CLEARFIELD, PA., JULY 12, 1871.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: Col. DAVID STANTON, of Beaver.

KENTUCKY was paid her war indemnity over half a million dollars on June 30th.

GOV. SIDNEY PERHAM, of Maine, was nominated for reelection by the Republicans of that State, on Thursday a week.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE and Gen. Hancock, for President and Vice President, is the N. Y. Herald's latest proposition to the Democracy.

DURING Grant's administration the Government promises to pay have been increased in value from sixty-nine to ninety-one cents on the dollar.

The last Congress reduced taxation to the amount of fifty-six millions a year. Just in proportion as the Republicans try to lessen the national taxes the Democracy increase the local taxes.

VICE PRESIDENT COLfax adheres to his determination not to again accept a nomination for office.

EVERY Republican State Convention held this year, thus far, has cordially endorsed President Grant's administration.

The free traders, whose object is mischief, are confident of splitting the Republican party on the tariff question before the next campaign.

WHILE the Republicans are quietly holding their own, the Democrats are disintegrating. A section of the party in Iowa are dissatisfied with the "new departure".

SECRETARY BOUTWELL'S report for June of the public debt statement shows another splendid reduction, amounting to over seven million dollars.

EDWARD S. GUMBLE, who hails from Washington county, and has been driving a United States mail wagon in Philadelphia for some time, was arrested on Monday, July 3d, for robbing the mails.

THERE could be no better proof given of the importance and indispensable necessity of a protective tariff to stimulate to a healthy development the iron interests of the country.

DISPATCHES from Rome announce that a most enthusiastic reception was given to King Victor Emmanuel, on his entrance into that city.

A FEARFUL railroad disaster, involving loss of life and the infliction of severe wounds, occurred on Monday evening at Harpers river, sixteen miles from Nashville.

Our Democratic friends are having quite a lively time over the "new departure." It haunts them in their dreams, and confronts them in their daily "walk and conversation."

A Sensible View. The Lebanon Courier says: "There is a good deal of humbug about temperance politicians. The leaders of these temperance movements will frequently be found to be disappointed office seekers."

JUDGE HARDING, a few days since, rendered a decision at Wilkesbarre, in this State, which promises to render the coal mines more safe in the future than they have been in the past.

AS was to have been anticipated, the "new departure" Democratic platform ended where it commenced, says the Chicago Post. It will accept the constitution, but did not believe in it.

NOW that the Treaty of Washington has been ratified, notice comes from London that the Canadian fleet has long rendezvoused at the Port of Halifax with its withdrawal, and only one vessel left to guard the fishery interests of that locality.

THE Bloomfield Advocate says: The Very County Democrat will not accept the Democratic platform, and refuses to "depart" with Wallace, Buck M'Candless, Bill McMullen and other "shining lights" who are now swallowing the billingsgate so freely heaped upon the Republicans for the past few years.

THE favorable prospect for crops in various parts of the country is the theme of general remark in the papers. All the staple breadstuffs will yield above the average, and a good supply of cotton, but not equal to last year, either in acreage or yield.

Republican Delegate Convention. After due notice, delegates representing the Republican party in Clearfield county, met in Clearfield, on Thursday, July 6th, 1871, for the transaction of business.

The committee on resolutions offered the following, which were unanimously adopted: Resolved, That we recognize in our present Chief Magistrate, President Grant, the statesman as well as the soldier.

Resolved, That in the Hon. G. W. Scofield, our present member of Congress, we have a talented, honest and faithful representative—one who has by his able advocacy of Republican principles in the National House of Representatives, gained for himself a reputation second to none in that body.

A Little of Everything. Philadelphia is to have an Opera House. Greenburg is to have a Massale Temple. The President has returned to Washington.

A circular saw—the man who "saw around the corner." There was a $65,000 fire at York, Pa., on the 7th inst.

Franklin county enjoying over a magnificent wheat crop. So do Clearfielders. Our 'imp' judges how hot it is by the number of paper collars he wears in a day.

A Western town is sadly disconcerted at finding itself without a graveyard. New potatoes are in market, but they are so high that we can't reach them.

A man named Meera was hung by a mob at Watska, Ill., on the 6th inst., for the murder of a little child. A Minnesota boy "played saloon" and mixed his liquors so carelessly that he ruined his business and health.

A down east editor says that since the recent rains the farmers are smiling like new shingles on a patched roof. The Forest Republican notes the killing of a rattlesnake having eleven rattles on the extreme hind end of his tail.

A California paper suggests Chief Justice Thompson, of Pennsylvania, as the Democratic candidate for President in 1872. A young chap called on his girl the other evening and found her nursing the baby while the old man, who got rid of the "little darling" he picked it up and took it off to his grandmother's.

A Chicago policeman poisoned a dog. His master—the dog's—twisted his ear—the policeman—and he now wears his eye—the man does—in a sling. Gen. George B. McClellan advises the Tennessee Democracy to "accept the negro." George didn't like the negro much when soldering on the Potomac.

From the Harrisburg Telegraph. The Vice Presidency—And Something Else. "By the authority of Senator Cameron, and at his request, we are called on to announce his opinion as to candidates in the coming Presidential contest; and to further assure those who value his opinions in political affairs that the injudicious agitation of the subject of candidates at this time forces him to break a silence which should have continued until the campaign now in progress in Pennsylvania had been ended."

"He desires the renomination and reelection of President Grant for many weighty reasons, believing him to be the very man, of all men, to bring the country out of its financial and political complications. His management of the revenues has been magnificent. The steady payment of the national debt has been the crowning achievement not alone of his administration, but of practical financing. The amicable adjustment of our foreign relations—and particularly the negotiation of the treaty of Washington, gives evidences of the highest order of statesmanship. His devotion to the cause of American labor is sturdy and sincere."

"Honest, capable, straightforward, inflexible, and brave, he combines all the elements of power through which alone the South can be restored to peace, order and prosperity. That part of our country requires nothing so much at this time as a clear conviction that the laws of the land are to be either loyally obeyed or mercifully enforced. They must learn that the right of a northern, Eastern or Western man is as complete in the South as anywhere else; and that the absolute freedom of political discussion and action in every part of this country is the dearest of all those rights which the war for the Union settled. There can be no peace until the South yields this point; and under Grant they will learn it sooner. He can neither be wheedled nor bullied. And for this reason he is the best President for that turbulent section."

These reasons among others, control the judgment of Senator Cameron, and he is so anxious that Grant should be re-elected that he looks with chagrin on any and all matters which shall divert the attention of the people from that subject. Pennsylvania will do her duty in the future as in the past, and will find her recompense in her devotion to civil liberty, and the Great Captain under whose civil liberty is so well maintained."

EARLY in our war, when prices were depressed, an agent of Louis Napoleon came to New York and made large purchases of real estate in Third Avenue and other parts of that city. The Imperial speculation has resulted fortunately, and time has already come when the Emperor has reason to be thankful that he had made this provision against a rainy day."

It is a gratifying fact that the National Library in Paris is unharmed. It was rumored that many valuable works had been taken out and destroyed, but careful inquiries disclose the fact that rumors were incorrect. The Communists seem to have been too much engrossed in other directions to think of the library."

THE great annual anniversary day passed off unusually quiet for this population. The display of fireworks was delayed until Friday evening. The crowning exhibition was a "gorgeous allegorical spectacle of the Union," a column surrounded with the Goddesses of Liberty and Washington and Lincoln seated on the right and left.

A little stir exists in Germantown regarding the Local Option Law. The hotel proprietors are determined to prevent an election by getting out an injunction on the ground of the unconstitutionality of the act. I see it stated that a State Temperance Convention is to meet in Harrisburg, on August 9th, to put in nomination a State Ticket. It appears that the machine does not run O. K., and charges of improper influence to prevent its usefulness are strongly asserted. With strong laws to punish those who disregard the law, and now backed by the Local Option Law, which allows any community to vote whether they will or will not have liquor sold in their midst, these chaps are not satisfied. A temperance party has no show. The church, the great moral lever, can alone create this reform.

Ladies who have been socked from $10 to $140 for dress making will learn, with pleasure, that sewing machines are now run by steam, and with its introduction disappointment and delay will pass away. A shirt manufacturer in this city will shortly put in operation over one hundred machines driven by steam.

The public building commission are determined to go to work at last, and will no doubt have their own way until the next legislature meets. Prof. Saunders has recently made a handsome donation of his valuable grounds and school buildings to the Presbyterian church, for a hospital, and in addition agreed to raise $100,000 to put up additional buildings. The property is worth about $200,000.

Excursion trips are the order of the day to get out of a hot city. The papers are filled with advertisements of these trips. Why not offer inducements to have excursions to Clearfield, as desirable a mountain location to visit as any in the State? PHILA. July 10th 1871. Z.

THE returns of elections in France are sufficiently in for the result to be definitely determined. The Republican candidates have been generally successful, the Bonapartists having the second largest vote and the Legitimists the smallest. This sufficiently establishes the success of the Republic for the present.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. STRAY.—Came trespassing on the premises of the undersigned, in Beccaria town, Clearfield county, two CALVES, about one year old, one a black brown steer with white spots in face; the other a heifer, with red back and legs, white face and white.
