked, evidently very old, partly covered with mortar ascertained that they had been found amongst some ruins at a distance of about fifteen miles from the fort, at a spot which was formerly on the banks of the Sea of Aral. Some officers were sent to examine the place, and discovered a town about three miles in diameter, completely buried in sand and overgrown with bushes. None of them could form any conjecture as to what the town may have been, but a description has been sent to the central administration, and the inquiry will be taken up by scientific men.

Office brokerage in Washington has assumed a new phase. The method now is to ascertain with how small a part of the emoluments an applicant will be content, and force him into an agreement to pay over the considue to certain outsiders. Precisely who share in this overplus, and in what proportious, has not been fully found out. But the arrangement, from top to bottom, is disgraceful to all who are concerned in it.

What sort of a sermon do you like?"

THE SIX-PENNY CALICO.

One day a new scholar appeared in school. She was gentle and modest looking, and did not for a moment lift her eyes from her book. "Who is she?" "What is her name?" were the questions of the girls; but no one knew. "I suspect she is not much," said one of the girls.

"Do you see her dress?" said I. "Why, I believe it is nothing but a six-penny cal-

"Poor thing! she must be cold." "I can't imagine how a person can wear calico this cold day," said another, whose fine plaid was the admiration of the school. "I must the season," remarked another-"that is, ther could.

None of us went to take the stranger by the hand, and welcome her as the companion of our studies and our play. We stood aloof, and stared at her with cold and unlesson, she took a seat beside the rich plaid. The plaid drew proudly away, as if the sixpenny calico might dim the beauty of its colors. A slight color flushed Susan's cheek some time before she ventured on the play- between that of Iceland and Labrador. ground and then it was only to stand on one side and look on, for we were slow in asking her to join us.

On one occasion we had a harder arithmetic lesson than usual, completely baffling our small brains. Upon comparing notes, none of us had mastered it. "I'll ask Susan of her success," said one of my class. "It is quite unlikely she has," I replied; "do stay here; besides what if she has?"

"I will go," she answered. Away she went, and as it appeared, Susan and she were the only members of the class ready for their lesson. Susan had been more successful than the rest of us, and kindly helped my friend to overcome the difficulties of the lesson.

By and by I took to patronizing her. She is really a very nice body, and ought to join us more in our play," we said. So we used to gather around her desk during school-hours, and make her "one of us" in supposed herself so foully wronged, was the play-ground. In fact I began to have a bovering after him. He halted before a sort of liking for her. There was something sort of liking for her. There was something tactics to follow she was in doubt, but determined to storm the citadel; she knocked to do, my mother asked me to join her in a little walk. Dressed in my new c answered the summons; she stood in an furs, and hat, I was soon ready. My mothinstant before her astonished husband, the er turned into a narrow street. "Where, embediment of injured innocence. Her mother," I asked, "are you going in this

> "Not vulgar, my dear," she said. "A very respectable and industrous part of our population live here." Not fashionable, certainly." I added.

"And not vulgar because not fashionable, stowed away on some straw in a corner, met | by any means," she added. They stopped before an humble looking house, and enter-

Then gently opening a side door, she pausthat she had discovered the great secret of ed a moment on the threshold. "Come in," said a voice from within.

"Pray do not rise," said my mother. going toward an afflicted, lady-like woman who sat in an arm-chair. "You look better than when I saw you before." I was introduced, and I fancied the invalid looked at me with a sort of admiring surprise, as she took my hand, and hoped I should prove worthy of such a mother. Then, while mother and she were talking, I sat down and took notes with my eyes of everything in the room. It looked beautifully neat, and the furniture had evidently seen better days. By and by mother asked for her daughter. 'She has gone out on some errands," was he answer. "The dear child is a great blessing to me," and tears filled her eyes.

"She will return soon. She has gone to earry some work which she has contrived to do in her leisure moments. The self-sacrifice of the child is wonderful. A little while ago, an early friend who had found me out and has been kind to me as you have, (tears came into the speaker's eyes) "sent her a handsome winter dress, "O mother!" she said, "this is too costly for me, when you want some warm flannel so badly. See mother," she said, "I shall enjoy this caliyou know a mother's heart. There is her step, she is coming.'

The outer door opened. How I longed to and love her," I said to myself. The latch was lifted. A young girl entered, and my schoolmate Susan stood before me! I could have sunk to the ground for my shame. How wicked my pride! how false and foolish my judgment! Oh! how mean did my own winter dress appear before the six-penny calico. I was almost sure mother had managed all this; for she had a way of making me see my faults and making me desire to cure them, without ever saying much directly herself. This, however, did not come about by her design. God had taught me by his providence. As we walked home, my mother gave me an account of Mrs. G-, who had been her early friend. She had lost her property and her husband, and had fallen into great distress. But that story is no matter here. I will only add that my judgment of people was formed ever after according to a truer standard than the dress they wore, and that Susan and I became intimate friends.

Mr. Jones, that you saw the editor of the quoted statedly in Wall street. Augur of Freedom intoxicated?" "Not at aid Dr. Rush to Robert Morris. 'That all, sir. I merely said that I had seen him

Climate of Russian America.

An article on Meteorology, prepared by Professor Henry, of the Smithsonian Instilized their Territory. tute, for the United States Patent Office Report of 1855, contains the following paragraph illustrative of the climate of Northwestern America:

In the North Pacific ocean, on the western side of our continent, the great circle of water passes up along the coast of Japan, recrosses the ocean in the region of the Aleutian islands, mingles with the fitful cur-rent outward, through Behring's strait, and thence down along the northwest coast of North America. In this long circuit, the say I like to see a person dress according to northeastern portion of it is much more cooled than the similar portion of the whirl of it people can afford it," she added, in a the Atlantic. It therefore modifies the temmanner plain enough meaning that her fa- perature of the northwestern coast, and produces a remarkable uniformity along the whole extent, from Sitka to the southern extremity of California. It is an interesting fact, which we have just derived from Captain Rodgers, that an offshoot from the feeling curiosity. The teacher called her Susan. When she first came to repeat her which impinges on the coast of Norway, enters along the eastern side of Behring's strait, while a cold current passes out on the western side, thus producing almost as marked a difference in the character of the vegbut her quiet remained the same. It was etation on the two shores of the strait, as

> Lieutenant Bent, an officer of the United States navy, who accompanied the Japanese expedition, reported that, through the softening influence of the Gulf stream of the

"The winters are so mild at Puget Sound lat. 48 degrees, that snow rarely falls there, and the inhabitants are never enabled to fill their ice-houses for the summer. Vessels trading to Petropaulouski and Mampschatka, when becoming unwieldy from the accumulation of ice on their hulls and rigging, run over to a higher latitude on the American coast, and thaw out in the same manner that vessels frozen up on our own coast retreat again into the Gulf stream until favored by an easterly wind."

Direct evidence of the general correctness of this theory is furnished by the meteorological records of the Russian Government. kept at Sitka, in latitude 57.03 degrees, the mean temperature for a period of ten years being in spring 44.5 degrees; in autumn, 47 degrees; in winter-36.5 degrees, and during the year 46.4 degrees. This indicates colder springs, summers, and autumns, but milder winters than we have in Philadelphia.-Press.

How Dr. Livingstone was Killed.

Official information of the death of Dr. Livingstone has been received at the British Foreign Office. He was slain during a sudden and unprovoked encounter with the very Zulus, of whom, in the last dispatch received from him (dated Ngomana, May 18,) he said that they had laid waste the country round about him. With an escort reduced to twenty by desertions, death and dismissals, he had traversed terra incognita between the confluence of the Leonde and Rovuma rivers at Noomana and the eastern and northeastern shore of Lake Nyassa, and had crossed the lake at some point not yet ascertained, had reached a station named Campunda, on its western or northwestern shore, and was pushing westward or northwestward into dangerous ground, when between Marenga and Maklisoora a band of implacable savages stopped the way, a mixed herd of Zulus or Motite and Nyassa tolk. The Nyassa folk were armed with bow and arrow. The Zulus with the traditional shield, broad bladed spears, and axes. With Livingstone there were nine or ten musketeers; his Johanna men were resting with their loads far in the rear. The Mante instantly came on to fight. There was no parley, no avoidance of the combat. They came on with a rush, with war cries, rattling their shields with their spears. As Livingstone and his party raised their pieces the onset was for a moment checked. Livingstone fired, and two Zulus were shot dead. His boys fired, but their fire was harmless. He was in the act of reloading, when three Mafites leaped upon through the smoke. There was no resistance; there could be none: one axe cut from behind put him out of life. He fell, and his terror-stricken escort fled. One of the fugitives escaped, co a hundred times more than the finest and he tells the tale-Ali Moosa, chief of dresses in the world, while you can have his escort of porters. One blow killed Dr. your flannel." Excuse me for telling it, but Livingstone outright. He had no other would but this terrible gash. From the description it must have gone through the neck and spine up to the throat in front. see the comer! "I am sure I shall admire It had nearly decapitated him. Deatl eame mercifully in its suddenness. The Mefite had respected him when dead, for he was stripped only of his outer clothing. A grave was dug with sticks and the body

> It is ascertained that of all the fires occurring in the city of New York full thirty per cent. proceed from incendiarism. The motive is more frequently to recover insurance rather than revenge. If this evil shall continue to increase the rates for insurance will be carried so high that honest people will be compelled to carry their own

The most awful event of the last century is the great famine in India. In Ociso, in is reported that two millions five hundred thousand people have perished within the last five months, with stervation. Before this terrible calamity even our awful war seems insignificant.

In New York Journals it is proposed, since votes in the Legislature have become Does the court understand you to say, regular articles of traffic, to have the rates

At the municipal elections in Denver, frequently so flurried in his mind that he the corner of his pew, and makes him think the devil is after him."

frequently so flurried in his mind that he would undertake to cut out copy with the she after him."

Central City, and Black Hawk, Colorado, would undertake to cut out copy with the she as a small fee for permission to view it, on the 1st, colored citizens were allowed to vete without interruption.

A Little of Everything.

-Punch thinks the mormons have Utah-

-- "The winter of my life has come," said Jenkins, as he looked at his white locks in the glass. "I perceive snow in the hair." -"Put her foot in it"-the lady who kicked a railroad conductor in the mouth. He prosecuted her and recovered damages. "My brethern," said a staid and learned oracle, "there is a great deal to be did.

and it is time we were up and didding on't." -The Fayette (Ind.) Herald tells of a cat in that place that hat hed out a couple of chickens, by making her bed in a box in which some eggs were kept. -An unwashed street boy being asked what made him so dirty, his reply was, "I was made, they tell me, of the ground, and I reckon it is just working out.

-Lucy Stone once said : "There is cotton in the ears of man, and hope in the bosom of woman." Lucy made a mistake, and got the cotton in the wrong place.

-"Hollo there, you little ragged barefooted, bare headed fellow! who is your master?" "Want is my master," replied the poor outcast, "and a bad one he is."

-"This, we must remember is the fall eason," said Mr. Quilp, as he gracefully bumped his nose on the ice, to the amusement of some passers by, who tittered audibly.

-An old author quaintly says: "Avoid argument with the ladies. In spinning yarns among silks and satins, a man is sure to be worsted, and may consider himself family articles generally. wound up.

-The Philadelphia Prison Agent reports that "of the 19,468 commitments last year, 14,361 were on account of offences directly or indirectly traceable to the use of intoxicating liquors.'

-An Irish servant being asked whether his master was in, replied, "No." "When will he return?" "Oh! when master gives orders to say that he is not at home, we never know when he will come in.

-An old lady living in Jersey City, lately refused to let her niece dance with a young graduate of Princeton, because she heard that he was bachelor of arts, whereby she understood him to be an artful bachelor.

Virginia districts. The territory in that section has been but partially developed, and the present re-action may succeed in proving it much richer than the control of the present re-action may succeed in proving it much richer than the control of the corner Main and Thompson Sts. May 2, 1866. ing it much richer than the Pennsylvania

-A bit of unexpected morality comes from the newspaper proprietors of New Orleans. At a recent meeting they decided to issue no papers on Mondays, in order to give all hands employed full opportunity for rest on the Sabbath.

-A gentleman having occasion to call on an author found him in his study. He remarked the great heat of the apartment. and said it was "hot as an oven." ought to be," replied the author, "for here I make my bread." -On some railroads it is customary to have a lock on the stove, to prevent a passenger from meddling with the fire. A wag being asked why they locked the stove cooly replied that "it was to prevent the fire from going out. -A little son of J. D. Magruder, of Walker township, Juniatta county, fell, with an axe in his hand, on April 12th, severing two fingers from his hand, and injuring the third one to such an extent that it is feared it cannot be saved. -"Come, John, sit down and cat these potatoes and let your whisky alone, for it is poor stuff to live upon." "Ah, Carty, my jewel, I would take your advice, but the ta-ters are so corky." "All the better, John, for stopping your bottle." -The hotel keepers of Indiana county threaten to close up unless they receive license to sell liquor. The Blairsville Press. advises them to close at once, and let those who can keep hotel without license take their places. A good suggestion. -A countryman lately visiting Delmoni co's came to the word halibut in the list of fish on his bill of fare, and never having seen any he thought be would try some. "Have you got any halibut, waiter?" "Yes, sir." "Well, bring me a couple!" -The orange trees of Louisiana are hanging full of blossoms; every branch and twig is crowded to its utmost capacity. If no accident happens by way of frost or drought, the orange trees next fall will groan under the weight of their golden fuit. -Mr. Snubbs perceived that the milk he was pouring into his coffee was none of the richest. On this he said to his hostess: "Have you any milk that is more cheerful than this?" "What do you mean by that?"

Why this milk seems overpowered by the blues." -The new style of waterfalls is likely to be detrimental to sole-leather. The waterfall on the top of ladies' heads draws up their back hair so tight that they can't put their feet down squarely on the pavement without great pain, consequently, they must walk on their tip-toes.

The Home Journal is responsible for the following: "People generally do not know that some ladies wear false lips made of pink India rubber, which are attached in Such a manner as to defy detection. There O'IL. Putty, Paints Glass and Nails, for sale at such a manner as to defy detection. There such a manner as to defy detection. They give a pretty pouting appearance to the lips which may appear to be artificial.

-The Bedford Inquirer says that an enterprising citizen has lately erected a new house in that town, and adds that it is so long since the inhabitants have seen anything of the kind, that should the owner

Business Directory.

WALTER BARRETT, Attorney at Law, Clear-field, Pa. May 13, 1863.

ERRELL & BIGLER, Dealers in Hardware M and manufacturers of Tin and Sheet-iron Second Street, Clearfield, Pa. June '66. REDERICK LEITZINGER, Manufacturer of

P . Il kinds of Stone-ware, Clearfield, Pa. Or-ders solicited - wholesale or retail. Jan. 1, 1863 F. NAUGLE, Watch and Clock Maker, and

H. dealer in Watches, Jewelry, &c. Room in Graham's row, Market street. Nov. 10. BUCHER SWOOPE, Attorney at Law. Clear-H. field, Pa. Office in Graham's Row, four doo's west of Graham & Boynton's store. Nov. 10.

PORCEY & GRAHAM. Dealers in Square and Sawed Lumber, Dry-Goods, Queensware, Groceries, Flour. Grain. Feed, Bacon, &c., &c., Grahamton, Clearfield county, Pa.

J. P. KRATZER, Dealer in Dry-Goods. Clothing.
Hardware, Queensware, Groceries. Provisions, etc., Market Street, nearly opposite the Court House, Clearfield, Pa. June, 1865.

H ARTSWICK & IRWIN, Dealers in Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Stationary, Perfume-ry, Fancy Goods, Notions, etc., etc., Market street, Clearfield, Pa Dec. 6, 1865.

KRATZER & SON, dealers in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hardware, Queensware, Groceries, Provisions, &c., Front Street, (above the Academy.) Clearfield, Pa. Dec 27, 1865.

W ILLIAM F. IRWIN, Marketstreet, Clearfield, Pa., Dealer in Foreign and Domestic Mer-han lise, Hardware, Queensware, Groceries, and JOHN GUELICH, Manufacturer of all kinds of Cabinet-ware, Market street, Clearfield, Pa

He also makes to order Coffins, on short notice, and attends funerals with a hearse. THOMAS J. M'CULLOUGH, Attorney at Law, Clearfield, Pa. Office, east of the Clearfield o Bank. Deeds and other legal instruments prepared with promptness and accuracy. July 3.

B M'ENALLY, Attorneyat Law, Clearfield, Pa. Practices in Clearfield and adjoining ounties. Office in new brick building of J. Boyn t.m, 2d street, one door south of Lanich's Hotel.

RICHARD MOSSOP, Dealer in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, Groceries, Flour, Bacon, liquors, &c. Room, on Market street, a few doors west of Journal Office, Clearfield, Pa. Apr27.

TOHN H. FULFORD, Attorney at Law. Clear field, Pa. Office with J. B. McEnally, Esq. over First National Bank. Prompt attention given to the securing of Bounty claims, &c., and to March 27, 1867. all legal business. J BLAKE WALTERS, Seriviner and Convey-of Lands, Clearfield, Pa. Prompt attention given to all business connected with the county offi-ces. Office with W A. Wallace. Jan, 3.

G. ALBERT & BRO'S. Dealers in Dry Goods. con, etc., Woodland, Clearfield county. Pa. Also, extensive dealers in all kinds of sawed lumber. Shingles, and square timber. Orders solicited. Woodland, Pa., Aug. 19th, 1863.

WALLACE, BIGLER & FIELDING, Attor-neys at Law' Clearfield, Pa., Legal business of all kinds promptly and accurately attended to. Clearfield, Pa., May 16th, 1866. WILLIAM D. BIGLER WILLIAM A. WALLACE

J. BLAKE WALTERS

DR. J. P. BURCHFIELD-Late Surgeon of the 83d Reg't Penn'a Vols., having returned from the army, offers his professional services to the citizens of Clearfield and vicinity. Professional calls promptly attended to. Office South-East corner of 3d and Market Streets. Oct. 4, 1865—6mp.

PRANK PIELDING

FURNITURE ROOMS. JOHN GUELICH,

Desires to inform his old friends and customers that having enlarged his shop and increased his facilities for manufacturing, he is now prepared to make to order such furniture as may be desired, in good style and at cheap rates for cash. He mostly has on hand at his "Furniture Rooms," a varied assortment of furniture, among which is,

BUREAUS AND SIDEBOARDS. Wardrobes and Book-cases; Centre, Sofa. Parlor. Breakfast and Dining extension Tables. Common, French-posts, Cottage, Jenny-Lind and other Bedsteads. SOFAS OF ALL KINDS, WORK-STANDS, HAT RACES, WASH-STANDS, &c. Spring-seat, Cain-bottom, and Parlor Chairs; And common and other Chairs.

LOOKING-GLASSES Of every description on hand, and new glasses for old frames, which will be put in on very reasonable terms, on enort notice

He also keeps on hand, or furnishes to order, Hair, Corn-husk. Hair and Cotton top Mattresses. COPFINS, OF EVERY KIND,

Made to order, and funerals attended with a Hearse, whenever desirable. Also, House painting done to order. The above, and many other articles are furnished to customers cheap for cash or exchanged for approved country produce. Cherry, Maple, Poplar, Lin-wood and other Lumber suitable for the business, taken in exchange for furniture. Remember the shop is on Market street, Clearfield, and nearly opposite the "Old Jew Store."

December 4, 1881 . JOHN GUELICH . JOHN GUELICH.

PLOUR.—A quantity of Extra Family Flour, in Barrels, for sale by W. F. IRWIN. RON. 1ROF !!-Best bar iron. for sale at the MERRELL & RIGHTER

TARNESS, Trimmings, and Shoe-findings for MERRELL & BIGLER'S A LARGE LOT OF GLASS, white lead paints oils, etc., at IRVIN & HARTSHORN'S

TALL STYLES of Bonnets and Hats justice . COOK STOVES with improved ash pan for burning coal, at J. P. KRATZER'S.

J. P. KRATZER'S. SADDLES, Bridtos, harness, collars &c., for MERRELL & BIGLER'S.

AGLE HOTEL, CURWENSVILLE, PENN'A.

LEWIS W. TEN EYCK, PROPRIETOR. Having leased and refitted the above hotel, he is now ready to accommodate the travelling pub-lic. His bar contains the choicest brands of liq-He solicits a share of public patronage. July 11th, 1866.

SOMETHING NEW IN CLEARFIELD.

Carriage and Wagon Shop, Immediately in rear of Machine shop. The undersigned would respectfully inform the citizens of Clearfield, and the public in general, that he is prepared to do all kinds of carriages, buggies, wagons, sleighs, sleds, &c., on short notice and in a workmanlike canner. Or-ders promptly attended to. WM. M KNIGHT. Clearfield, Feb. 7, 1866-y.

COTT HOUSE, MAIN STREET, JOHNSTOWN, PA.

A. ROW & CO., RROPRIETORS. This house having been refitted and elegantly furnished, is now open for the reception and entertainment of guests. The proprietors by long experience in hotel keeping, feel confident they can satisfy a discriminating public. Their bar is supplied with the choicest brands of liquors and wine.

July 4th, 1866.

LUMBER-CITY RACES AGAIN !!

KIRK & SPENCER

KEEP THE INSIDE TRACK! Their celebrated thorough bred Steed, "CHEAPEST

FOR CASH, ' the Peoples' favorite! Remember this and when in want of SEASONA-BLE GOODS, AT THE VERY LOWEST POSSIBLE CASH PRICE, call at the store of Kirk & Spencer, in Lumber City. You will not fail to be suited. Dress Goods and Notions in great vatiety,

We study to please. KIRK & SPENCER. Lumber City, Pa., July 1, 1865.

NEW STORE AT MARYSVILLE, CLEARFIELD COUNTY, PA.

The undersigned would respectfully announce to the citizens of Clearfield county, that he has opened a now store in Marysville, and that he is now receiving a large and splendid assortment of

seasonable goods, such as DRY-GOODS AND NOTIONS.

Hard-ware, Queens-ware, Groceries, Drugs, Oils, Paints and Glass, Boots, Shoes, Hats and Caps. Clothing, and Stationary and in fact a general assertment of goods, such as are generally kept in a country store.

Desirons of pleasing the public, he will use his best endeavors to keep on hand the best of goods, and thereby hopes to merit a liberal share of pat-ronage. Call before purchasing elsewhere as I am determined to sell goods at moderate prices for cash, or exchange them for every description Sept. 27, 1865. STACY W. THOMPSON.

NEW WINTER GOODS. C. KRATZER & SON.

Are just opening at the Old Stand above the Academy, A large and splendid assortment of Fall Goods, which they are selling at greatly reduced prices Particular attention is invited to their stock of CARPETS.

(Cottage, common Ingrains, and superior Eng-lish Ingrains, and Brussels.) Floor and Table Oil-cloths, Window Shades and Wall Papers Especial pains has been taken in the selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, White Goods, Embroideries and Millinery goods. They have also a large stock of Ready-made lothing, and Boots and Shoes, which they will sell at a small advance on city cost, Flour, Bacon, Fish, Salt and Plaster, Apples, Peaches and Prunes kept constantly on hand.

Also, some pure Brandy, Whiskey and Wines for medicinal uses Also in store a quantity of large and small clover seed.

We intend to make it an object for Farmers and Mechanics to buy from us, because we will sell our goods as low as they can be bought in the county; and will pay the very highest price for all kinds of country produce. We will also exchange goods for School, Road and County orders; Shingles, Boards and every kind of manufactured Lumber.

WRIGHT & FLANIGAN. CLEARFIELD, PA.,

Have just received another supply of Fall and Winter Goods.

Having just returned from the eastern cities we are now opening a full stock of seasonable goods, at our rooms on Second street, to which they respectfully invite the attention of the publie generally. Our assortment is unsurpassed in this section, and is being sold very low for cash. The stock consists in part of

DRY GOODS

of the best quality, such as Prints, Delaines, Alpacas, Merinos, Ginghams; Muslins, bleached and unbleached; Drillings Tickings, cotton and wool Flannels, Cassimers, Ladies' Shawls, Coats, Nubias. Hoods, Hoop skirts, Balmorals, &c., &c., all of which will be sold Low For Casa. Also, a fine assortment of the best of consisting of Drawers and Shirts, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, Handkerchieftt cravats, etc

MENS' WEAR,

Also, Raft Rope, Dog Rope, Raltina Augura and Axes, Nails and Spikes, Tinware, Lamps and Lamp wicks and chimneys, etc., etc.

ALSO, Queensware, Glassware, Hardware, Groce ries, and spices of all kinds. In short, a general assortment of every thing usually kept in a retail store. all cheap for cash, or approved country produce. WRIGHT & FLANIGAN. Nov. 28-ja10

GROUND AND UNGROUND SPICES, Citron, English Currants, Essence Coffee, and Vine-gar of the best quality, for sale by HARTSWICK & IRWIN. Jan. 10.

STOVES of all serts and sizes, constantly on MERRELL & BIGLER'S.