IN WANT OF CASH.

The Rev. F. Percy Howe, editor of the "Dollar Democrat," published in Louisiana, thus calls upon his indebted subscribers to pay up:

The Country Press.

The following liberal remarks are taken from Neal's Saturday Gazette, of the 24th inst. We trust it may have a proper influence upon the citizens of our county.

Newspapers—Town and Country.—The West Chester "Village Record" is in the right—decidedly in the right, when in commending improvements in certain of the weekly newspapers of the city—"Neal's Gazette!" among the number—it makes a reservation, to the effect that the encouragement of these publications should be secondary to that of the local newspapers—that a county paper should be subscribed for first, and that, in the next place, a selection should be made from the weeklies above alluded to.

Take Chester county, for instance; examine the various newspapers published within its confines—none better, in all the essentials of merit, are to be found in the Union; and then draw your inference according to the rule laid down, and you will find our theory to come out in proof, exact to the letter. Encourage the local newspaper then; and be assured that the good you do to it, will be repaid tenfold by its influence upon the general prosperity of the place.

Encourage the local newspaper, therefore, as a material part of yourselves—the countenance, in fact, by which you are known to the rest of the community—the voice by which you are heard. That done—for we are satisfied there is abundant room for all—then, send to Philadelphia and enter your subscriptions—single, or in pairs, or in whole battalions—for "Neal's Saturday Gazette," which labors to make itself "the best of the city weeklies," while it is ready on all occasions to acknowledge the worth and the services of its cotemporaries in the country, laboring as they do with zeal and talent, but too often with inadequate recompense and appreciation.

This republic is largely indebted for its mental progress and general welfare, to the exertions of its country press; and from that school, have come many of its greatest men, to ornament the bench, the bar and the councils of the nation. There is no element more important to our social progress than the country press. Let it be cherished as the guardian of our liberties and the protector of our rights.

A New Englander, riding in a railroad car, off South West somewhere, seemed particularly disposed to astonish the other passengers, with tough stories about Yankeeism. At last he mentioned that one of his neighbors owned an immense dairy, and made a million of pounds of butter, and a million of pounds of cheese yearly. This story produced some sensation, and the Yankee perceiving that his veracity was in danger of being questioned, appealed to a friend as follows:

"True, isn't it, Mr. P. I speak of Deacon Brown—you know Deacon Brown?" "Y-a-o-s," replied the friend, "that is, yes; I know Deacon Brown; I don't know as I ever heard precisely how many pounds of butter and cheese he makes a year, but I know he has twelve saw mills that all go by buttermilk."—Norwalk Experiment.

In 1750 a celebrated naturalist followed a butterfly nine miles before he could catch it.

The Penn'a Reporter & HOME JOURNAL.

The "Pennsylvania Reporter and Home Journal" will be published twice a week during the session of the Legislature, and furnished to subscribers at the low price of Two Dollars for that period. Able and competent reporters have been engaged in both branches, who will furnish us with full, impartial and correct reports of the proceedings. On all important questions, the debates will be given at length.

Our readers may rest assured that they will at all times find in "The Reporter" a correct and honest vehicle of Democratic truth. We are neither to be bribed or frightened into the support of any measure adverse to the time honored usages of the party. Our duty shall be honestly and faithfully discharged come what may.

We shall also present our readers, with full reports of all the important events transpiring at the seat of the Federal Government, in each number. In order that no delay may be experienced in the early transmission of our make, our edition will be run off upon a superior power press, which will be in operation in a few days.

We respectfully ask the Democracy of the State to interest themselves in our behalf.

Any person forwarding us ten dollars, and five subscribers for the session, shall receive a copy gratis for his kindness.
