Carrying Fire Arms.

The several State Legislatures now in session are giving proper attention to the practice of persons carrying concealed fire arms, a habit of such common indulgence that at least half the murders result from it. Since the manufacture and improvement of revelvers, this carrying of fire arms has greatly increased, and it is no uncommon thing for men of leisure to have concealed on their persons a deadly weapon, which they consider as necessary to their convenience as a watch, a snuff-box or tooth-pick. But the fact is a man is generally safer without than with a pistol. Many a man thinking to insure his personal safety by carrying a pistol, has killed himself by the careless the confidence of the people. handling of his own weapon. A man suddenly startled and alarmed, with a pistol in reach, is liable to kill his best friend by accident or mistake. Numerous melancholy given in libel suits. This will be an imporinstances of such terrible fatality have occurred. We would like to see a heavy fine ing its serious consideration and favorable deadly weapons. The habit is a great and anything but creditable to the intelligence growing evil, and should be speedily suppressed by law. It is an evil entailed upon us by the war, and the sooner it is wiped out the better.

Another Acquittal.

In the Chester County Quarter Sessions, week before last, before Judge Butler, Mr. Lee, the Judge of elections of Tredyffrin township, was tried for refusing to receive the vote of a person who presented a certificate of naturalization purporting to have been issued by the Court of Nisi Prius in Philadelphia in September last. The seal of the Supreme Court was affixed to the paper. Col. Snowden, the Prothonotary of the Court, testified that as many as 400 were naturalized in one day, being sworn by the criers and tipstaves. The Election Judge refused to admit the vote under legal advice, one of the lawyers being the District Attorney. Judge Butler reduced the case to a single question whether the defendant acted in good faith, or rejected the vote willfully or maliciously. If he did act according to the best of his knowledge and belief in the matter, he could not be convicted. The Sunshine and Shadow in New York. verdiet was not guilty, and the costs were put on the county. This, we believe has been the result in every similar case yet brought before the Courts.

State Temperance Convention.

A general desire having been expressed, by the friends of Temperance, for a State Temperance Convention, a call has been issued for such a Convention by the leading temperance men of the State. The Convention will meet at the Court House in Harrisburg on Tuesday, the 23d day of Feb ruary, 1869. All Churches, Sunday Schools, J. B. Burr & Co., the publishers of the Colleges, Divisions of Sons of Temperance. Lodges of Good Templars, and all Temperance Societies of whatever name are requested to send their ablest and best men and women as delegates to the Convention. Arrangements have been, and will be with all the principal railroads in the State, for free return tickets, or half fare excursion tickets, to all who attend the Convention.

A Turco-Grecian Battle. It would seem that hostilities have actually commenced between the Turks and Greeks, in spite of the efforts of the Paris Conference to maintain the peace. A "bloody battle" is reported to have taken place between the Turks and the Montenegrins, a race of Greeian mountaineers who occupy the country between Greece proper and the Turkish dominions. It is to be feared that this will prove a spark which the Western Powers cannot extinguish; and which will set Eastern Europe in a blaze. It is like the first blow that follows an angry altereation-likely to precipitate a fight which will not end until one or other party is thrashed. We of the United States will look on this struggle, if it comes with neutral eyes.

A FIENDISH ACT. - Some fiendish individual entered the "Home for Friendless Children" in Lancaster on Tuesday evening, Februnny 2d, and deposited in one of the rooms a ball of rags saturated with some inflammable liquid and set fire to it. The opportune arrival of the matron prevented the flames being communicated to the building. There were in the "Home" at the time about two hundred children, most of whom had retired to bed for the night, and were sound asleep. No punishment imaginable could be too severe for the fiendish wretch who attempted to set fire to this "Home of the Friendless."

TRANCE. - The Bedford Inquirer relates while attending a revival prayer meeting in morning of the 29th, a period of 157 hours, when she revived and commenced shouting rock, &c. " in the same strain as when she fell into the trance. At last accounts she was in her usual health, exhibiting no evil effects from suspension of the natural functions.

"Poor Pussy."-A monster wild cat, which had long been the terror of Huntsville, Connecticut, was recently caught in a steel trap, and all the able-bodied men gathered together, and, armed cap a pic, proceeded to seduce him into an old menagerie cage. His first leap as they approached carried him twenty feet into the cage, trap and all, where he now awaits the coming of feet from nose tip to tail tip.

Notes From Harrisburg.

A bill has been passed by the Senate authorizing the Philadelphia and Erie Railway to extend their branch road in Cameron. Jefferson and Elk counties. This branch will pass up the "Bennett Branch" in Clearfield county, and is intended to supersede or compete with the "Winslow coal road" through the same region.

The Democrats are making feeble efforts to have the people believe that to remedy things at Harrisburg, they must be restored to power. This would be going from bad to worse. Nobody is going to be deceived. This is a matter wholly within the Republican household. The Republican party all over the State is vindicating its honor and its claim to be trusted, by promptly repudiating the extravagance and corruption of the sixty-one men in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg. The Senate has done so by refusing to sanction the act which has brought them so conspiciously in review before the people. Let Republicans everywhere, while purging the party of this great scandal, demand of the Senate to stand firm. And we will thus show to the Democrats that in attempting to convince the people that a remedy is to be found only in restoring them to power, they will have their labor for their pains. The Republican party of Pennsylvania will show the people that it is able to correct its own errors; and in this way will it prove itself still worthy of

The convention of Editors which met in Harrisburg last week, adopted a resolution in favor of a law permitting the truth to be tant question for the Legislature, deservaffixed to this practice of carrying concealed action. The law of libel in this State is of our people, and a reproach to justice.

> Gen. Irwin, the State Treasurer, declines to assume the responsibility of paying the supernumery officers in the House. This is right. The law only authorizes thirtyfour officers; and hence that law must be repealed and the money appropriated by an act of the legislature before the additional twenty-seven can receive any pay legally. The Senate has once refused to sanction this increase of officers in the House, and it is to be hoped that they will adhere to their position, and defeat any attempt to smuggle through an appropriation to pay these supernumeries. The people demand economy in every branch of our State Government, and it behooves those who have the power to protect the Treasury against undue depletion. Let the Republican members of the Senate, and of the House, give heed to the warning voice that is going up to them from their constituents, against every species of extravagance.

Washington City Gossip.

A most disgraceful scene took place, on the 4th, in the committee room where the investigation about Wells, Fargo & Co. was going on. Mr Broomall, of Pennsylvania, was conducting the examination of the Washington correspondent of the Evening Press Association, who is well known here. and who is as respectable as any member of Congress. After swearing the witness, Broomall asked him if he was the author of a certain dispatch, and upon receiving an affirmative answer, said it was a lie from beginning to end. He then, after some questioning, went into a most sweeping and bitter denunciation of newspaper men, and particularly of Washington correspondents. He said in substance that their souls, brains, and principles were for sale, and he would not believe them on oath. He continued this abuse till interrupted by Mr. Getz, of Pennsylvania, who informed the witness that in oite of what the Chairman said, there were himself and Mr. Plantz, of Ohio,) who did not share such views. The attack of Broomall was so gross that the phonographer was directed to omit portions of it. The witness then said he would not submit to an examination in such a manuer, when Broomall threatened him with the power of the House to compel him to testify. The matter is the subject of very general talk to-night, and the opinion is general that the whole thing was a cowardly abuse of the power a Chairman of a Congressional Committee has over a wit-

A resolution was introduced into the House, last week, providing for the payment of $75,000 to Mrs. Lincoln and her children. The resolution was referred to the Committee on appropriations.

Mr. Orth. of Indiana, introduced a resolution into the House, to receive San Domingo as a territory whenever her people should demand it. The resolution was tabled by a vote of 110 to 62. It is said that an effort will be made to bring it up again.

If the joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution for the the extension of suffrage, which was passed by a two thirds vote in the House on Saturday, should pass the Senate by a similar vote, and be ratified by three-fourths of the State Legislatures, it will become a part of the Constitution, and thence-forward, while it remains so, the right of any citizen to vote, without distinction of "race, color, or previous condition of slavery," will be indisputable. The amendment forbids the United States, or any State to make such distinction. If sex had been included, then the champions of woman's rights would have been victorious, and the way to the ballot-box open to them. As it is, some of them contend that under the amendment they possess, as "citizens," the right to vote.

The House seems to grow belligerent latterly. Hardly a day passes, lately, that Democrats are not induced to raise a small Donnybrook Fair. Windom and Sidney Clarke on a motion of the former to lay on the table, and denounced General Butler as having made statements that were unqualifiedly false. Mr. Colfax called him to order immediately, declaring such language insulting to the House and wholly unwarrantable in parliamentary debate. Holbrook, however, declared that he would not withdraw it; thereupon Gen. Schenek offered a resolution of censure. Holbrook stood in sullen defiance, not at all realizing the humiliating and disgraceful position in which he was placed. Holbrook was brought to the bar, and the Speaker administered a severe censure. The Democrats even were ashamed of their colleague, and one were so poor to do him reverence Terrible Calamity.

On Sunday, January 31st, a dam near Danbury, Connecticut gave way, and, the waters rushing down the valley, carried away several honses with their inmates, and destroyed a number of bridges and a large amount of other property. The Danbury Times, of February 1st, publishes the following particulars of the fearful calamity: Just as the bells ceased to ring the people to their evening worship the most terrible calamity ever happening here took place. The dam of the upper Kobanzie reservoir gave way, and the immense body of water herein contained came sweeping down upon

at the upper part of the town were startled by a sudden rushing, roaring sound, like the driving of a heavy gale of wind. Those indoors could not understand it, as their buildings were not racked, as they would be in such a gale. Many left their houses and went out to listen better, and then they discovered before their very doors a boiling, hurling mass of water. The water came upon the village through the gorge above Flint's dam, bringing with it a huge masses two members of the Committee (alluding to of ice, and heavy masses of timbe.r It came with fearful velocity, striking the houses on Main street, near the river bank, and sweeping them from their foundation in an instant. it swept down the flats along the stream north, and, east of Main street, carrying destruction to everything in its reach, and bringing terror to all within its bearing. The total extent of the damage done cannot be estimated. The amount of property lost cannot be less than $50,000, and will probably exceed that amount. The loss of life has been terrible. In the houses destroyed in the upper part of Main street there were 4 persons. The terrible scenes and incidents of the night and this morning beggars description. The people have turned out in masses, and at this hour are going over the pathway of the calamity. The scene is now one of great desolation, especially on the site of the houses of those lost. Hardly a trace of where they stood is visible. One building is deposited a little way back, badly shattered, the other is a complete wreck, the larger portion lying just south of Patch street, and some distance below its foundations. The Main, North, and White street bridges were destroyed, and the Patch street bridge so racked as to be unsafe to walk over. Charles Chase's carriage manufactory, on North street, was demolished, being struck by the building removed from Main street. Sunderland's carpenter shop on White street, was torn from its place. A horse, stabled at one end of the building. in some unaccountable way got out, and swimming to land, came off unharmed. The office and builder's hardware store of the Ives Brothers was flooded, and considerable damage done to the stock. Isaac W. Ives's lumber yard was also flooded, and a large lot of lumber swept down the stream, or thrown about the yard in confused heaps, Loss was also sustained by Stevens Bros. and A. Ely, carpenters . P. Robinson & Co. flour dealers ; Lacy' Hoyt & Co., hat man-ufactuers, and Bradley & Mansfield, liverystable keepers. Great cakes of ice, weigh ng a tun or more, were scattered along the ourse of the water in great profusion, fences were swept down, outhouses, sheds, &c., damaged, the number of which it is impossible now to ascertain, but which, together with many incidents of interest, will be given in the regular issue of The Times on Wed-

The ifollowing is a list of the persons killed: Mrs. Huested, an old lady, motherin-law of Charles E. Andrews, body recovbut badly disfigured, was recovered); three bodies not recovered; two children of James was identified by Mrs. Hanford B. Fairchild as that of Miss Fannie Humphries, a lady who had left Mrs. Fairchild's house on White street, just before the coming of the flood. and was overtaken by it before she could get across the bridge. Right after the water reached White street, two women were seen linging to a tree; they cried for help, but the huge cakes of ice and masses of timber surging between them and those who endeavored to help, rendered all attempts ineffectual, and after a few moments they oosed their hold to the tree, and were swep from sight. One of these two was undoubted ly Miss Humphries, but the other is not yet

The damage done to the reservoir is very great. About 100 feet of the upper dam and the entire length of the lower dam, is swept away. Men are already at work upon the dams, and the water pipes will be filled in a few days. The foundation of Flint's foundery is undermined, and two tenements belonging to Hendrick Barnum, on North street, are somewhat damaged.

The Charities of the State. From the report of the committee of the Senate appointed by the Legislature to inquire into the subject of State charities, it appears that there are thirty-six charitable and correctional institutions in the Commonwealth, which are either supported or aided by State appropriations. To these institutions $5,608,312 have been donated. The penitentiaries, houses of refuge, lunatic hospitals and institutions for the deaf and dumb and blind, have been awarded the largest bounties of the State. The private contributions, to these and kindred institutions, greatly exceed the public donations. The benefits thus bestowed upon suffering humanity are incalcuable. It is not the purpose of the Legislature, as we understand it, in creating made it necessary for Johnson to go there a Board of Public Charities, to restrict the bounties of the State, but, under the systematic supervision of such a Board, extend them until the benefactions are equal to the demands of society, and fully up to the requirements of Christian civilization.
