DISCOVERY.—At the present time thoughtful minds everywhere are looking for the revelation of new and Important discoveries in science, and when a theory is presented claiming to have discovered new light and to have removed the veil of obscurity from a subject of the highest importance, upon, which much has been seritten, it is proper that the claims of this theory be presented and carefully examined; and tested, which is destined to transcend in Importance to suffering humanity, all other discoveries, the lightning rod and telegraph not excepted. We held that the human system labut a gavanic arrangement, with its adids and alkalish, constituting the positive and negative forces, and that every mental and physical manifestation, selfter voluntary or involuntary, is the result of this antagonism; that digostion, circulation, secretion, and excetton are whilly attributable to the law of electrical 'influences; that the nerver are the conductors of Klectfictry, and that there is a polar action established through the nervous system which connects with every part of the body, establishing and preserving a proper balance of the electric element, which constitutes health; and a disturbance of which ouges disease; that there are strictly but two conditions of disease; that there are strictly but two conditions of disease—the one positive; the other negative; and as Excernicity possesses these two inherent principles, it will, if applied according to the electric polarities and requirements of the system, arrest, or, in other, words, neutrolize the disease by the restoration of proper polar action. We also assert that all drugs taken into the system assert that all drugs taken into the system, all changes are produced either for good or for effit; that in the inclionic stage of disease it may tend to equalize the forces, and restoreharmony; but after the case has become refractory, paralyzing the nervous communication the highest exception of the stomach and its power of approbation, no internal process of medication e On the contrary, ELECTRICITY being the vital elemen

On the contrary, Electricity being the vital element upon which life depends, can, be directed to any part of the body, and even after the vital fauctions seem paralyzed, possesses the power of argising the dormant energies, equalizing the circulation, and the system to a set sust fining system. One very important feature of this treatment is, that no time is lost in experimenting with disease. By means of electrical test an accurate diagnosis is given atonce, determining the locality and confined to the contract of the disease, and indicating the locality and the parameter. "The Cabinet Organ is the only instrument which combines the requisites, for church and parlor music; for the school room and the social feat, as gathering. For while it possesses sufficient power for the accompaniment of a large chorus, it is, from its espablitly of all shades of expression; and its wonderful created and diminucado, most effective as a sole instrument. It is capable of erchestral effects, and rapid music, as trills, arpeggios, sic. From its sustained tones, it has a decided advantage over the Planoforte, for the rendering of many of the choicest morcasux of the masters, such as symphonies, quartettes, etc."
