The Franklin Repository, Chambersburg, Pa.

⁹. HON. HEISTER CLYMER in his speech at Mifflintown became excessively indignant because of "the enormous outrages perpetrated upon that great, good. noble and high-toned man Geo. B. M'Clellan." He forgot to tell his hearers that this "great, good, noble and high toned man" is earnestly desirous for the election of Gov. Curtin.

GEN. LEE has not turned "politician." as demanded by the Richmond Enquarer. and invaded Pennsylvania to plunders her people and make them vote the Copperhead ticket. Hopeless as is his cause, he regards that of the Copperheads still more hopeless, and he falls back in good time to stand from under. Vote for Curtin.

IN 1861, after Slavery had hurled six States out of the Union, Judge Woodward apologized for treason and declared that Slavery "is divinely sanctioned if not di vinely ordained." If so then must the rebellion and this desolating war be divinely sanctioned in behalf of traitors. Vote the Union ticket.

THE candidates for Register and Record er were both soldiers. Capt. McKesson was a Captain in the 77th and was dismissed from the service, and naturally became a copperhead. Sergeant Strickler was in the 126th, lost an arm at Fredericksburg, and was honorably discharged. Vote as you like, but vote for Strickler.

. THE Richmond Enquirer says that "the success of the Democratic party would be no longer doubtful should Lee once more advance on Meade." Do loyal men hear? Do the fathers, sons and brothers of the he-,roje Army of the Potomac seek a triumph at the polls that will nerve the bloody arms of treason ? If not, vote for Curtin.

THE Harrisburg Pa yot and Union says that Col Thes. C. M Dowell has not been connected with that paper for over a year, and adds-" but we feel warranted in saying that his Democracy is unquestionable? Of course it is! We heard him address a Curtin meeting in Philadelphia on Friday evening last.

WE have received several numbers of the Knoxville (Tenn.) Daily Bulletin, printed by J. B. G. Kinsloe, and thoroughly loyal in tone. We welcome it to our exchange list, and long may it bring good tidings to the sorely oppressed Union men of East Tennessee.

THE rebel Maury writes from England that "Vallandigham waits and watches over the border pledged, if elected Governor of Ohio, to array it against Lincoln and the war and go for peace." Woodward and his friends endorse Vallandigham. Vote for the Union ticket.

An address has been issued to the people of Bedford county by the members of Co. F, 8th Reserves, signed by 26 Republicans and 14 Democrats, all the members present, protesting against the election of the Dem ocratic ticket. Will loyal Democrats hearthe brave soldiers? .

THE Age was started a few months ago Glosbrenner, Grund & Welsh. In ninetv

THE triumph of the Peace Democracy in Pennsylvania, says the Richmond Enquirer, would be of more advantage to the cause of treason than the "bloodiest victories." Vote for Curtin.

HON. JAMES M. HOPKINS presided at the great Union meeting at Lancaster on Saturday last. He was the Democratic candidate for Congress against Hon. Thaddeus Stevens recently.

THE Union Convertions of Franklin and Fulton passed the strongest resolutions in. favor of paying all military damages suffered by our people, out of the State Treasury. Vote for Nill and Gray.

THE President has issued a proclamation setting apart the last Thursday of November as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer and Praise. We shall give the proclamation in our next issue.

SERVING a term of faithful and honorable service in the field with our gallant volunteers does not unfit a man for the responsible duties of Assemblyman. Vote for Lieut. Nill.

HORTON voted to refuse the use of the Hall of Representatives to those two old Jackson Democrats, Govs. Johnson and the Union. Vote for Gray.

EVERY position of honor and profit on the Union ticket is awarded to a heroic sol dier, excepting Clerk of the Courts, and that is given to a disabled man. Vote the Union ticket.

the Republic should not vote. The soldiers and soldiers' friends will decide that he then be easy. Vote for Curtin.

THE election of Woodward would fall like the chill of death upon our war-worn veterans in the field who are battling for the preservation of our Nationality. Vote for Curtin.

THE loss of an arm at Fredericksburg by a rebel bullet does not disqualify a man for the duties of Registering wills and Recording deeds. Vote for Sergeant Strickler.

A SHATTERED thigh, the testimony of accountant. Vote for Col. Elder.

Director of the Poor. Vote for Captain Dæbler.

can earn a livelihood either hore or in the stained with our country's righest blood, to dominions of Jefferson Davis'. Vote for the Executive chairs of the States. It will dominions of Jefferson Davis. Vote for Mitchell.

AFTER the traitors had stolen our arms and robbed our mints, Judge Woodward .says-"let the Southern States go in peace." Union men will vote for Curtin.

murder ? Friends: countrymen, it cannot be! CHAMBERSBURG FLOUR AND GRAIN [Prolonged applause.] There can be no peace save over the grave of treason. [Tumultuous applause.] It must die if the Republic would live; and if the Union arms cannot vanquish it in the field, dethrone it in its usurped powers of government, and doom it to infamy and death, then must we despair of the Republic. The issue is so plain that he who runs may read. It stands out in letters of living light, alike in the momentons present and in the chequered history of the past. It is this and this only: this war must be unto death. Treason of the Republic must be doomed to hopeless discomfiture—the future of this continent can belong to but one of them, to curse or bless mankind. [Applause.] If peace were possible by compromise. it would be but the calm of death. The honor, the dignity, the power of government would be gone: and new Buchanans, and Floyds, and Davises, and Reeds would come, in Heaven's just wrath to avenge the deed. [Prolonged applayse.] They have been per-fidious once. Charged with the first posi-tion of honor, they have in perjury conceived this colossal crime against free government, and make every patriot bleed and every household mourn. Their compussioners, to teach us concession, and compromise, and promise us peace, would come with their hands crimsoned with the blood of brave fathers, sons and brothers-crimsoned in causeless, wanton war, and their faith would come blotted and blurred with shameless perjury With these men, who can give us only dishonor and anarchy, we are called upon to compromise, and give the nation peace. Friends, would it be peace? Would its truits e life or death? Would it bring honor or dishonor? There can be but one answer. Wright, because they wanted to speak for | It would bring dishonor and death. Whatever may be the fate of this- Republic it must not die by loyal suicide. [Prolonged checrs].

I do not despair of the Ropublic : it has ample power to preserve its honor and its life; and, by the blessing of God, and the fidelity of a loyal people, I believe it will be exercised. [Cheers.] It cannot be vanquished in an open, manly struggle in the field, or at the polis, but it might be shorn of its locks WOODWARD decided that the soldiers of and stripped of its might by the seductive whispers of faithless friends, and fall in hope less ruins by compromise. There is one certain way to lasting, honor-shall not be Governor. The honors will able peace, with strengthened Union and a nobler Nationality as its fruits. It is a rigarous, veaseless prosecution of this war until treason dies out in submission to the laws! [Prolonged cheers.] Then concede as the vindicated majesty, and magnanimity of a great nation may dictate, but not till then. [Cheers.] Then may a Government be just to the fame of the heroic dead and to the hopeful living, and yet be generous to the mis-guided victims of perjured treachery. Then in its might may it mingle mercy with jus-tice, and make us again the members of a common brotherhood, with a common cause and a common country. [Cheers.] It may not be "the Union as it was.? It cannot be. The martyred dead cannot be called to life: nor can sorrowing hearts be healed. The vacant chairs and broken cirheroism on the battle-field defending the cles will still remain to tell the story of trea-Old Flag. does not incapacitate a man as an son's cruel war. But the dead will sleep in accountant. Vote for Col. Elder. will be cherished with perpetual frestness as A BROKEN arm won in the defence of the live. [Applause.] It will not recall the Republic, will not interfere with duties of Davises, the Toombs, the Slidells, the Masons, the Hunters, the Benjamin-, the Breckinfidges, the Polks, the Rhetts, and like arch traitors to the Senate of the United States. It will not recall the Magofins, the Jacksons, ABLE BODIED, men of doubtful loyalty the Harrises, the Letchers and others now not bring to the Presidential chain a new Buchanan to curse the Nation with mingled imbecility and treachery; nor new Floyds or Thompsons to the Cabinet, to despeil our arsenals and our Treasury. PEACE BY COMPROMISE.

In a late speech delivered by Alex. K. McClure, at Norristown, he thus discussed the question of Peace by Compromise :

Peace by compromise! It would be the death-knell of our liberties-the last dying three of the Republic. [Applause.] With whom and for what are we to compromise? Are we to meet over the graves of our mar-tyred dead, shake hands with the relentless authors of this wide-spread, withering desc-lation, and treat for the life of the Republic ? [Cries of never! never!] Would the man ssaulted with murderous purpose in his home thus treat with the assassin over the mangled. bodies of his household god ? Would the parernor in 1861 sustained the Government ent thus treat with a child that struck with and its holy cause and the cause of our brave deadly aim the fratricidal blow, and make peace by concession to mingled robbery and Pink-Eyes.....
