NEVER COULD SEE A GOOD REASON. I never could find a good reason,

Why serrow unbidden should stay, and all the bright joys of life's sedson, the driven unheeded away. Our cares would wake no more emotion,
Were we to our lot reagn'd,
Than pebbles flung into the ocean. That leaves scarce a ripple behind.

The world has a spirit of beauty.
Which looks upon all for the best,
And while it discharges its outy. To Providence leaves all the rest; That spirit's the beam of devotion. Which lights us through life to its close, And sets like the sun in the occan.

More beautiful far than it rose.

KINDNESS:

"Pie this that sweetens bitter wo And checks the rising sigh, When trouble sinks the spirit low, And aven hope dotte fly! When grief the heart doth fill; For, though the soul be all unrest. Its power the storm can still; Can bid the engry clouds depart.

And brighten up with joy
The sky of love within the heart, That tempest would destroy. flow gloomy would this world appear,

Did not love's gentle eye
Shine on our path the way to cheer,
Lake radiance from on high!
Misfortune's hand may on us fall,
And wither fairent flowers, Yes, even death, with fearful pall.

Approach life's lovelies bowers—
Yet kindness drives away the gloom That hovers o'er the soul, And gilds with hope the fearful tomb. Though clouds of darkness roll.

From the Dublin Freemar.

American Benevolence-Singular Ship went.-About a fortnight ago we announ ced the arrival in the port of Dublin of the back Express, from New York, with a cargo, consigned to the Society of Friends, for Barrett Daniel a gratuitous distribution among the poor of Ireland. A gentleman connected with our Crans & Brother, office happened to go aboard of her yesterday. In the course of conversation the captain took occasion to show our friend Owens A. P. the bill of lading. It comprised, for instance, several boxes of clothing, one bag of peas, one barrel of puck wheat, half a barrel of fish. &c; but our friend's attention was particularly attracted by the enumeration of one roll of leather, and he was curious enough to ask the captain the history of this singular shipment for the relief of Lutz Levi the famishing Irish.

"That," said Capt. Saunders, "was put Barmoise John on board by a poor cobbler. He works McMurray James at a stell near the wharf in New York, Waller A. B. where my ship lay receiving her cargo. Brady Wm. The day before I sailed, he came alongside | Patchin John and bailed me. . Is this,' said he, . the ship that is taking in provisions for the Patchin John starving Irish? 'Yes,' said I, 'this is the ship. ' Well,' said he, 'I guess I Wright & Graham have something to send. I h'ant any money; and I h'ant any provisions to spare from my wife and eight children; but I Bigler & Co. mean to do something. So there,' said this paper announcing its safe arrival.

We do not presume to advise the very competent consignees as to the best mode of making this generous fellow's shipment available for the 'starving Irish,' but if no better way occurs to them, we will suggest that they offersit for public competition .--We will ourselves at once start the competition by offering for it the price of a barrel of the best American flour in our market. If we succeed in obtaining it, (and this is only our first bid) we shall gladly preserve it as a significant memorial of that kindly sympathy with the sufferings of our people that pervades all classes of citizens in that great republic.

Should our hint be acted on, we offer the use of our columns to all who wish to compete with us.

We regret that Capt. Saunders was not able to inform our friend the name of the kind hearted American cobbler.

Manners. - Always suspect a man who Curwensville, Pennsylvania, affects great soliness of manners, an unraffled evenness of temper, and an enunciation studied, slow, and deliberate. They beapeak a degree of mental discipline, into which he that has no purposes of craft or design to answer, cannot submit to drill himself. The most successful knaves are usually of this description, as smooth as razors dipped in oil, and as sharp. They affect the innocence of the dove, which they have not; in order to hide the cunning of the serpent, which they have.

How to look young .- How is it that All of which they are prepared to sell on some men thought to be so old, still look the most reasonable terms, so young ; whilst others to be so young, must will look so old? The cause lies ve ry frequently within themselves. Mr. medicines. In the spring of 1845 I had an attack of Erysipelm in my face which became very painful, and extended into one of my eyes, being attended with fever, my distress was great and I became to be fearful of losing my oye.

Although not much a believer in what is termad quack medicines, I purchased a box and made appli-cation to my face. To my surprise the pain soon abated and in a week's time I was entirely cured, and I firmly believe it was the salve under Providence that cured me.

From that time to the present I have used the article as occasior, required, and in every case where I have used it, I have found a decided benefit. At one time in going to bod at night, my throat was o soro that I swallowed with difficulty, but by an application of the salve I was relieved before morni I have used it in cases of burns, bruises, sprains and flesh cuts all with the happiest effects, and one case of oisoning by a wild vine in the woods has been dried

THE unprecedented success that have used and been benefitted by them, and of the public generally. In doing so he feels called upon to say that the Indian Vegetable Restorative Pill is decidedly superior to any with which he is acquainted. They combine the properties of many of the best vegetable medicines (used in no other pills) in such a manner as to afford not only immediate and temporary but perma-

The valuable tonics which enter into their composition by their action upon the secretary organs hold in check the purgative principle and induce a gentle and natural operation without inconvenience r pain, and while they restore a natural and healthy action of the stomach, liver and bowels, they increase, instead of diminish, the strength of the patient.

They have been used as a family medicine for years by many of the first respectability—and although they are not recommended to "heal all the ills that flesh is hoir to." yet it has been very rare that it has been found necessary for those using them to employ any other modicine, and their occasional use will almost invariably prove an effectual preventive to discuse. They are exactly adapted to the use of families, travellers and seamon ; they cleanse the blood, causing a tree circulation-oper obstructions and promote the secretion of healthy bile, and consequently are an excellent medicine for Nausen, Indigestion, Nervous Disorders, Dejecion, Liver Complaint, pains in the Head, Side, and Breast, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Urinary obstructions, Ague and Fover, Bilious and Intermit they are within the system.
