

CLEARFIELD, PA., NOV. 2, 1870.

In another, column we publish the proclamation of President Grant, recommending Thursday, November 24th, as a day of thanksgiving.

There are reasons for expecting that Chief Justice Chase and Justice Nelson will before long resign from the Supreme Bench. To fill the vacancies that will be thus created will devolve an important duty on the President.

It is stated ex-Congressman Whittemore out the nomination of a cadetship for a con- from Iowa.

The World thinks the election law of Congress ought to be called "a law for diminishing Democratic majorities." The World has hit the nail right on the head in this instance, and certainly realizes the full effect of the election law. It will materially reduce Democratic majorities by preventing fraudulent registering and voting.

The Republicans of Iowa put Protection into their platform, at the recent election and carried the State by the largest majority ever given but one-that given to Grant. In the Des Moines District an out and out Free Trader was put up against Palmer, Protectionist, and Palmer was elected by the largast majority ever given in the District.

Ex-Senator Buckalew is strongly opposed to the Crawford county system of making nominations. His opinion, coming from a man who has given much attention and thought to minority representation, and whose motives cannot be otherwise than unquestioned, ought to possess a double weight. He thinks it a plan of plurality representation, whereby the minority are every commonly overruled, or rather coerced into support of a candidate to whom they are opposed. It also tends strongly, in his opinion, to produce fraud and increase the expense of a canvass.

Protection is growing among the people, notwithstanding all the efforts to talk them over to Free Trade. Protection is practical. Free Trade is a theory, and the public prefers what it can understand. The following remark of the St. Louis Tribune shows it was two years ago. This is attributable what advance the American principle is to two causes: 1st, to the smallness of the making in Missouri: "The brass founders vote cast; and 2d, to the division on the of the zine mines of Missouri, under the counties. The Republican vote in the dis-Protective Tariff, they are able to compete criet is 3.025 less than in 1868, and the with foreign manufacturers, give good wages Democratic 1,119. and prosper, though the price of copper is high, for brass in common use is made of description of brass."

The official result of the election held in Ohio on October 11, is announced as follows: Sherwood, the Republican candidate for Secretary of State, has 221,709, votes against 204,979 for Heisley, the Democrat. The Republican majority is, therefore, 16.750, coupled with a total falling off in the vote of the whole State of 35,760 since the election of 1869, when the Republican majority was 7,501.

The States of South Carolina and West Virginia, in which elections have just been held, have balanced each other, in that the former went solidly Republican and the latter is reported to have gone Democratic.
