A NATIONAL CEMETERY for the brave martyrs who fellat Gettysburg, is urged by many Journals, and the Executives of several States are about to move to accomplish it. Ample room can be procured on the memorable battle-field; and we hope to see the graves of the heroic dead, who fell in defence alike of our homes and our Nationality, bloom with the offerings of a Nation's gratitude on the historic ground where they achieved the life of the Republic as | Sam, if you please-from childhood to manthey fell untimely in the arms of hood, and gnawing away in their old agedeath. Every loyal heart must se- yet silently stabbing the Government by cond so just a tribute to the fallen of the Army of the Potomac.

THE last steamer from Europe brings news of the collapse of the rebel financial bubble. The rebel loan, which was forced up to a clever premtum some time ago, has declined to thirty-five per cent discount, and English rebel financiers have burnt their fingers handsomely.

A SOLDIER'S TRIBUTE.

The following tribute to Gov. Curtin we extract from a private letter written by an officer in the Army of the

I am gratified at the renomination of Gov. Curtin. He has been the most distinguished of the loyal governors; energetic, untiring, undaunted in his devotion to the Union, setting aside for its welfare party prejudices, honoring all whose flag was the banner of the Republic. He has sent more men into the service than any other Governor, and has better cared for the brave men he has enrolled to the field. How could a father pride more in his children than Curtin has in the gallant Pennsylvania soldiers? Which of them has appealed to him unheeded? In victory he has blessed them, in defeat comforted them; after bloody battles visited them, solaced them, saw personally to their proper attention, had them brought home to cared for by relatives whose tender nursing is worth more than all that science can devise to supply its place. His wisdom organized in anticipation a corps—the P. B. V. C. a monument that he can point to with the pride of Sir Cristopher Wren-which saved the capital after the Bull Run disaster, and has done more for the army than any other body in service—and his foresight took in Lee's invasion before our commanders even suspected it possible, and when his energy to meet it was characterized as "Curtin's scare;" and through his tireless efforts Harrisburg, Philadelphia, New York were saved. The soldiers know this, and are all Curtin men. The conduct of the malcontents in the Union Convention was paltry, disloyal in its influence, and doing the duty of "snake-feeders" to the Copperheads. Oh, for the soldier's vote!

WASHINGTON.

The Draft in Washington—Our Correspondent Prafted—Humors of the Conscription—Sufferings of the Secesh—The Contrabands. Correspondence of the Franklin Repository

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 9. I'm drafted, I am by "Hokee?" Well I really supposed a fellow would feel very bad the reflection, that I'm no better than other "mortals" in a like predicament—who would not? Besides, I'm sure the thing was done fair and honestly here. You recollect "old Burns" the blind man, who peddles vinegar and catsup through the various Departments? Well the Provost Marshal selected him as a "drawer" of the prizes from the box-handing them to Capt. Sheets, who sang out the name of the "lucky individual." Many funny things and many funny names came out. Names of persons long since dead -but the "spirit and shades" of them. Some in white and some in black, unable longer to remain in the cold grave, have at last "risen from the dead," to conduct this war to a happy close. Thank Heaven they are come at last-and in Washington too-within striking distance of the "Grand Army of the Potomac." Hear their names. Seven Geo. Washingtons, five Andrew Jacksons, one Napoleon Bonaparte, one Robert Lee, one Hannibal, one Cæsar, one Winfield Scott, one Putnam, and the Lord only knows how many more.

Secesh families in the City have suffered somewhat from this magnificent lottery; not so much as we all prayed for. One rank, rotten family had four of its members drawn; another three; some two, and so on. Many of the Bureaus in the different Departments went in and came out of the lottery-"all shivered and shorn." For instance the Pension office had twenty-four lucky individuals; Gensus, seven; Sixth Auditor, eleven; Provost Marshal's, some twelve, &c. The Printers suffered amazingly-over forty-two in the Government printing office; in the Fun and jolity prevailed throughout the entire drawing. One individual would bet somebody five dollars right or wrong, that he would escape. At last he was taken up, and the money just passed into the hands of the stakeholder, when lo! Capt. Sheets sang out the name of the better. Such a picture of misery and disappointment I have not witnessed for a long time. Suffice to say the crowd laughed, and he cut stick, skedaddled as fast as shoe leather could carry him. Two others drawn sat down and played cards for which should pay for both, and at the conclusion a check was forked over, as coolly as you would hand a chew of tobacco. In the Hall where the drawing took pia-, stands a Step Laure which will hereafter be cause the "fatal ladder," for _ea-ly every one who bounted it got a prize. Over tairly persons e first two days were drawn whilst seaten dit, and in consequence of this a superstith arose, and the last two days of the diving found the ladder always unoccu-

The skedaddling from this city even in May and June, 1861, could hardly surpass that of the past few days. In fact, in order to keep some of the drafted ones here, an embargo, in the shape of a pass system, has been put on, in order to get out of the city.

There is only one thing wrong in the draft of this District. It is this. The poor negro. and the sojourners from the loyal States temporarily stopping here, have all been enrolled and their names put in the box; with the cursed disloyal population, natives of this place, "to the manor born"-those who have been sucking the milk of Uncle, or Aunt, night and by day. Those who you know, as well as I, that there runs not a drop of loyal blood in their veins. Among these have the names of the poor contraband, and free negro, and sojourners been mixed. Consequently the chances of these disloyal persons being drawn is diminished so much so, that almost every third name drawn is a poor negro. Consequently nearly all the quota of the District will be filled by citizens of the loyal States or by "men, of color."

The new song which is all the rage in the Hospitals, and which is beginning to be sung in "First class boarding houses" here, very appropriately too, is-"When this Gruel war is over." Norval.
