FALLS CITY, NEB., July 5th, 1871. EDITOR JOURNAL:-I doubt very much many of your readers ever heard of this "prairie" city. Be that as it may, some items concerning Falls City and Nebraska in general may not be unacceptable.

FALLS CITY flourisheth. Building is going ahead at a very lively rate. Some of character, and show that a permanent residence is intended by their owners. Business of almost all kinds is well represented, and strangers are arriving daily. Last fell, when the census was taken, we had a population of about eight hundred (800). At the present time it is estimated that there are twelve hundred (1,200) people within our limits. They are not of a migratory character either, but are that class of people who come west with the intention of scorking, as well as improving their financial condition. We have two hotels, four general merchandise stores, one hardware store and tin shop, two restaurants, two gro cery stores, two confectioneries, three black-COMMUNICATION. - We would call the at- smith shops, two lumber yards, two paint
