CLEARFIELD, PA., MARCH 11, 1868.

Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad. Train leaves Tyrone at 9:30 a.m. Arrives at Philipsburg at 11:20 a.m. Train leaves Philipsburg at 2:05 p.m. Arrives at Tyrone at 4:00 p.m.

RELIGIOUS.—Divine services will be held next Sabbath, in Clearfield, as follows: By Rev. Nixdorff in the Lutheran church in the morning. By Rev. Archer (Presbyterian), in the Court House, morning and evening. By Rev. Semblower in the Baptist church in the evening. By Rev. Guyer in the Methodist church, in the morning.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. S. N. Spencer, of Lumber-city, was killed, on February 22d, by the falling of a limb from a tree, whilst engaged in making timber in Knox township. He leaves a wife and child to mourn his untimely death.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Thursday, February 28th, 1868, Mrs. LIZZIE MARSHALL, wife of Wm. Marshall, of this borough, fell prostrate on the street, and died in about two hours thereafter. She was in usual health, and was on her way to obtain some marketing. Cause—apoplexy, resulting in congestion of the brain.

THE WEATHER, ETC.—On Sunday and Monday last the air was mild and spring-like, causing the snow to melt rapidly. The quantity of snow on the ground, however, retarded the flow of water to such an extent as to prevent a rapid rise, and, in consequence, the streams are still ice-bound. But this (Wednesday) morning the indications are that the ice may run out to-day, it having started in places during the night.

BOROUGH EXTENSION.—A proposition was before the Borough Council, at their meeting on Monday evening last, to extend the Borough limits so as to include Mr. G. L. Reed's mill within the Borough limits. This extension would embrace about one hundred and fifty acres of Mr. Reed's farm, including the lots lately sold, and the lands of M. S. Ogden, and several other out-lots adjoining—making in all over two hundred acres.

NO YOU DON'T.—A brace of cunning fellows in New York, representing themselves to be "Attorneys and Counsellors," profess the desire to forward "the ends of justice," by collecting from the proprietors of Gift Enterprises the prizes justly due to the ticket holder. A remittance of two dollars is the preliminary step in the proceeding. These artful dodgers ask us to spread their advertisement before our readers gratis, "at the same time adding any local ideas of your own." The idea strongly localized in our head is that these fellows are as arrant rogues as those they pretend to watch, and we caution our readers against being caught by their transparent swindle.

DON'T BUY AN ORGAN Until you have heard that wonderful musical triumph, the Burdett Organ. The performance of even a child on that perfect instrument is more touching and musically entrancing than the flourish of practiced players upon any other organs. The effects of the vox humana (human voice,) and celestial stops—a late invention, and found in perfection only in the Burdett Organ—are touching and sympathetic in the extreme, and comparable only to the heart-searching and trembling tones drawn from their violins by an Ole Bull or a Vieux Temps. The Messrs Kleber & Bro., 122 Wood street, Pittsburgh, Pa., have the sole agency, and will be glad, no doubt, to show these organ gems to all who may desire it. [Mar. 11-6t.

INTERNAL REVENUE. A Statement, showing the total amount of U. S. Tax, collected in the several Revenue Districts of Penna., during the years 1866 and 1867; and the decrease in collections in the same districts during the year 1867, as reported by Commissioner Rollins to the Secretary of the Treasury:

Table with columns: Dist., Year 1866, Year 1867, Decrease. Lists various districts and their respective tax collections for 1866 and 1867, along with the decrease in collections.

It will be observed that the 19th District, composed of the counties of Clearfield, Erie, etc., is the only one in which there has been an increase in collections in 1867. And why? Because no change was made in the Revenue officers in this District, while, perhaps, in all the rest most of the officers appointed by Mr. Lincoln have been removed and Johnson Democrats put in their place. But some one may ask, "How could that make the difference? Was there not as much tax collected in 1867 as in 1866?" We answer, we have no knowledge that the people paid any less taxes to the officers; and, in return will just ask, but did the officers pay to the government all the taxes they collected from the people? May not the capacious pockets of these hungry political scorpions have absorbed the difference in the amount collected in the two years? Is not this a very plausible inference, as we have no knowledge to the contrary? We leave the people to draw their own conclusions from the facts.

EDUCATION.—The compulsory system of education is beginning to find adherents in all sections. That ordinary school laws are rendered inoperative by those whom they are calculated to benefit is a melancholy fact. The best minds of the country have been at work for a long time to remedy the defect. Their success has been so little marked that doubters have argued against the whole educational system with not a little show of plausibility. The burden of opinion at present seems to be centering in the compulsory plan. From Missouri, Ohio, and South Carolina, the voices of discussion are heard, and the concession is general that the friends of education cannot longer allow their efforts to be annulled by unwise parents and truant children. In the German States, where the system has been in operation for many years, it has been found effective, and has contributed largely to their national boast of having the best school system in the world. The new school law for the District of Columbia, lately introduced into the House of Representatives, contains a compulsory clause, patterned after the Prussian plan. It makes it compulsory on parents to send their children to school for a certain period, and make them responsible for their absence. The framers of the common school law of Pennsylvania saw the necessity of such a provision and took this opportunity of testing its merits in the District bill. It was sanctioned gladly by all the members of the Educational Committee, and we think it is a prominent section in that bill, which proposes to be "a model for the common schools of the nation."

A jewelry establishment was robbed of a large amount of diamonds on March 3d, in Philadelphia, in open day-light. One of the thieves was caught, and a part of the valuables recovered. About $25,000 worth are still missing.

IN Chest township, on February 13th, 1868, Mrs. MARTHA HIPS, of hemorrhage of the lungs.

On February 23d, 1868, JESSE, infant son of John and Mary Summerville, of Chest township.
