The Republican has a letter from Capt. H. B. Judd, to Col. Washington from Los Vegas, Aug. 16, which states:

I have the honor to report, that a party, numbering about forty of Apaches, came to this post to-day, with an evident design of committing depredations, should a chance be presented, as well as to supply themselves with what powder and lead they could obtain by barter or otherwise. Many of them were recognized as being the same Indians who had so often falsely treated for peace at Taos, and this band was undoubtedly engaged in the many murders and robberies committed during the past year along this frontier.

I, therefore, determined to seize this party, having made no professions of friendship to them; and for this purpose ordered a command, under Lieut. Burnside, to proceed to their camp, about half ceiving from me an abrupt dismissal.-Lieutenant Burnside advancing within short range of their arrows, halted his of arrows and fled with speed over the rough hills and ravines beyond Los Vegas.
