THE RAVAGES OF INSECTS. - We may say positively that destructive insects are increasing every year, and that they destroy as great an amount of food as is saved. To meet these scourges will require our best efforts. The science of Entomology, by which insects are classified and their nature studied is becoming of national importance and we are sure that without its help little will be done. The first step in every pursuit is analysis, by which we separate a whole into parts, upon each of which attention is to be fixed. Here progress commences.

One of the first results in this study is to make distinction between insects that are useful and injurious, for unless this be done one will be as likely to destroy his friends as his enemies. At present this study is so far from being popular, than the greater part of educated men, so called, are as ignorant as the unlettered. It is manifest that the elements of this science should be taught in our common schools, if it is to become of much use; for the transmission of learning directly from the learned few to the common people without the intervention of a teacher. is impossible. In fitting teachers for their duties, a knowledge of this science should be included among their qualifications, as much as of arithmetic or grammar.- N. Y. T. F. Club.

PETROLEUM AS PAINT. -- Crude petroleum is not only useful for painting buildings, but is the best preservative for all manner of farm implements, wood or iron. As soon as it becomes dry, any tool may be handled without the least annoyance. For priming,when other paint is to be used, petroleum is not only the cheapest but the best material to be found. We have between three and four hundred garden sashes in use. A portion of these were painted two years ago with Prince's mineral paint and linseed oil. This is now so nearly gone that it has been necessary to oil the sashes to keep them from decaying. The other were oiled with petroleum when new, and afterward received one coat of the same paint, which seems now as fresh and solid as when it was first put on. This oil costs from twenty-five cents to thirty cents per gallon, and the only precaution necessary in its use is to have no fire about until it has been spread for a few hours, long enough for the most volatile and inflammable parts to have evaporated. - Evening Post.

Sunflowers, were they a new thing, would be a wonder of beauty, and a profit to thousands. They give food for fowls, and yield a valuable oil. It is also claimed that when planted between houses and a stagant water they ward off fever and ague in America. It has recently been asserted by experimenters in France and Holland, that sunflowers planted on an expensive scale will neutralize the deleterious effects of exhalations from marshes. It is claimed that intermittent fever disappears from districts were sunflowers are cultivated. It is not ascertained in what manner the effect is wrought-whether the sunflower generates oxygen like other plants of rapid growth, or whether like the corn bearers it emits ozone and destroys the animal and vegetable germs of miasms producing fever.

To PRINT ON FRUITS.-When a hand some fruit is intended to be shown at a fair or sent to a friend, it will add something in the way of novelty to have its name or that of some person printed indelibly upon its surface. This may be done in several ways but the most common methods are as fol lows: Just before the fruit has attained its maturity, cut from tough, thin paper the name proposed and paste this upon the side of the specimen most fully exposed to the sun. The portion of the fruit covered by the paper will assume a different color from the other and when ripe the paper is removed, leaving the name distinctly visible. Upon squashes and melons, names and figures may be indelibly impressed by slightly scratching the surface while they are grow-

FEEDING TOO MUCH CORN. - A corres pondent of an Eastern paper, referring to the fact that pork is sometimes found of a yellow color, says that it results from too free use of corn for food. He says that about the time hogs are finished off, farmers often make a mistake in feeding too much and yellow fat. Mixed feed should be given ation. to the last-roots, pumpkins, apples with corn. As a rule, you can get them to eat more and take on more flesh than by a diet of rich food only.

GRAFTING WAX .- Four parts of rosin, three parts of beeswax and three of lard. melted together, make a good wax. It takes much less wax and is much handier to work with, and will make a better job to coat rags with wax. This can be done by tearing the rags into strips, from one and onehalf to two mches wide, and dropping them into the mixture while cooking. It should be permitted to get cool enough before the rags are taken out, so that sufficient wax will stick to them to glaze nicely. - Cincin

DIARRHOEA IN FOWLS. - A scanty supply of grain, which necessitates an excess of green food, or an unwholesome dietary of any discription, are the usual causes of this complaint. The treatment is simple : - Five grains of powdered chalk, the same quantity of rhubarb and three of cayenne pepper, may be administered; and if relaxation is dition. not speedly checked, a grain of opium and one of powdered ipecacuanha may be given every five or six hours. - Tegetmeir.

A cultivator uses cut cornstalks as a mulch for his hills of strawburry plants and finds advantage in it that the mulchin material is free from seeds, and the strawberry plants in the spring send up the shoots through the cut stuff, and the fruit is kept from the earth and the soil, and is cleaner.

A GOOD FARM FOR SALE

Persons desirous of purchasing a farm, are directed to examine that valuable property in Law-reuce township, and situate at the mouth of Clearfield creek—two miles East of the Borough of Clearfield, and convenient to schools and

The property contains ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY ACRES, part of which is unproved and under a high state of cultivation— the whole being well fenced. Coal, iron ere, and other minerals are found on the same.

The buildings consist of a good TWO-STORY DWELLING HOUSE, 28 by 48 feet—a GOOD BARN, and other convenient outbuildings And there is growing on the premises a young bearing orchard of choice fruit trees.

This property is very pleasantly situated and being at the confluence of the creek and the river, it is a very desirable and inviting residence for a private family. Its position on the creek and river also render it a good situation for a board-ing house during the rafting season. The west and north sides of this property being bounded by the creek and river, makes it one of the best rafting grounds in this section, and as such yields a handsome revenue yearly.
