…UCATED MIND IS A NATION'S WEALTH.

…hen we witness the mighty achieve… of art, the locomotive, taking up its …en of a hundred tons, and transport… for hundreds of miles between the … and setting sun; the steamboat cleav… its rapid way, triumphant over wind … tide; the power-loom yielding prod… of greater richness and abundance in …gle day, than all the inhabitants of … could have manufactured in years, … printing press, which could have re…ed the Alexandria library within a …k after it was burnt; the lightning, not …y domesticated in the laboratories of the …ful arts, but employed a messenger be…en distant cities; & galleries of beau…l painting, quickened into life by the …beams—when we see all these marvels … power and celerity, we are prone to …clude that it is to them we are indebt… for the increase of our wealth, and for … progress of our society. But were …re any statistics to show the aggregate …lue of all the thrifty and painful habits … the people at large; the greater pro…ctiveness of the educated than of the …tified labor; the increased power of … intelligent hand and the broader sur… of the intelligent eye—could we see …rger account of the profits which come … forethought, order and syst'm, as …y preside over all our farms, in all our …kshops, and emphatically in all the la…s of our households, we should then …ow how rapidly their gathered units …ell into millions. The skill that strikes … nail's head, instead of the fingers' …ds; the care that mends a fence & saves … corn field; that drives a horse shoe nail … secure both rider and horse; that ex…nguishes a light and saves a house; the …rudence that cuts a coat according to the …cloth; that lays by something for a rainy …day, and that postpones marriage until … reasonably sure of a livelihood; the fore…thought that sees the end from the begin…ning, and reaches it by the direct route … of an hour instead of the circuitous gro…pings of a day; the exact remembrance … impressed upon childhood to do the er…rands as it was bidden; and, more than … all, the economy of virtue over vice; of … restrained over pampered desires—these … things are not set down in the works on … Political Economy; but they have far … more to do with the wealth of nations, … than any laws which aim to regulate the … balance of trade, or any speculations on … capital art. The vast variety of ways in … which an intelligent people surpass a stu… pid one, and an exemplary people an im… moral one, has infinitely more to do with … the well-being of a nation, than soil, or … climate, or even than government itself, … excepting so far as government may prove … to be the patron of intelligence and vir… tue.—Horace Mann.

Mexico and Vera Cruz.—By the …er Heroine, arrived last night (the …rom Vera Cruz, we learn that no …ngrum had assembled at Queretaro; 16 …eputies and 4 senators still being requi…red to enable the Congress to proceed to business.

The trial of the officers and men accused of the late murder and attempt at burglary is still going on.

It seems to be the opinion of all, that a large majority of the new Congress is favorable to peace.

A correspondent says, that during the last few days fron 15 to 20 American soldiers, who had deserted, had arrived at Queretaro, and immediately enlisted in the Mexican army.

FROM THE BRAZOS.—By the arrival of the steamship Fashion from the Brazos on the 30th ult., the Picayune furnishes the following intelligence of the state of affairs in General Price's command:

About the 6th of March, a Mexican lieutenant with a small party, was captured near El Paso; and, upon his information that General Urrea had designs upon that post, Gen. Price proceeded to its relief. The rumor proving false, he determined to advance upon Santa Cruz, where the government trains, with from 1,500 to 2,000 troops, were stationed.—After a fruitless parley of eight days, he assaulted and took the town, under Trias's command, which, having fortified the place, made a gallant resistance. Fourteen pieces of artillery and two thousand stands of small arms were captured. On the 18th, Gen. Price proceeded with his prisoners to Chihuahua, leaving Lieut. Col. Ralls, with orders to follow as soon as practicable. Forty of the officers were

RED & BROWN PILLS.

THE demand for the above medicine in the last 2 or 3 years, is deemed a sufficient apology for placing it now fully before the people; and the diseases for which it is applicable have become so prevalent in this country that a remedy entitled to confidence, is a great desideratum.

The diseases I allude to are Hepatitis, (Liver affection,) Dyspepsia, and female complaints in general.

☞The above pills will be kept constantly for sale by
