for the farmer.

THE BEST FEED FOR FATTENING CATTLE -Bela L. Hastings, one of the leading dro vers from Vermont, in supplying cattle for the Boston market, gave his experience and observations in relation to fattening stock, at a late meeting of the Caledonia county Farmers' Club. He said the main object of the farmer is to get the most out of his fodder. It does not pay to feed grain to a poor creature, one that does not take on flesh rapidly. Farmers will do well to dipose of such stock for what it will bring, and procure animals of good style. Another important point is, farmers do not feed heavy enough. He would commence with as much food as they could bear at first and then increase. In feeding twelve quarts of meal, the last four quarts are worth twice as much as the first four for fattening purposes. Some farmers complain that they do not get pay for the grain they feed out, but he had noticed that it was only those who fed light that thus complained. Whether the animal was to be fed a long or a short time, he would recommend heavy feeding. He knew nothing better than corn mea!. The cob is not worth much, if anything. Those persons of whom he purchased fat stock; who were the most successful and made it the most profitable, were those who ted meal largely. If a farmer has potatoes or other roots, it is well enough to feed roots altogether. It is important to feed regularly and not too often, as the stock will eat and lie down and ruminate. It is better to feed cattle but three times a day and sheep

WHIPPING OXEN.-It is cruel, and generally a useless act of barbarism, to whip oxen, yet many farmers are in the habit of continually keeping the whip a going. Instead of inviting the animals to exertion by proper words, the first intimation that the poor creatures have from their master that he desires them to start, is a cut of the whip or a prick from the goad. This is not only savage, but absolutely wicked, and unnecessary. Another practice often seen is that of pounding and thrashing the oxen because they don't readily back a load, when they have not learned to back an empty cart down Stoves of all sorts and sizes, constantly on the F. BIGLER & CO'S hill. There is no doubt that the selling of many a yoke of oven is depreciated from $15 to $25 by being abused in this way. If animals are to work, they must first be taught to work, and when they understand what is wanted of them, they will cheerfully comply. But there is a better way to communicate your desires than through the whip. Kindness and skillful management GUNS. Pistols and sword capes to be had at are far better. Remember that a "merciful man is merciful to his beast."
