

For the Farmer.

Harvesting Buckwheat. The excellency of buckwheat flour depends chiefly on the management of the grain between the time of ripening and grinding.

Cleaning Oats, Bottles, Etc. The inquiry is often made by us by farmers, brewers, beef and pork packers, etc., regarding the best method of deodorizing and cleansing old cider and beer barrels.

Fowls in the Horse Stable. Fowls should never be permitted to have access to the horse stable, nor the feed room and haymow.

EVERGREENS FOR WINTER. A process has been discovered by which a beautiful show of evergreens may be obtained for the parlor during the winter.

DRY PICKLE FOR BEEF. If you would have the nicest pickle for beef, or other corned meats, please accept the following prescription: For 100 lbs. take 4 quarts of rock salt finely pulverized, 4 lbs. clean fine sugar, 4 ounces saltpeter, pulverized.

In England there are many farmers who more than support themselves and large families on the product of six acres, besides paying heavy rents.

It is a bad practice to leave young cattle and colts to take their chances among older cattle. The older ones will get the best pickling, while they need least.

A Strawberry grower in Pennsylvania has come to the conclusion that the ground usually devoted to this fruit is made too rich for a profitable production of it.
