Gossip With Our Friends.—A gossip has one great advantage in jotting down his thoughts. He is untrammelled by time or circumstance, can let his thoughts run free as air, and can prate of Pompey or Pomp, just as it suits him.

We assume the responsibility of disclosing what cannot always remain a secret—the fact that a board walk is in process of building on the road leading from the north end of our town to Shippensburg.

Wax grey and ghastly, withering are their time. And thy deserve the care and kindness of every lover of humanity and of our country.

No man's abundance is his own. It is the fruits of the beneficence of Him who tempers the winds and saves the bruised reed.

This appeal is to all who are blessed with plenty. Those to whom much is given, let much be required, and let not the mite be withheld.

Should not the flourishing suburb, through which this road passes have a name? Local politics have fastened upon two distinct names.

We notice in Bedford county that the farmers in the vicinity of that town have agreed to bring their contributions of wood, flour, meal, meat, &c., to the poor on the day before Christmas.

ILL-TEMPERED UNDER A MISTAKE.—The Waynesboro Record displays a creditable degree of ill temper because its editor has been notified that the Repository claimed to be the newspaper with the largest circulation in the county.

This simple rule the Record construes into a selfish effort of the Repository to deprive it of advertising, although the same issue contains a large advertisement sent by the publishers of this paper.

Legal notices formerly could be published in one or more papers, as in the judgment of parties was best. Now they must be published in the two having the widest circulation.

LEGAL NOTICE.—A letter was received from J. Porter Brown by his sister last week, dated Castle Thunder, Richmond, November 24th.

FROM RICHMOND.—A letter was received from J. Porter Brown by his sister last week, dated Castle Thunder, Richmond, November 24th.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Directors of the Poor of Franklin county have passed a resolution not to pay any physicians' or other bills contracted with the poor of the county.

MELANCHOLY DEATH.—Mr. Josiah Beasore, one of the most respectable citizens and leading business men of Waynesboro, committed suicide on Sunday last.

There is not a book of inspired teaching that does not remind us of our duty to the Poor; and in the terrible judgment given as the final condemnation of the wicked, is found the burning words—"I was an hungry and ye gave me no meat; I was naked and ye clothed me not."

The coming winter will be one of unusual severity to the Poor. Labor will be scarce, and every article of necessity unprecedently high.

Our barns and storehouses teem with plenty; the producers are commanding extravagant prices for everything; and those prices, the basis of the prosperity of the wealthy, are the harbingers of sorrow to the Poor.

Another class is added to the list of those who justly claim benevolence. These are scores of families in Chambersburg, and more or less in every district in the county.

little there, the waste and abuse will be fearful. The Sanitary Commission Bulletin is sent to every association contributing supplies; to such clergymen and others who wish it to guide their efforts, and its columns contain all necessary information relative to bounties, furloughs, pensions, discharges, and also give the best method of communicating with prisoners in different sections.

IDENTIFIED.—Our readers will remember the incident of a dead and unrecognized Union soldier found on the Gettysburg battlefield with a photograph of three children by his side.

A notice of the dead and unknown soldier with a photograph of the children reached the eye of a soldier's wife in Cattaraugus county, New York.

The widowed mother is left without means to support or educate her children, and it is proposed to sell photographs of the children and apply the profits to the benefit of the family.
