edition, 1813, we find the following:—"Slaves, as long as they were under the government of a master, were called Oiketai; but after their freedom was granted them they were Douloi, not being like the former, a part of the maste'rs estate, but only obliged to some grateful acknowledgements and small services," &c. Now, Oiketes is only used four times in the New Testament: Luke xvi, 13; Acts x, 7; Romans xiv, 4; 1st Peter ii, 18.

Doulos is used in the New Testament 117 times.

And how did Paul send Onesimus back to Philemon? "Not now as a servant (Doulos, who at most was not a part of the master's estate, but only 'obliged to some grateful acknowledgments and small services') but above a servant, a brother beloved."

I have extended this essay to a greater length than I had expected; but one or two more points in yours remain to be noticed. Daniel Webster, we are told, has recently come out in a most "manful and patriotic denunciation of the abolitionists and their measures," &c., &c. And that his charges are emphatic, we admit; but they are without proof. And why are the assertions or charges of Daniel Webster more than those of any other man?

And that the South will not withdraw from the Union I leave for your readers to decide when they become convinced that she could not hold her slaves without the aid of the North, as I told you before. Standing alone, the whites of the South would be so few in number, compared with the slaves, that the latter would rise in open rebellion and free themselves, if liberty could not be obtained in any other way. That desire for liberty being implanted in every human breast, which nothing but tyranny and despotic power can ever efface or even lessen.

What think you of the Declaration of our national Independence, the very first sentence of which declares openly that "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created free and equal; that they are endowed with certain inalienable rights, and that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."—Now every man feels these to be his natural and inherent rights, and according to the letter and spirit of the Declaration of Independence we must either grant to the African race the benefit of these rights, or we must conclude that they are not men.

Yours, for the cause of the oppressed.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

A meeting of the Democratic Citizens of Clearfield county, was held at the Court House, Clearfield, April 30th 1850.

On motion SAMUEL JOHNSTON was appointed President, and Jas. M. Shaw John H. Hilburn, Wm. Wilhelm Vice Presidents, and L. Jackson Crans and J. O. Lorain, Secretaries. On Motion, D. W. Moore, A. K. Wright, B. Bonsall Jonathan Bovington and F. P. Butler, were appointed a committee to prepare Resolutions expressive of the object of this meeting.

The committee reported the following resolutions which were adopted.

Whereas, The time again approaches when the Democracy of Pennsylvania will be again called upon to select a candidate for Canal Commissioner, and for the first time candidates for the offices of Auditor and Surveyor Generals; and for that purpose a State Convention has been appointed to be held at Williamsport on the 29th of May next,

Therefore Resolved, That, in the opinion of this meeting it would but be an act of courtesy to extend to Cambria county the claim to the Senatorial Delegate to said convention, and that we therefore, hereby express and declare our concurrence in the choice of whoever the Democratic party of that County may select.

Resolved, That for Representative Delegate to said Convention, in connection with Centre county, we hereby appoint ——— ——— said delegate.

Resolved, That in connection with the great Democratic party throughout the Union, we hail with great pleasure the present happy prospect of settling upon a permenant basis, the long, exciting and truly dangerous questions growing out of the institution of slavery, by referring all the questions at issue to the Committee of Thirteen, composed, of the oldest, ablest, and most experienced Senators of the nation.

Besolved, That the position which all the most enligtened and moderate Statesmen of our country, of both political parties, have finally settled upon, including President Taylor and his Cabinet, appears to be that, or nearly that, laid down by Gen. Cass in his celebrated Nicholson letter; and this, we hold to be the very highest of the many high compliments that public opinion has been compelled to pay to the exalted patriotism and far seeing Statesmanship of the Standard bearer of the Democratic party in 1848.

Resolved, That upon all the great national questions, such as the Tariff, national improvements, the public lands, &c., the Democratic party continues to occupy the same proud position laid down by the fathers of the party—whilst their opponents are as much divided on these questions as the States are divided in local interests.

Resolved, That the undeviating Democratic course pursued by our active and talented representative in Congress, the Hon. Alfred Gilmore, merits and receives our most hearty approbation.

Resolved, That the course pursued by our distinguished representative in the State Senate, Augustus Drum, and Messrs Hiphill and Meek, our members of Assembly, deserve the fullest approbation of their constituents, for the constant attention to business, and their fidelity to the cardinal principles of the Democratic party.

On motion of Hon. A. K Wright, the blank in the second resolution be filled by inserting the name of Col G. R. Barrett.

On motion of Dr. H. Lorain, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

Resolved. That we highly approve of the course of our Legislature this winter in refusing to instruct our representatives in Congress to vote for that greatest of humbugs, the Wilmot Proviso.

Resolved. That these proceedings be signed by the officers and published in the Country Doller.

Sudden and Appalling Death.—A young man, named Charles Wilson, employed in the coast survey office, died very suddenly on Thursday morning, under the following painful circumstances:—He was married on Wednesday night at Mrs. Little's boarding house. Mr. Wilson went to bed about 11 o'clock, and was found dead by his wife the next morning, when she attempted to awake him. Having taken a mixture on Wednesday evening, consisting of opium and ether, it was believed by many that this draught was the cause of his death. On a full investigation of this distressing case by a coroner's jury, they returned, after hearing the testimony of four eminent physicians and a post mortem examination, the following verdict:

"That the deceased was a man of intemperate habits, and had been, for two weeks previous to his death, constantly under the influence of ardent spirits, and on the night preceding the morning of his death he manifested strong symptoms of delirium tremens, and while in that state, about 10 o'clock at night, he was married and retired to bed about 11 o'clock; that, after he got in bed, he exchanged a few words with his wife and then fell asleep, and was found dead in his bed on Thursday morning about daylight; and the jury believe, from the evidence, that the deceased came to his death by congestion of the brain and stomach, produced by the habitual use of intoxicating drinks."—National Intelligencer.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—Great Remedy.—A very important discovery over which this Balsam exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a Diseased Liver. In this compound it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected permanent cures, after every known remedy had failed to produce the desired effect.

ARTHUR BELL, Trs'r.

March 4, 1850.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

The Great Remedy for Consumption of the Lungs, Affections of the Liver, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains or Weakness of the Breast or Lungs, and other affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is a fine HERBAL MEDICINE; composed chiefly of Wild Cherry Bark and the genuine Iceland Moss (the latter imported expressly for this purpose,) the rare medical virtues of which are also combined by a new chemical process, with the extract of tar—thus rendering the whole compound the most certain and efficacious remedy ever discovered for CONSUMPTION OF THE LUNGS.

We are just in receipt of the following voluntary tribute to the curative power of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, from E. Hall, M. D., of Mount Clemens, Michigan, who is a physician of high standing, and an extensive Druggist:

Mt Clemens, Mich., Oct. 29, 1849.

To the afflicted this may certify that Mrs. B. Roberts of this village, three or four weeks after confinement, was attacked with a violent cough, and great prostration, and seemed hastening to the grave with fearful rapidity. I advised her to use Wistars' Balsam of Wild Cherry—she did so, and with that valuable medicine alone, in the space of three or four weeks, was restored to health, and is now a living proof of the value of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

E. HALL,
Physician and Druggist.

Read on and be convinced still further of the remarkable virtues of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—

Messrs Sanford & Park—Gents:—As a matter of justice to you, and for the benefit of the public, I would offer the following statement of a cure effected by your medicine, known as Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. In the spring of 1847 my wife was severely attacked with Peripneumonia, or Pleurisy, which resulted in a deep seated pain in the side, accompanied with a severe cough; she was attended by some of the best physicians in Chicago, but to no purpose—for weeks she suffered, without relief, coughing incessantly night and day. I came to the conclusion that all the remedies known to the physicians could not help her, and was induced to try your "Wild Cherry." I procured one bottle, and commenced using it according to directions; before it was all gone the cough stopped, and the pain in her side left her, and with the aid of another bottle she was restored to perfect health. In consideration of these circumstances, I would recommend it to the public as a valuable medicine.

Yours, respectfully,
R. N. GARRATT.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 8, 1849.

The following we have just received from Messrs Fall, McCracken & co, Agents for the sale of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry at Lancaster, Ohio.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I feel it my duty, as an act of kindness to the afflicted, to inform them what Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has done for my daughter. There is many a parent who has given up a beloved son or daughter, as a prey to the fell destroyer Consumption. They have—as I have done—tried all the most skillful and eminent physicians within their reach, and all of the most popular remedies that seemed to hold out some hope for a continuance of life, without getting any relief.

To all such, who, like me, have been seeking with trembling hope for some remedy of real efficiency, I would say, seek no further, but try at once Dr. W[illegible] Balsam of Wild Cherry. My
