

For the Farmer.

Improvement in Sheep. Autumn is the most proper period of all the year to do something practically towards improving sheep of any kind.

The period of gestation of ewes being one hundred and fifty days, farmers in different localities must decide for themselves as to the most desirable period for lambs to be dropped.

SAVE THE MANURE.—Farmers are not aware how much is wasted on their farms that with little care and trouble might be made into valuable manure.

OATS.—Oats are, of course, a most important article in stable management; and these, as everything a horse eats, ought to be of the finest quality.

USEFUL RECIPE.—At this season of the year, when arrangements are to be made for winter fires, this recipe is well worth publication.

I have seen a man engaged in a lawsuit about a trifling affair that cost him more, in the end, than would have roofed all the buildings on his farm.
