LITTLE MAIDEN.

Naughty little maiden, Smiling at the boys, Just as if you counted Hearts but simple toys. Tossing raven ringlets From your shoulders white, Flashing charming glances From your eyes so bright; Tell of what you're thinking,

Saucy little sprite! Sober little maiden, Now you smile no more; What has caused your pouting, Since we met before? Has your faithless lover

Wakened all your fears? Has he whispered softly Words in other cars? Reckless of your feelings, Careless of your tears? Angry little maiden,

For your eyes are darting Shafts of burning scorn! Let the fickle lovers Have their selfish way, There are many others Better far than they, Who will prize your glances, At some future day!

Now you're not forlorn;

A Pity to Have an Empty Seat.

A few weeks ago a gentleman was obliged to go to a distant depot, at an hour when there was no conveyance thither. So, although very weary, and not strong, he was obliged to set out on a walk of two or three miles. After he had gone a little way, he was overtaken by a little boy in a carriage. The fine horse was at once reined in, and his owner said, with a smile, "I presume sir, you are going but a short way; but this little fellow insisted on my asking you to ride with us. I told him I had no doubt you were going to the next station; but he said "The gentleman is a stranger, father; it is very easy to ask him. It always seems to me such a pity to ride with an empty seat." Now, that ride which cost the gentleman neither money, time, nor trouble was a real blessing to a weary minister of Christ; and he told him so when he thanked him and the dear boy who prompted the kind civili-

"It is a way he has, and always had sir." replied the father. "From his cradle, he could never enjoy what he could not share with others. If he has any new gift or pleasure, his first thought is for those less favored. It is a way he got from his mother.' It was truly a beautiful "way" that boy had; and it should be a warning to all boys, and boy's mothers too, who hear of him.

Remember this, you who have horses at your control to use as convenience or pleasure : "It is a pity to have an empty seat." Reto-day will grow into great things of years to come. The boy who is sellish with his money and his sympathies when a man; for United States, or of foreign manufacture. the heart grows harder rather than softer by

A carriage is not the only place where it "is a pity to have an empty seat." It is a pity to have one in the church or Sunday School; and there would be a less number so, if all the boys had the spirit of the little fellow of whom we have written. Say, with him, "It is easy to ask!" and then go among the boys you know, and urge them to fill an empty seat. You can do more in this way than your minister or your teacher can. Let every seat in the house of God and in Sunday School have a voice for you that shall send you out in the highways and hedges to compel less favored children to come in; and in so doing, you yourselves will receive a blessing. The noble boy who insisted on offering a ride to a stranger, thereby made a new friend who will never forget him, and who may return the kindness a hundred-fold, in ways he little dreams of now; and better than this he pleased God, who commands us to be careful to entertain strangers, and reminds us that many in doing so have entertained angels unawares.

The wife of a Louisville lager beer brewer, about a year married, presented him with four sons at a birth, on Thursday. The happy possessor of this fruitful vine, when congratulated by his friends, asks them to | Cash. drink and say nothing more about it, as he 'must dake somedimes to know vedder he be'st glad or as mad as ter tyvel.'
