for the farmer.

SORREL, which is a pest to any field, may be eradicated by the judicious application of lime or ashes. The souring principle of sorrel is oxalic acid; if this is removed from the soil sorrel cannot grow. Lime or oxalate of lime or potash. These substances are sometimes called sweeteners of the soil from their ability to remove acids from it. Sorrell will never grow on lime soils.

FEEDING HORSES .- The Arabs, the most careful of their horses of all people, do most of their horse feeding at night. They say that feeding in the day time does not impart so much vigor and elasticity to the animal as night mustication does. Their saying is that "barley at night goes to the ballock-in the morning to the manure." They afford water too very sparingly during the day time.

DRILLING WHEAT .-- The advantages of this practice are conspicuous in the wheat fields the present season. The report of The Largest, Best and Cheapest stock the Department of Agriculture for April says, that "in every locality where wheat suffered from freezing, the drill fields are unscathed, while those which were sown broadcast are in a miserable condition.

EARLY rising does not agree with some farmers. We heard one remark that it would be jolly not to get up till the next day.
