Appropas to the subject, we would state that the concert, referred to in the above card, was a success in every respect. the music was excellent, and all the performers acquitted themselves in a highly credstable manner. The Cornet Band is now an established "institution" of our town, and ranks among the best in Central Pennsylvania. Success to it. - ED JOURNAL.

Obituary-

Departed this life, at his residence in Lawrence township, on Friday, February 25th, 1870, G. PHILIP GUELICH, ayed 81 years, 11 months and 9 days. The deceased county. He was born in the city of Hamburg, Germany, on the 16th day of March, 2.30 p m. 1811-being then 23 years old. After a short residence in New York city, and in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, he came to this county and settled where he has so long lived; and where, after a long life of usefulness, devotion to the cause of Christ, and of 2 00 r w ardent attachment to the Evangelical Lutheran Church, he has, at last, closed his earthly course. He was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Haney, on the 25th day of June, 1815, and became the father of nine

Our departed father and friend must be regarded, also, in a very great degree, as the father, chief friend, and early promoter of the interests of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in this county. The footprints of his early and self-denying missionary labors. in behalf of the welfare of the church of his early choice, are still clearly visible in many parts of the county. He was most ardently attached to the Evangelical Lutheran Church, yet he was no bigot, but cherished the most triendly feelings towards all de ominations of Evangelical Christians. It have been animated with feelings of this character, since he came from a land where in Alabama. Here winter has just com. the Lutheran church, so far as Protescantism is concerned, is greatly in the ascendancy, and in some localities the church. He was most thorou, bly acquainted with the history of Lucher and the Reformation of the Sixteenth century. He appreciated the great ness of the struggles through which the Church passed in that eventful period; and loved the doctrines and government of the Church of his choice, as eminently Scriptural and calculated to advance the interests of a sound morality, and of a weal considered and deep toned piety. He was also quite conversant with the history of the Charch in this country, and extensively acquainted with her ministry. Notwithstanding Father Guelich has been spared to a good old age, yet the intelligence of his death will fill the hearts of his many warm friends with feel ings of sadness. He was so much respected and beloved in his own county, as the friend and promoter of a sound morality, that,

The recent attack was of quite a violent nature, and his sufterings during a considerable part of the time, were of the most intense character. It was a touching scene to behold so much suftering, combined with so great a degree or resignation to the Divine will. He spoke feelingly to his children and friends, of religious matters, as they stood from day to day by his bed of extreme suffering-remin-ling them of the vast importance of not delaying the great work of preparation for death, to a sick chamber or a dying hour.
