TOAST FOR LABOR.

Here's to the man with horny hands,
Who tugs the breathing bellows;
Where anvils sing in every hand,
He's loved by all good fellows.
And here's to him who goes afield
And through the globe is plowing,
Or with stout arm the ax doth wield
While ancient oaks are bowing.
Here's to the deliver in the mine,
The sailor on the ocean,
With those of every craft and line,
Who work with true devotion.
Our love for her who toils in gloom
Where cranks and wheels are cranking;
Bereft is she of nature's bloom,
Yet God in patience thanking.
A curse for him who sneers at toil,
And shuns his share of labor;
The knave but robs his native soil
While leaning on his neighbor.
Here may this truth be taught on earth,
Grow more and more in favor,
There is no wealth but owns its worth
To handicraft and labor.
Then pledge the founders of our wealth,
The builders of our nation;
We know their worth, now to their health
Drink we with acclamation!

"HE WILL NOT WOO AGAIN."

'Twas but a word—a careless word,
In pride and passion spoken,
But with that word the charms that bound
Two loving hearts were broken.
The hasty wrath had passed away,
But bitter words remain;
In vain she looks with tender glance—
He will not woo again.
No other love may light her path;
No other move his heart;
Yet changing seasons come and go,
And find them still apart;
Her once bright cheek is paler now;
His bears a trace of pain;
Their days are weary, sad—and yet
He will not woo again.
They meet, as strangers, calm and cold,
As calmly, coldly part;
And none may guess that tranquil mien
Conceals a wounded heart.
To him the world hath lost its light;
For her all joys are vain;
Nor hope nor memory bring relief—
He will not woo again.
Alas! that love, long tried and warm,
Should wither in an hour;
Alas! that pride or human hearts
Should wield such fearful power;
Oh! weep thou not for those who die—
For them all tears are vain;
But weep or living hearts grown cold,
Who ne'er can love again.

DON'T WHIP THE CHILDREN.—Mothers, don't whip them! Treat God's lamb tenderly. Compel obedience, but not with the rod. The other evening, whilst taking my customary stroll, meditating on my text for the following Sunday, the face maternal appeared at the door of a pleasant little house I had often noticed, and loudly ordered a little lad of three years or so to "come in, and see if she did not do as she said she would."

The mother, in her wrath at being disobeyed, re-entered the house—not hearing the little one's sobbing explanation that he had stepped outside to fetch the baby in. Directly the piteous cries fell upon my ears. Undoubtedly the little one had gone beyond the prescribed bounds; but it was to bring the wee tottling thing inside, who as yet heeded no commands, however harshly given, and his full heart and meagre use of words upheld the power of explanation. Poor little man! how my heart ached for him! Kit-I-s and he went to his bed. Mothers, do not whip them! Do not yourselves make shadows in the sunlight with which God always surrounds children. Do not let them be lulled to sleep by the falling of their tears, or by their own sobs and sighs.

Far pleasanter it is, when you go to tuck them in at night, to find pink feet on the pillow, dimpled knees in air, toys yet in embrace, and smiles on their sweet mouths. You recollect bear in mind their last words—"If I should die before I wake." Treat them tenderly. I took my little man a shot gun to-night, and handing it over the gate, I said, "Now will you mind mamma, and stay inside when she tells you?" I am sure the "no will" was very sincere, but if they forget, bear with them. If childhood's days cannot be free from sorrow, surely none ever may.

ANOTHER BIG "FLOP!"

Some two months ago it was formally announced that Pennville was a "right side up."

Recent events have proven the announcement premature. Another "Flop" recently occurred, and chief among the improved, "interesting, and important" news presented, is the one portraying the new, larger, and Commodious Stone House, of

To the ladies, we would say—we intend to make the Notion and Dress department worthy their patronage. Articles not on hand will be specially ordered, to suit our customers.

The striking feature in the "Flop," and the one we would keep before the people is, THE VERY LOW PRICES AT WHICH WE ARE SELLING. The public are invited to give us a call. Bring on your Produce, your Boards, Shingles, Grain, Pork, Butter, Eggs, Dried Apples, Rags, &c. Our motto, "CHEAPEST & BEST." JOHNSON & BAILEY, Pennville, August 23, 1867.
