GOSSIP WITH OUR FRIENDS.—It has long been, and is yet, a great wonder to reflective minds that some one has not written an essay upon "Waiting for the train." Psycologically speaking, "waiting for the train" superinduces a state of mind that pathology has striven in vain to comprehend, so far as medical treatment goes. Under delirium tremens, for instance, the nerves become so sensitive that the buzzing of a fly may sound like a hurricane, and the whisper of a tender nurse cause the blood to congeal in one's veins. But "waiting on the train," however, is totally different in its nature. To establish my medical opinion I will give an account of a desperate attack of the above-mentioned disease, from which I suffered last Saturday night. Line, Camden and Amboy; waiting point, foot of Barclay street: time, 7 P. M.; weather, juicy. Walked upon the dock, where there are no accommodations at all for passengers, and asked a Jersey Irishman when the boat would be in. He informed me that no boat had gone out that day on account of the fog, but that a freight boat would probably bring in the passengers at Pier No. 1 (a mile further down.) The Irishman was clever, communicative and affable; offered to take me into the Hoboken ferry house alongside, where I could warm myself without paying the usual three cents, and advised me not to depend upon the boats "at all, at all." I thanked him for his kindness and mentally resolved to use my influence with the company to have him sent to the U. S. Senate in place of Geo. B. M'Clellan, deceased. Walked through four inches of mud to the railroad office, foot of Courtland street, and enquired how the passengers would be likely to come Was there informed that the boat had gone out. "Why," said I, "she has not, for I saw her at the wharf." "Well, then," said the Jersey official, "the passengers will come in by the six o'clock train via Jersey City." "It is after six now," I ventured to remark. "So it is," was the answer. "Now that I come to think of it, they'll most likely come by the eight o'clock train." Hurried over to Jersey City, and made enquiries of the ticket agent there. "Maybe they will, and then again they mayn't," was his answer. I waited in the cold till eight, no train—till nine, no train. Went to the agent again, who told me "that they hadn't been on time lately, and that the ten o'clock came in generally ahead of the eight o'clock train." This was some comfort. Trotted up and down to keep from freezing till ten and a-half, when the train came in with the friend I was looking for—eight hours from Philadelphia to New York. I can not say that the hours were wasted, for I saw much, heard much and thought much during this time. I saw a fight, a real knock down. Some one in the ferry house put a string of fish in a gentleman's lap. The gentleman remonstrated, unreasonably of course,—so the fish owner thought—and words followed, then blows. Need not describe the fight minutely, but I trust my readers will be as much pleased as I was to know that it proved a dear string of fish to the fellow. I heard any amount of swearing, steam whistles, complaints and growls; listened with attention to the refined conversation of a score of hotel runners and hackmen; and learned many valuable statistics of New York, in slices, from sundry dirty-work men. I thought of my wet clothes, damp feet and cramped limbs; and like the man who wrote the burial of Sir John Moore, "bitterly thought of the morrow." In some of the churches, members are admitted on probation. Wouldn't it be a good idea to prove them at the C. & A. R. R. Depot, in Jersey City, and my word for it if they can stand that, they can easily resist the devil and all his works.

Need I say that I regret, that every citizen of Chambersburg regrets, the departure of General Couch and staff from the old town. There is a tinge of sadness about any change, but especially so in this case. We had grown to know and to respect one another. We looked upon the General as a friend and protector, and many of us had formed such acquaintance and intimacy with his staff, as will last our lifetime. May health, success and happiness attend the gentlemen wherever they go!

We have had our second snow, and the little boys have had a merry time of it. The horses and the women, who must be out in all weathers, have not had a merry time of it. The sleighs were out in considerable force, but dear me! the car and omnibus horses have had a terrible time. Broadway is as slippery as glass. In a short promenade, about dusk, I saw horses, men, boys and one lady fall, each one according to his or her instincts. A horse goes down after a little effort, and when down, lies quietly, as much as to say "come and pick me up, somebody, please." A man kicks up one foot and then the other, grabs at the moon, tries to kick off his own hat and then, falls. A boy goes down as though he liked it; but a lady wriggles into a heap like a bundle of old clothes to be picked up by the first member of the human-e society that comes along.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19, 1864.

MILITARY CHANGES.—Headquarters of the Department of the Susquehana—now the Department of Pennsylvania—were removed to Philadelphia several weeks ago, and Maj. Gen. Cadwalader, commanding the Department, has been there since the order of removal was issued. Maj. John S. Shultze, A. A. G. and Capt. F. B. Swerengen A. D. C. remained here until Thursday last to close up the business, when they also left for the new head-quarters. For nearly a year and a half Maj. Shultze has been the Asst. Adjutant General of the Department and on duty at this place, and in all his intercourse with our people, official and social, he has won the highest measure of respect for his courtesy, promptness and eminent soldierly qualities. Capt. Swerengen has been less prominent in his official relations with the people; but he leaves us as widely respected as he was known. Both have gained distinction in the field and bear honorable wounds in vindication of their gallantry. We are glad to know that they will remain connected with the head-quarters of the Department at Philadelphia.

Gen. Ferry is now on duty here as commander of the Juniata District. He is an experienced and well tested military commander, and the members of his staff are well known in our midst. Capt. Johnston and Lieut. Ripley have been on duty here before when Gen. Ferry was engaged on court martial, and we doubt not that they will prove as acceptible to our people as they are efficient in the discharge of thir important trusts on the border.

The following orders explain themselves.

HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF THE SUSQUEHANNA, CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Dec. 1, 1864.—General Orders No. 77.—I. Cumberland, Franklin, Adams and York counties, Pennsylvania, are annexed to the Juniata District.

II. The headquarters of Juniata District will be at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. By order of Maj. Gen. Cadwalder. JNO. S. SHULTZE, A. A. G.

HEADQUARTERS, JUNIATA DISTRICT, CHAMBERSBURG, PA., Dec. 1, 1864.—General Orders, No. 5.—Pursuant to the foregoing Order, I hereby assume command of the forces of the United States in the counties of Cumberland, York, Adams and Franklin. O. S. FERRY,
Brigadier General Commanding.

HEADQUARTERS, JUNIATA DISTRICT, CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Dec. 5, 1864.—General Orders, No. 6.—The following staff officers, at these Headquarters, are announced, and will be obeyed and respected accordingly, viz:—Captain Henry L. Johnson, A. A. G.; Captain John Herr, A. Q. M.; Captain Calvin Gilbert, C. S.; Lieut. George C. Ripley, A. D. C., and A. A. A. G.

In the temporary absence of Captain Henry L. Johnson, A. A. G., communications to these Headquarters will be addressed to Lieut. George C. Ripley, A. A. G.
O. S. FERRY, Brig. Gen. Com.

CORRECTION OF ENROLMENTS.—It would be well for the people of every enrolment district to see at once to the correction of their lists. It is difficult to do it in the little time that can be allowed when a draft is ordered and about to be made; but now the officers have more time and can give it that attention its importance demands. Besides if not corrected before the quotas are fixed it is always difficult to get a correction, as it must be made by the Provost Marshal General at Washington, while the District Provost Marshal is competent to correct enrolments under the instructions of the authorities at Washington. We doubt not that the enrolment in every district in this County is very imperfect, and the errors are generally of such a character as count against the people in making up quotas. Every man who has moved from the district since the enrolment was made; every one since dead; every one since enlisted in the service; together with those over or under age, and aliens—all should be ascertained by a competent and energetic committee, and the proper proofs procured and presented to Capt. Eyster, who will at once strike their names from the list, and thus lessen the quotas. Any one enrolled also who suffer from "manifest physical disability" may be stricken off; but when at all possible such claimants for exemption should appear before the board—as they can now do at any time—and be examined and discharged. Persons claiming exemption on the grounds of alienage, over or under age, or having been two years in service, should also appear before the board in person. True they can be exempted after they are drafted; but their names remaining on the lists when the quota is ascertained imposes unjust burdens upon their districts. The local committees should see that all such cases appear before Capt. Eyster at an early day. A copy of the enrollment of any district will be furnished by Capt. Eyster to any authorized committee of the citizens—not to individuals. The Board will shortly visit the several counties and sit at the county seats to correct the enrolments; but committees from any county need not wait for the appearance of the Board in their midst. The Board is making an earnest and faithful effort to do justice to all the districts in this matter, and if they are but seconded properly by the people, who have the greatest interest in the matter—no injustice will be done any district when the quotas for any future call are awarded.

WAR INSURANCE.—A new feature is about to be introduced in the border counties, in the shape of insurances against depredations by the enemy. This is common in marine insurances. Scarcely a merchant vessel goes to sea that is not insured by the owners against the rebel cruisers; but the insurance of buildings, &c., against the enemy has not been widely adopted. In our advertising columns to-day will be found the card of the Phœnix Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn, proffering war risks through Chas. H. Taylor, Esq., the agent in this place, and we commend it to public favor. We made very careful inquiry into the character of the company, and were so fully satisfied of its integrity and solvency that we had a war risk issued covering the REPOSITORY office, so if our particular friend Gen. M'Causland calls this way again and concludes to clean out or burn up the REPOSITORY, he may as well understand in advance that his vengeance will fall elsewhere than upon its proprietors. This character of insurance is necessarily costly; but as the war is not likely to last very long, owners of valuable property would do well to take such risks by the year. The usual price is about ten per cent. per annum.

ANOTHER SOLDIER GONE.—Mr. John M. Ross, of Co. B. 190th Reg. P. V. died in Waynesboro,' on the 12th inst., of Chronic Diarrhea, aged 22 years, 7 months and 17 days. The deceased was taken prisoner in front of Petersburg on the 19th of August and was paroled in October. He served three years with the Pennsylvania Reserves and afterward re-enlisted. He was a good soldier.

REV. SAMUEL J. NICCOLLS preached his farewell sermon to the Presbyterian congregation of this place on Sunday a week, and on Thursday last left for his new charge in St. Louis. It was an address of touching pathos and eloquence, and his hearers manifested the liveliest regret at his parting words. There have at yet been no candidates named for the succession.

GENEROUS MOVEMENT.—We learn that Mr. Samuel Gsell, and other citizens of the southern portion of the county, are making arrangements to furnish a quantity of wood at Greencastle for the sufferers of Chambersburg, free of charge, and the Railroad will transport it at actual cost. We can assure all who mean to participate in this generosity, that there is here a wide field for their beneficence.

THE PENNSYLVANIA IMPERIAL OIL COMPANY is one of the most substantially organized Oil corporations now in the market. It has energetic, competent and reliable business men managing it, and it is their purpose to prosecute the development of the vast wealth of the Company's lands promptly and thoroughly.

It is organized on a certain basis to pay dividends from the start. Its revenues from the Oil alone are more than twelve per cent. per annum on the entire capital; and new wells are about to be sunk on lease, without cost to the Company, and one-half the proceeds will belong to the Company.

In addition the valuable Real Estate owned by the Company immediately opposite Oil City will be put in market at once, reserving the Oil right, and a revenue of $100,000 will be derived from that source the first year—ten per cent. on the entire capital stock.

The Company has $250,000 of its own capital in reserve belonging to the Stockholders, and taking it altogether its resources for certain dividends are not approached by any other Oil stock now in the market at even double the original cost.

Subscriptions will be received for a few days by M'Clure & Stoner, M'Lellan & Kimmell, Geo. R. Messersmith, J. M'D. Sharpe, Geo. W. Brewer, D. O. Gehr, John Stewart, T. Jeff. Nill, Wm. S. Everett and Wm. G. Reed.

A GRATIFYING FACT.—That amid all the ruin and desolation in our town, energy and enterprise is yet apparent on all sides—between eighty and one hundred buildings have been completed, or, are in course of construction; our merchants, not at all disheartened by their loss, are again driving ahead with large stocks of goods. EYSTER & BRO., who are down among the ruins in their warehouse, immediately back of their old store room, are doing a rushing business; crowds are constantly coming and going from the Store. The fact of their selling their goods a little lower than their neighbors is said to be the cause of this rush. We would advise all who want to purchase Dry Goods to give them a call before purchasing elsewhere. They have just received a new assortment, being the third stock this fall. They are also in receipt of a good assortment of Furs; which they are rushing off at low prices.

DYSPEPSIA.—What every body says must be true. We have heard Dr. Strickland's Tonic spoken of so frequently by those who have been benefited by it, that at last we are compelled to make it known to the public that we really believe it effects a cure in every case; therefore, we say to those who are suffering with Dispepsia or Nervous Debility, to go to their Druggest and get a bottle of Dr. Strickland's Tonic.

VALUABLE AND CONVENIENT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are widely known as an admirable remedy for Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Coughs, and other troubles of the throat and lungs. They are of great value for the purposes for which they are designed, and it should be known that while they are usually and pleasantly efficacious, they contain no hurtful ingredients, but may at all times be used with perfect safety.—Boston Recorder.

ANODYNE CORDIAL, the Mother's Friend and Child's Relief.—This valuable medicine is again for sale at MILLER'S NEW DRUG STORE, next door west of Brown's Hotel. It is far superior to all Soothing Syrups, or any other preparation for children in Teething, Cholic, Diarrhea, or inward pains.

SALMON P. CHASE has been appointed Chief Justice by President Lincoln, and confirmed by the Senate unanimously, while the people of Chambersburg and vicinity, receive credit for their just appreciation of C. H. Cressler's elegant assortment of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumery, &c.

GELWICKS & BURKHART have opened out in their new rooms on Second Street. They sell wholesale and retail. Country merchants look to your interest.—You can buy as cheap from them as you can in the city.

GELWICKS & BURKHART sell the best Kerosene Oil, wholesale and retail. Also, Lamps, Wicks and Globes, very cheap.

GO TO Gelwicks & Burkhart for pure home ground Pepper, pure Spices, fresh Teas, fine Cheese and the best Crackers of all kinds.

WE call the attention of business men to the valuable lot of ground on the Diamond, offered for sale by A. J. Miller.

GELWICKS & BURKHART keep the largest stock of goods in town, and sell cheap wholesale and retail.

The Koontz and Coffroth Case—Mr. Meredith Decides that Neither can be Proclaimed.

Special Dispatch to the Franklin Repository.
HARRISBURG, Dec. 20, 1864.

Attorney General Meredith has filed an opinion in the case of Koontz and Coffroth from your Congressional district, deciding that neither has been regularly returned, and both must be omitted in the Governor's Proclamation M.

MR. FULTON, editor of the Baltimore American, visited the Armies of the Potomac and James recently, and says of the extent of our works:

"The defence line of General Butler extends across from the Appomattox to the James at Dutch Gap, and thence inland, almost flanking Fort Darling. The length of these works is not less than fifteen miles, formed of a line of heavy earthworks about five feet high, interspersed every five or six hundred yards with heavy fortifications, and faced with strong abatis inside of the picket and vidette stations. Then there are inner lines of works supporting the outer lines, so that the whole line of breastworks and fortifications, from Gen. Meade's extreme left to General Butler's extreme right, is not less than thirty-five miles, and, taking the sinuosities and the supporting lines into consideration, the whole works would measure nearly one hundred miles in length."
