OBITUARY. - FRANK G IRWIN Was born in Bellefonte, Centre co , Pa., September 14, 1852. He was wounded at 8 o'clock a. m. March 31st, and died just 36 hours after He supposed the Indians were friendly until they fired upon him at 20 or 30 paces; the first shot struck him in the right shoulder and he fell. Two more shots were fired but did not hit him. They then advanced to him, about eight in number, stripped him, kicked and tramped on him, then fired three arrows into his body, two in his chest and one in his left arm, and then started after some other victims, two of whom they met and served in like manner. Frank then walked about ball a mile towards town, when he was seen by a Mr. Ward who carried him into town. The bullet and arrows were carefully and skillfully extracted by Dr. Harrison, and all that love and humanity could do to relieve his intense suffering was it when you want water, tea and coffee. Let avishly bestowed as you may suppose. it be your constant drink for six or eight Nothing short of the power of God could throes of physical anguish he suffered. Yet | Co. Superind't Geo W. Snyder, he told his parents that it was nothing-then looking up, smi ed-he said he was going to see the face of his Father in Heaven His temperament was so even that nothing seemed to ruffle him. Kind to everybody, METEROLOGICAL REPORT for the week and every brate that came in his way. especially did his parents and sister feel and enjoy these estimable traits in his character.
