

THE RAFTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Raftsmans Journal.

CLEARFIELD, PA., MAY 20, 1868.

GOOD TEMPER.

There's not a cheaper thing on earth. Nor yet one half so dear. 'Tis worth more than distinguished birth.

A lady asked a minister whether a person might not be fond of dress and ornament without being proud.

A dutchman carried two jugs to the milk-man, in place of one, as usual, and being asked the meaning of it, replied: "Dis for millich, an' dis for te vater, an' I will mix tem zo as te zute myself."

"Charley, I was very much shocked to hear you singing 'Pop goes the Weazel in church.' "Well, ma'ma, I saw everybody singing—and it was the only tune I knew."

Never be disturbed by trifles. They are beneath your notice. Look at the elephant and rhinoceros in musquito time, and learn composure and philosophy.

Many a man thinks it is virtue that keeps him from turning a rascal, when it is a full stomach. One should be careful and not mistake potatoes for principles.

Whatever else you take—an umbrella, coat, character, etc.—don't take offense. It can be of no possible use, and is invariably inconvenient to carry about.

A Western editor says that in smoky Pittsburgh men kiss each other's wives, and are able to tell which is their own only by the taste.

"Now that you are on my side, I hope you will stick to me," as the patient said to the plaster.
