From the Washington Union.

Truth and Poetry Combined. We are proud of the honor of laying the following beautiful verses from the pen of a him first he seemed to be just the same man. lady before the readers of the Union.'-They are the noblest specimen of poetry last, which we have read for many a year, and worthy of being placed upon the same towering column on which are inscribed the admirable and popular verses of the late high-minded Francis S. Key, esq., of this

The star spangled banner, long may it wave. O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

They breathe the same patriotic spirit. and are expressed in the same glowing eloquence of the muse. The highly respected and distinguished friend in Pennsylvania wholenclosed them to us, save that they were written for the Union at my request, the simple truth, when told in song, will nid in promoting a proper state of public sentiment in regard to a vigorous prosecution of the war. The song was written by a lady who is as much distinguished for her Christian, piety as she is for her talents as a writer. In days of old, the heart of Pharach was hardened, and he would not let the children of Israel go. In modern times, we have the same madness and hardness of heart. The Mexicans will not let the gallant sons of Texas enjoy that freedom and independence to which they are entitled .-The distiny of tyranny will be the same now that it was in the olden time. There is an overruling Providence in these matters. Those who do not see it now, will see it after a little space of time,'

THE ULTIMATUM.

BY LYDIA JANE PIERSON.

A song on the proposition to surrender to Mexican barbarity and tyranny the land between the Nuc-Alto and Resace de la Palmu.

It may not be! Forbid it, God! dit, all that patriots prize : That land has tasted freemen's blood; Their dust within its bosom lies.

I were madness to resign the soil On which our conquering feet linve trod;
Hattling our way with glorious toil;
It may not be—forbid it, God!

Can we relinquish lands where now The striped and starry banners wave! No, never! We engrave our vow On every fallen brother's grave.

They could not sleep, (the slaughtered brave And feel the footstep of the slave Pollute the soil above their breast. Resign the field where RINGGOLD fell?

The spot where gallant STEVENS lies Where Cochran felt his bosom swell Triumphant in death's agonies? Where brave and virtuous hearts pour'd out

The life so dear to hope and love, invoking with their dying shout Our country-and our God above? No! By our country and our God.

We will not yield that dear bought soil! We still have hearts with generous blood And souls to dare the conqueror's toil. On! To the rescue! Hearts of stee! -On! To the rescue! Souls of fire Let kindred blood inflame our zeal

To conquer-triumph-or expire Huzza! Press on where Taylor stands Invincible in conquering might; We must prevail where he commands,

And God sustains our sacred right. Ack Taylor to retrace his way, And leave his conquest to the fac!

And this broad land, from sea to sea, Shall echo his emphatic NO!! No, never! This is holy ground.

Bought and haptized with patriot blood. See! with her fetters half unbound. She lifts her hands to Freedom's God! By Freedom's God, she shall be free!

Huzza! brave hearts press boldly on : Sirke home, nor pause till victory Shall put her olive garland on — 'Till o'er that land to utmost parts

Our Engle's sheltering wings are spread; And Taylor throned on freemen's hearts Enjoys his laurels in their shade.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

About twelve years ago, a young gentleman, whose name we forbear to mention, residing in an interior county of Kentucky, become smitten—as falling in love is usually termed—with the daughter of a wealthy merchant. His love was requited by the fair and lovely girl, but the young man being poor, without influence, and having nothing to depend upon but his own industry and resolution, his suit was looked upon with a favorless eye by the wealthy father. In a moment of chagrin and disappointment, the proud youth left the home of his childhood-and twelve years rolled by; during which time no word was heard of him. He went to the West Indies, a pennyless adventurer, and one month since returned home, the possessor of an insmense fortune. In the meantime, the fa ther of his beloved had failed, and died a ees and the Rio Grande-the battle fields of Palo poor broken hearted man, leaving his wife sure sign of disease in the system to have cold feet. and daughter dependent upon the cold charful to their youthful vows, and two days long cherished idol to the Hymeneal altar. Philadelphia, 10th mo. 18th, 18th.
To T. B. Peterson No. 98 Chestrat street: Having been requested to give my opinion on the merits of Mc ALISTER'S SALVE I am willing to enumerate some of the benefits which I have experienced in the In the spring of 1845 I had an attack of Erysipelas in my face which became very painful, and extended into one of my eyes, being attended with fever, my distress was great and I became to be tourful of losing my eye. Although not much a believer in what is termed quack medicines, I purchased a box and made application to my face. To my surprise the pain soon abated and in a week's time I was entirely cured, and firmly believe it was the salve under Providence From that time to the present'l have used the article as occasion required, and in every case where have used it, I have found a decided benefit. At one time in going to bed at night, my throat was so sore that I swallowed with difficulty, but by an application of the salve I was relieved before morning.

I have used it in cases of burns, bruises, sprains and lesh cuts all with the happrest effects, and one case of possoning by a wild vine in the woods has been dried ap and cured by a few applications. From my own experience I would strongly recommend it to all, as a cheap convenient medirequires no preparation other than to rub it on the af I have become so partial to it that I expect to keep t constantly in my family.

Though not ambitious to appear in print, yet I can not refuse to have this communication made public if judged best to serve the cause of humanity. Respectfully thine, WM. ADAMS, No. 26 Old York Road.

INDIAN VEGETABLE RESTORATIVE

PILLS

Prepared by Dr. George Bennet, of New York, and for sale by the annexed list of agents in Clearfield

THE unprecedented success that he nttended the use of these pills in the practice of the proprietor for the last his or eight years, has induced him to yield to the importunties of many who have used and been benefitted by them, and make arrangements to place them within the reach of the public generally. In doing so he leels ce to ed upon to any that the Indian Vegetable Restorative Pill is decidedly superlor to any with which he is acquainted. They have been used as a family medicine for years by many of the first respectability-and although they are not recommended to "heal all the ills that flesh is heir to," yet it has been very rure that it has been found necessary for those using them to employ any other medicine, and their occasional use will almost invariably prove an effectual preventive to disease. They are exactly adapted to the use of families, travellers and seamen; they cleanse the blood, causing a tree circulation-open obstructions and promote the secretion of healthy bile, and consequently are an excellent medicine for Nausen, Indigestion, Nervous Disorders, Dejection Liver Complaint, pains in the Head, Side, and Breast, Costiveness, Loss of Appetito, Urinary obstructions, Ague and Fever, Bilious and Intermittent fevers, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Scrofula, and are eminently useful in all temale complaints-and in one word, all discuses arising from unhealthy secretions and impurity of the blood. Numerous testimonials of their efficacy in particular cases, might be added, but the proprietor prefers presenting a few cornficates of their general character, from persons of unquestionable candor and veracity, who would not in any degree lend their influence to promote any thing that is not of decided utility. and rely on their intrinsic merits to gain them a reputation, feeling a most perect confidence that none willabandon their use who give them a fair
