

Emmet vs. Corwin.

From the Eastern Argus.
"Let no man dare, when I am dead, to charge me with dishonor—let no man attempt my memory, by believing that I could have engaged in any cause but that of my country. Let no man write my epitaph."

Such was the noble and patriotic language of that martyr to Irish Liberty, Robert Emmet. In his last moments, he made a burning and eloquent address before his God and the tyrannical "Lord" who sentenced him, which, to this day, causes the heart of every Irishman to beat with indignation against that country which consigned him to an early grave. Willing and proud to die for his country, and his country only, he wished to leave behind him the only legacy he could leave—a reputation for patriotism unstained with suspicion—an untarnished name for love of country and that liberty he sought so ardently to obtain for his brethren.—But knowing that no one who knew his motives could dare vindicate them then, he asked the silence of the world until after ages could do him and his character justice. He desired his tomb to be unlettered with anything but his own humble name, until posterity could engrave thereon a tablet worthy of his memory.

Fix your eye and mind for a moment upon Thomas Corwin. Can he say, in the language of the immortal Emmet, "let no man dare, when I am dead, to charge me with dishonor?" Can he, when his head is white with the age of years, and his limbs tremble with the weight of many winters, claim to have led the life of a true patriot? No! In after years, when the finger of scorn points to him as a traitor to his country, and singles him out as one who declared to our soldiers in a foreign land, that he would neither clothe nor feed them, he will feel that he is detested by all honorable and patriotic men. When he hears the solemn truth cast into the teeth of his children's children, that he denounced our brave volunteers as "Robbers and Murderers," then he will feel that no credit of the true patriot belongs to him.

Can Corwin exclaim: "let no man attempt my memory by believing that I could have engaged in any cause but that of my country?" No! If he did, one thousand voices would arise from the patriot graves, upon the bloody field of Buena Vista, to reproach him for his treachery. The sand hills of Vera Cruz, the heights of Cerro Gordo, the battlements of Contreras would answer: "Your memory shall be attained. You told the Mexicans to 'welcome us with bloody hands to hospitable graves,' half the blame of our dear death's upon your head." Oh, we would not descend to the grave with the sin and treason of Tom Corwin upon our head for one-half the possessions of the entire world. We would not for all the world, that our ancestors had so disgraced themselves and the land that gave them birth.

Should the tomb of Corwin be unlettered? Should his epitaph remain unwritten? No! Let his infamy be known to the country and the people. It is written already—written on the pages of his country's history—written in the records of the United States Senate—written on the minds of the American army and in the hearts of the American people. Upon the white marble of his tomb should be engraved:

HERE LIE THE REMAINS OF THOMAS CORWIN, TRAITOR TO HIS COUNTRY.

PREDICTIONS FOR THIS YEAR.

According to a new almanac, the year of our Lord, 1848, is to be an eventful one. We extract from said almanac the following sagacious predictions, which will doubtless be fulfilled:

Through the whole course of the coming year whenever the moon wanes the night will grow dark. On several occasions, during the year, the sun will set before certain people discover it, and set before they have finished the day's work.

It is quite likely that when there is no business doing many will be heard to complain of hard times, but it is equally certain that all who hang themselves will escape starvation. If bustles and hoops go out of fashion, a church pew will hold more than three ladies. If dandies wear their beards, there will be less work for the barbers, and he who wears mustaches will have something to sneeze at. There will be many eclipses of virtue, some visible, others invisible. Whosoever is in love will think his mistress a perfect angel, and will only find out the truth of his suspicion by getting married. Many delicate ladies, whom no one would suspect, will be kissed without telling their names. There will be more books published than will find purchasers, more bills made than will find payers. If the incumbent of a fat office should die, there will be a dozen feet ready to step into one pair of shoes. If a young lady should happen to bluish, she will be apt to look red, in the face, without the use of paint; if she dream of a young man three nights in succession, it will be a sign of something; if she dream of him four times, or have the toothache, it is, to one she will be a long time in getting either of them out of her head.—Many people will drink more strong liquor than will be necessary to keep them sober, and take more medicine than will be requisite to the enjoyment of good health. Dinners and entertainments will be given to those who have enough at home, and the poor will receive much advice gratis, legal and medical excepted.—The public debts of the repudiating States will hardly be adjusted, and the same fate will very probably attend many private contracts in this latitude. He who marries this year will run a great risk, especially if he does it in a hurry. He who steals a watch, gives tattlers occasion to gossip, and will be apt to involve himself and pride in disagreeable relations. There will be a great noise all over the country when it thunders, and a tremendous dust will be kicked up occasionally by coach horses. Many young ladies, who hope for it, but little expect it, will be married; and many who confidently anticipate that glorious consummation, will be doomed to await another year.

Finally, there exists little doubt, this will be a 'most wonderful' year, surpassing in interest all that have preceded it. Politicians will make fools of others; and many women with pretty faces will make fools of both. The world will go round as usual, and come back to the place whence it set out, as will many a man who engages in business.—There will be great cry and little wool, both at the shearing of pigs, and the meeting of Congress.

McAllister's Ointment.

Insensible Perspiration.

THIS OINTMENT HAS POWER to cure all EXTERNAL SORES SCROFULOUS HUMORS, SKIN DISEASES, POISONOUS WOUNDS, to discharge their purged matters and then heal them. It is rightly termed All-healing, for there is scarcely a disease, external or internal, that it will not benefit. I have used it for the last fourteen years for all diseases of the chest, consumption, liver, involving the utmost danger and responsibility, and I declare before heaven and man, that not in one single case has it failed to benefit, when the patient was within the reach of mortal means.

I have had physicians, learned in the profession, I have had Ministers of the Gospel, Judges of the Bench, Aldermen, and Lawyers, gentlemen of the highest erudition, and multitudes of the poor use it in every variety of way, and there has been but one voice, one united, universal voice, saying, "McAllister, your Ointment is good."

CONSUMPTION. It can hardly be credited that a salve can have any effect upon the lungs, seated as they are within the system. But if placed upon the chest, it penetrates directly to the lungs, separates the poisonous particles that are consuming them and expels them from the system. It is curing persons of consumption continually.

HEADACHE. The Salve has cured persons of the Headache of 12 year's standing, and who had it regularly every week, so that vomiting often took place.

DEAFNESS. Deafness and Ear-Ache are helped with like success.

RHEUMATISM. It removes almost immediately the inflammation and swelling when the pain of course ceases.

COLD FEET. Consumption, Liver Complaint, pains in the chest or side, falling off of the hair, one or the other, always accompanies cold feet. It is a sure sign of disease in the system to have cold feet.

This Ointment is the true remedy for SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHUM, LIVER COMPLAINT, SORE EYES, QUINCY, SORE THROAT, BRONCHITIS, BROKEN OR SORE BREAST, PILES, ALL CHEST DISEASES, SUCH AS ASTHMA, OPRESSION, PAINS, ALSO, SORE LIPS, CHAPPED HANDS, TUMORS, CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS, NERVOUS DISEASES, AND OF THE SPINE. There is no medicine now known so good.

SCALD HEAD. We have cured cases that actually defied every thing known, as well as the ability of fifteen or twenty doctors. One man told us he had spent $500 on his children without any benefit, when a few boxes of the ointment cured them.

BALDNESS. It will restore the hair quicker than any other thing.

BURNS. It is the best thing in the world for Burns. (Read the directions around the box.)

WORMS. It will drive every vestige of them away. (Read the directions around the box.)

CONS. Occasional use of the ointment will always keep corns from growing. People need not be troubled with them if they will use it.

PILES. Thousands are yearly cured by this Ointment.

TETTER. There is nothing better for the cure of Tetter.

JAMES McALLISTER, & Co., Sole proprietors of the above medicine.

CAUTION. "No Ointment will be genuine unless the names of James McAllister or James McAllister & Co. are written with a PEN upon EVERY LABEL." PRICE 25 CENTS PER BOX.

Read the Following Communication,

Received from an old, respected, and well known citizen of Philadelphia, and then judge for yourself.

Philadelphia, 10th mo. 18th, 1846.

To T. B. Peterson No. 98 Chestnut street: Having been requested to give my opinion on the merits of McALLISTER'S SALVE I am willing to enumerate some of the benefits which I have experienced in the use of the article.

In the spring of 1845 I had an attack of Erysipelas in my face which became very painful, and extended into one of my eyes, being attended with fever, my distress was great and I became to be fearful of losing my eye.

Although not much a believer in what is termed quack medicines, I purchased a box and made application to my face. To my surprise the pain soon abated and in a week's time I was entirely cured, and I firmly believe it was the salve under Providence that cured me.

From that time to the present I have used the article as necessary required, and in every case where I have used it, I have found a decided benefit.

At one time in going to bed at night, my throat was so sore that I swallowed with difficulty, but by an application of the salve I was relieved before morning.

I have used it in cases of burns, bruises, sprains and flesh cuts all with the happiest effects, and one case of poisoning by a wild vine in the woods has been dried up and cured by a few applications.

From my own experience I would strongly recommend it to all, as a cheap convenient medicine. It requires no preparation other than to rub it on the afflicted part.

I have become so partial to it that I expect to keep it constantly in my family.

Though not ambitious to appear in print, yet I cannot refuse to have this communication made public if judged best to serve the cause of humanity.

Respectfully, WM. ADAMS, No. 26 Old York Road.

Price 25 cents per box.
