

POETRY.

From Scott's Weekly Paper. LINES Suggested by "Coopers Last of the Mohicans" BY GEO. HOWELL.

Chief of the Mohicans! where now are thy braves, Renowned in the council—the terror of the foe? Where now are thy warriors, whose tomahawks bright, Carried death to the foe in the soul-stirring fight? Whose eyes were roused o'er hill and dale and plain, The glad notes of victory, and dirge of the slain?

New Orleans Ladies.

We were not favorably impressed with the beauty of the ladies of New Orleans during our recent visit to that city—and yet we sought every opportunity to observe the comeliness of form and feature of which we had previously heard so much. We saw the belles of the city at the theatres, at the churches, upon the public squares and in the streets, yet in our humble judgment, Old Kentucky can produce more loveliness in almost every country neighborhood than we saw in that immense city. The wives and daughters of emigrants from the northern and western States take precedence in the matter of good looks, and many of them are really pretty—but of the native citizens of Louisiana the quarters are for the hand-somest.

A GOOD HUSBAND.

When you see a young man modest and retiring in his manners, who cares less about dress than about his moral character, depend upon it, ladies, he will make an excellent husband. If you see one who is kind and attentive to his mother, affectionate to his sisters, industrious in his habits and economical in his business, rest assured you have found one of whom you will never be ashamed. The ball room is no place to find a husband; the fashionable assembly is no place; it is in the retirement of home, in the place of business—where you can study the character and disposition, and where the best is not put on for effect and display.

the son of a wealthy man. Poor girl! a few years of misery passed away, and her husband became reduced, and she to maintain him actually took in washing. Many a shoemaker's wife, and many a painter's daughter, has contributed to her comfort during the last few years of her life. Girls, be wise, and look to the heart, if you want good husbands.

Wife, said a married man, looking for his bootjack after she was in bed, I have places where I keep all my things, and you ought to know it? 'Yes,' said she, 'I ought to know where you keep your late hours.'

The chimney sweep is a happy fellow, for his business always soots him.

Popular Remedies.

THE most popular remedies of the present day are those which cleanse and purify the blood, and which are known to be innocent in their qualities. Such remedies as Antimony, Mercury, Zinc, and having recourse to bleeding in disease, are now disused, going out of fashion, and Vegetable remedies will be the popular medicine. Then Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, are now in every part of the body; being taken up by the chyle they pass into the blood, which they purify, and it should be remembered that they only remove those parts from the blood which were the cause of inflammation or disease of any kind. Nothing is equal to ridding the system of humors with a vegetable medicine of this kind, which eighty-four years have proved never to do injury, but always good.

NEW PROSPECTUS, 1846.

The Saturday Evening Post; Formerly the U. States Saturday Post. GREAT INDUCEMENTS.

The publishers of the Saturday Evening Post offer a new prospectus to their friends and the public.—In this day of newspaper enterprise they are determined to maintain their old reputation, & keep ahead of all competitors! For quarter of a century the Post has been the most durable popular of the weekly newspapers; and if capital, enterprise, and a host of writers, can effect their aim, the publishers are resolved that the Post shall still lead "the field." A PERFECT MAGAZINE. Owing to the large size of the paper we are enabled to publish weekly, as much matter as is contained in any one number of the monthly magazines, so that, for less money, the subscriber yearly obtains four times as much reading.— Besides this, numerous illustrations, engraved by competent artists, will, heretofore, grace our columns rendering the Post, in all respects equal, and in many respects superior to the best magazine! ORIGINAL TALES. Every week one or more original tales of the first American writers, grace the columns of this paper. We esteem the common practice of copying stories from foreign magazines, except in rare instances—pictures of American life, and the romance of American history, told by competent American writers, and what the readers of this country require. Our aim, however, shall not be confined to this point alone. To make the Post a useful as well as a pleasant companion, it will have a thorough NEWS DEPARTMENT, comprising a Washington Letter, News from New York, General News, Foreign News, Monthly Letters from England, &c. &c. Together with all important public documents in full, and occasional reports of important Congressional debates. Also reports of short public Lectures, for which Philadelphia is famous, as may interest our readers. Everything, in short, suited for a Family Paper will be found in the Post. AGRICULTURAL. As many farmers do not take an Agricultural Paper, it shall hereafter be a part of our plan to give full and late intelligence on Agricultural matters—viz. New discoveries, new machines, remarks on soils, &c. This department will be complete. Full and accurate reports of the markets will be found in every number. LADIES DEPARTMENT. The great size of our columns will be devoted to enigmas, Charades, riddles, arithmetic questions, and other like matters, interesting to adults as well as to the young. LETTERS FROM EUROPE. A series of letters from J. Bayard Taylor, the printer post, now on a pedestrian tour through Europe, and being published in the Post. These letters have attracted great attention, and are said to be the best since the celebrated letters of Bayard.
