

For the Farmer.

Drilling Wheat. The season approaching for seeding down wheat we would urge the benefit of drilling in the seed with a machine, instead of broadcast sowing. Nothing in agricultural practice, now-a-days, may be said to be better established than this, as every one knows who has ever tried it; and the reports last season in the Department at Washington, from all sections of the country, showed the grain in bushels per acre to be in some sections 20 and 25 per cent. with the drilled wheat. It is found to be much less killed, and to be thrown out by frosts or winter killed, and the free action of the atmosphere through the drills in the field, the uniform depth at which it is covered, causing an evenness in the growth, together with at least one peck less seed being required for sowing, are all advantages of drilling, connected also with securing a better taking of the grass seed. Drills, as with other farm machinery, have been greatly improved the last few years, and are now constructed not only to sow wheat, oats, rye, &c., in given quantities, but also to sow with it, grass seed and fertilizers in the rows, with the grain; so that the soil being previously well prepared, the whole is finished at one operation, and the ground left in a nice, smooth condition. The ridges left by the drill are leveled down by the frosts of winter, giving additional protection to the tender roots of the grain and grass.

Prosecuting Careless Farmers. The West Chester Republican states that during the session of the Legislature of 1867, through the influence of a Farmer's Club in that county, a bill was passed applicable alone to Chester county, making it a penal offense for "any person or persons, owning, possessing, or occupying and holding land or lands, in the county of Chester, to allow either or any of the following weeds to mature seed on land owned by him or them, viz: The common mullen, the moth mullen, wild carrot, Canada thistle, horse nettle and ox-eye daisy. Any person owning, occupying or holding land upon which said weeds, or either of them, shall be found with mature seed, shall be deemed and taken as maintaining a nuisance, and shall be subject to such penalties as are now, by law, imposed." Railroad companies are also made liable to the same provisions.

The two first cases that have occurred under the law, took place before Justice Whitehead, of West Chester, last week. Mr. Ferdinand Wood made complaint against John Ortlep for allowing ox-eye daisies, and other noxious weeds to mature upon his property. He was held to bail in the sum of $100, to answer the charge. Subsequently Ortlep made complaint against Wood, for the same offense, and he was likewise held to answer. Both parties reside in the township of Londonderry.

POTATOES FOR CATTLE.—Immense good, says an old farmer, would result to the country if coarse varieties of the potato were increased and brought to bear great yields for consumption for cattle. The Cucoo or any other heavy bearing potato might be encouraged or forced to give still heavier crops, if the same attention were paid to them as is done to those sorts for human food. Potatoes too have more solidity in them than turnips, beets or carrots; a less number of bushels would suffice and everybody knows how to grow them. Five hundred bushels per acre, and ten acres consumed annually on a farm of one hundred acres, would soon increase the productivity of the whole of the land, because the manure would be so much more, as well as better in quality; besides, where the tillage is as it should be, a potato crop always leaves the land in an excellent state for the ensuing crop. About thirty years ago I was in the habit of growing great quantities and steaming them for hogs, the yield being between three and four hundred bushels per acre. One year, in consequence of several acres of wheat having been destroyed by wire worms, I had an extra quantity which I had steamed for milk cows. It happened when hay was scarce, and I had these steamed potatoes mashed and mixed with barley straw cut into chaff, and the whole winter dairy cows did better than ever before. I have known them to give cattle feeding for beef, with good effect, fed raw; and though they will never take the place of swedes, etc., for cattle food, yet it will be a great gain if a prolific kind of potato can be brought into use for feeding to the live stock.

STEAR PLOWS.—There are now five English steam plows running in this country, one in Kentucky, one in Texas, and three in Louisiana. They cost about $15,000 and give great satisfaction, as they do the work of twenty or thirty horses with the labor of two or three attendants. In England there are two thousand of these plows, and in Egypt four hundred. They run a gang of from three to six plows, and pulverize as deep as fourteen inches. They can go much deeper if the farmer wishes. Two or three inventors are working out the Yankee steam plow. One proposes to build, for about $3,000, an engine that will move back and forth on the line of a wire-rope fastened at the headlands to a self-advancing anchor.

ATTENTION!—PRESERVE THE FRUIT TREES. Curculio, woolly apher and all other insects so destructive to fruit trees, successfully prevented from committing their ravages on orchards. The tender vine and ornamental tree alike preserved in root, body, branch, and bud, from the attack of any kind of vermin or insect, by "Fisher's new and special process for preventing the borer or other insects from injuring fruit trees, shrubs and ornamental trees, shrubs and vines." Patented September 12th, 1866. This remarkable invention has been tested in the most thorough manner, and has in every instance given the most conclusive proofs of its merits. It is no case has it failed to prove itself a perfect and complete protection against the various kinds of insects that for years past have been doing so much damage to our fruit trees and fruit trees. Testimonials furnished if desired. Individual and township rights can be had upon application to D. DRESSLER, Esq., at Rockton, Clearfield county, Pa., who is agent for Clearfield county.
