Iron.

We copy from a paper of high character, an article in regard to iron, which we commend to the diligent perusal of our friends in Pennsylvania. If these statistics be correct, it would not be wonder ful if in a few years iron were exported from Pennsylvania for sale at profitable prices in Europe :-- Washington Union. From the London Commercial Record, July 21.

The following remarks, which appeared in the London Mining Journal a short time since, will be found very interesting, as there is every reason to believe they emanate from parties of great practical knowledge and discernment. The same correspondent wrote at the close of last session: "I presumed that not less than 2,000 miles of railway would be sanctioned by Parliament in the present session, and 1,000 miles in the session of 1847.-I calculated that, in the three years (1846, 1847, 1848,) an extra demand for between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 tons of iron would be created by railway enterprise; that such a deficiency of labor, of materials, and of manufacturing capability, would be experienced as to make it im possible to meet that demand : and that the difficulty of obtaining iron at any price would shortly present a novel feature in the commercial history of this coun-

The great check which will be given to railway making, both at home and abroad, is the necessary restriction to one material, and the impossibility of supplying the demand which railways must create for that material. It has been asserted over and over again, that such a vast number Rerguson township. of miles of railways ought, to be nistribu ted over a period of seven or ten years. That such a distribution ought to be made, is very questionable, but that such a dis-'tribution must be made, is absolutely cer tain. The money may be found—the iron cannot be supplied.

At the close of the present session, the railway companies incorporated by act of Parliament will have virtually bespoken a quantity of iron equal to the total make of England, Wales, and Scotland, for the next four years-leaving none for ordinary uses at home, the requirements for which are steadily increasing, and will be further stimulated by the liberal commercial policy recently adopted by our government; and leaving none for the supply of foreign countries, whose wants already exceed their own capabilities, and who will, ere long, follow the example of Great Britain, and abolish those restrictions which have hitherto prevented them from purchasing in the best and cheapest market, Where, then, is the iron to come from Our make of iron is not, at present, on the increase. A few new furnaces have been built-a few more are in progress, but most of the old works have reached their maximum, and several are on the decline. Whatever ingenius theorists may surmise respecting the formation of iron ore, and the growth of coal, the practical ironmaster is every day reminded of the disappearance of those minerals. He knows, too, that as wages advance, his stock of minerals are apt to diminish; and that the quantity of iron manufactured All scales of turtar should be carefully does not depend so much upon the demand, removed, and if there are any cavities in as upon the readiness or reluctance of the your teeth they should be properly filled, miners to keep to their work, which is so which will effectually prevent any further laborious, that they would rather do less decay. and garn the same wages, than do the same work, and earn more. NEW PROSPECTUS, 1846.

These clouds have all passed over; and The Saturday Evening Post: Formerly the U. States Saturday Post.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS.

The publishers of the Saturday Evening Post offer a new prospectus to their friends and the public.— In this day of newspaper enterprise they are deter-mined to maintain their old reputation, & keep ahead of all competitors! For quarter of a century the Post has been the most durably popular of the weekly newspapers; and if capital, enterprise, and a host of writers, can effect their aim, the publishers are resolved that the Post shall still lead the field."

A PERFECT MAGAZINE. Owing to the large size of the jusper we are combled to publish weekly, as much matter as is contained in any one number of the monthly magazines: so that, for less money, the subscriber yearly obtains four times as much reading -Besides this, numerous illustrations, engraved by competent artists, will, hereafter, grace our columns rendering The Post, in all respects equal, and in ma ny respects superior to the best magazine!

ORIGINAL TALES Every week one or more original tales of the first American writers, grace the columns of this paper. We eschew the common practice of copying stories from foreign magazines except in rare instances—pictures of American life, and the romance of American history, told by competent American writers, are what the renders of this country require. Our nim, however, shall not be confined to this point alone. To make the Post a useful tending back 150 feet to the Market house, as well as a pleasant companion, it will have a thorough NEWS DEPARTMENT, which shall contain the latest intelligence, comprising a Washington Letter, News from New York, General News, Foreign News, Monthly Letters from England, &c. Together with all important public documents in full, and occusional reports of important Congressional debates. tlso reports of such of the pulic Lectures, for which Philadelphia is famous, as may interest our readers. Everything, in short, suited for a Family Paper will

> AGRICULTURAL. As many farmers do not take an Agricultural Paper, it shall hereafter be a part of our plan to give full and late intelligence on Agricultural matters:--viz, New discoveries, new manures, will be found in every number.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT. The great size of our sheet enables, not only to be a Pamily Paper, bu! to devote some space especially, each week, to the Ladies' Department, in which all matters interesting

JUVENILE DEPARTMENT. A department under this head, will be devoted to enigmas, Charades, rebuses, puzzles, arithmetical questions, and other like matters, interesting to adults as well as to LETTERS FROM EUROPE. A series of letter from J. Bayard Taylor, the printer poet, now on a pelestrian tour through Europe, are being published the Post. These letters have attracted great attentention, and are said to be the best since the celebra ted letters of Brooks. In political intelligence we recognise only one pa ty, and that is OUR COUNTRY-OUR WHOLE COUNTRY. We know no sectional interests in our patriotism, no party lines in our politics, no sectarian sin in our religion.

EARLIEST AND BEST. As it is important t have the latest news, our columns will always be giving novelties!

HUMOROUS ARTICLES. A good laugh is bet ter than a pound of medicine; and the Post will giv original humorous sketches, a weekly melange of fun choice scraps of humor, witheisms, &c. Our dish will always be a merry one, let the world wag as it word, we shall still remain THE FIRE. SIDE FRIEND; a paper indispensable to country roaders, in consequence of its Original Tules and Sketches; Original Verse and Essays; History and Historiettes; Biography and Legends; Science and Statistics; Revolutionary Annals; Moral Tales and Traits of Lafe; Original Comments on Notables.
