By Rev. Guver in the Methodist church, in the morning. By Rev. Archer in the Court House, morning and evening.

"LYCURGUS;" we will try to make room for your communication, next week.

COAL, from the Brady bank, for sale by Geo. P. Tate, at his residence in Lawrence township.

CHEAP GOODS.—If you wish to buy goods cheap, call at H. W. Smith's, in Clearfield. For particulars see advertisements.

W. A. S.—Yours to hand. Will endeavor to publish soon; but would prefer to give the whole at once, if not too lengthy.

TO OWNERS OF HOGS.—In another column we publish the Ordinance relative to hogs running at large within the Borough limits. Read it.

TO TRAVELERS.—We direct the attention of the travelling public to the card of Wm. M. Jeffries, proprietor of the "Susquehanna House," Curwensville, Pa., published in to-day's paper.

TO LUMBERMEN.—In our advertising columns will be found the card of A. H. Pierce, of Spring Creek, Warren county, who is prepared to furnish steam engines and erect saw-mills, etc., on short notice.

CAMP MEETING.—Providence permitting a Camp meeting will be held near New Washington, by the members of the Methodist church, commencing on August 22d, 1867. All are invited to participate.

FAIR!—The Executive committee of the Clearfield county Agricultural Society, has requested us to announce that a Fair will be held on the Society's grounds near this place, commencing on Tuesday, October 1st, 1867. Let all who feel an interest in agriculture, use their influence to make the exhibition worthy the county, and superior to those heretofore held in Clearfield.

GRAND CONCERT.—A musical entertainment, with a lecture on the mode of instructing the blind, will be given at the Court House in Clearfield, on Thursday evening, August 15th, 1867, by Prof. D. Gilleland, a graduate of the Pennsylvania Institute for the Blind. These entertainments are the only means he has for support. Doors open at 7 o'clock. Exercises to commence at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cts.; children 15 cts.

PROGRESS.—No school in our State has improved more in all respects, than the State Normal School at Edinboro. It offers superior advantages for obtaining a thorough and practical education. Its libraries, apparatus and cabinet are such as to excite the minds of the pupils and assist them in their studies. Persons going from home to school, should go to Edinboro. For circulars address Prof. J. A. Cooper, Edinboro, Erie Co., Pa.—Crawford Democrat.

"BEYOND THE MISSISSIPPI." A Complete History of the New States and Territories, from the Great River to the Ocean, by Albert D. Richardson, is the title of a handsome volume, just issued by the National Publishing Company, 507 Minor St., Philadelphia, Pa. The Author's long and varied experience in the little known and interesting regions of the far west, furnishes the valuable material for this work. Mr. Richardson is widely known as one of our most brilliant journalists and writers. No other Author has traveled over so much of our vast western domains, and we know of no one who can so well describe what he has seen. He is always interesting, generally amusing, and, better still, invariably truthful. The volume before us is accompanied by an accurate and minute map of the entire region beyond the Mississippi, and is elegantly printed and profusely illustrated with over two hundred engravings from original photographs and sketches from the pencils of Bierstadt, Nast, Hennessey, Darley, Penn, Stephens, Forbes and other eminent artists, which are really beautiful and worthy of examination as specimens of art. Many of them are set into the body of the text, after the popular style of Lossing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution. It is a credit both to American art and authorship, and is not only the most valuable work from Mr. Richardson's pen, but by far the most complete history of the great West ever issued. Its descriptions are photographically vivid. It blends information, pathos, fun and legend with full practical and minute accounts of the farming, mining, trading, railroad building and other great interests and resources of our much talked of, though heretofore little known, new States and Territories. It is the product of vast labor, in travel and personal observation, and is destined to have an extraordinary sale. This work, we understand, is sold only by subscription, and is just such a one as persons seeking to act as agents should add to their list.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.—A large number of subscribers, to whom we sent bills three months ago, have so far failed to remit the several amounts due us. We hope that all who have neglected to respond to their bills will do so at once, as we are in need of the money to defray our daily expenses. In two weeks more the current volume of the Journal will close, and, unless we receive our pay for the past, we will be under the necessity of stopping many of the papers now sent, as a means of lessening our expenses in the future. We have to pay cash for everything we use in the publication of the Journal, and for family purposes, but, unless we receive prompt payment, we can not do so. Hence, we say again, we hope that all in arrears will send the amount of their indebtedness without further delay. And, we take this opportunity to tender grateful thanks to all who have heretofore promptly responded to our call for "material aid," and hope they may always be as punctual in the future.

To Late Prisoners of War.

Rooms of the Committee on the Treatment of Prisoners of War and Union Citizens, Washington, D. C., July 17, 1867.—In pursuance of a series of resolutions passed by the House of Representatives, July 10, 1867, a committee was appointed to investigate the "Treatment of Prisoners of War and Union Citizens held by the Confederate authorities during the late rebellion. All persons in possession of important information upon either of these subjects are earnestly requested to address the Committee, as directed below, stating: First. The name, age, and post office address of the writer. Second. If a soldier or seaman, his rank or position, and with what command he served. Third. A full statement of all facts known to the writer touching his own imprisonment or treatment, and that of others, either soldier or citizen, giving, as far as possible, names, places, and dates, with names of Confederate officers in charge.

Correspondents from Pennsylvania will please address, JOHN P. C. SHANKS, M. C., Washington, D. C.

Communications addressed to the members of the Committee will be free. It is the intention of the Committee to collect all facts necessary to make a thorough official history of this subject.

The following is the Committee: John P. C. Shanks, Wm. A. Pile, Abner C. Harding, Aaron F. Stevens, Wm. Mungen.

For the "Journal."

Look Out for the Writing Master. The citizens of Clearfield county, and others, are cautioned against a man calling himself John W. Steele—but reported to have been known by the name of "Buck," and "Gearhart," in other places.

Said Steele came to Pennsville, in this county, about three or four weeks ago, (on July 11th), and proposed to deliver a lecture on Penmanship, and, if patronized, form a class for writing. At the appointed time a goodly number of citizens collected. After the address he produced his article to form a class, to which about fifty names were shortly attached; conditioned that at the third lesson seventy-five cents was to be paid by each scholar, and the balance, to make one and two dollars (female and male) to be paid at the end of the course of thirteen lessons. Things went on finely; a school of fifty to sixty pupils was formed, in two classes. At the close of the third lesson the teacher called for his instalment of seventy-five cents, to which a considerable number responded, and some paid the whole amount for the thirteen lessons. When the time for the next lesson came around, the teacher was on hand at the tavern where he boarded. Wishing, no doubt, to make a rather more genteel appearance than heretofore in the presence of his large and respectable school, he proposed to the very accommodating landlord to borrow his watch, and asked another person for the loan of his coat for the evening exercises, which, in both cases, were granted. But to the surprise of the writing school, no teacher was forthcoming; and to the mortification of the landlord, and the other accommodating gentleman, neither writing master, watch or coat, have since made their appearance in Pennville. And, it appears, that in the crowd of business, on leaving, he forgot to pay his boarding bill at the tavern.

The said J. W. Steele about thirty years of age, middle sized, but rather heavily built, of german descent, judging from his speech, rather unprepossessing in his address and manners; a very good penman, both in plain and ornamental writing, and professes to be a graduate of the commercial college at Pittsburg; but from his speech and manners he would more likely be taken for a graduate of another institution in Allegheny city.
