Many curious reports have been made on elections... At an election recently held in Austin, Tex. bet with a Dr. Herrick, the winner consisting of a sack of flour...

SOME fifteen thousand women of Seecession, who say they are the mothers, sisters, wives and daughters of the rebels...

PARADE OF BOUNTY JUMPERS—An Indianapolis paper gives the following description of a parade of bounty jumpers in that city a few days since:

There were about a hundred and fifty in this squad of 'regulars' handcuffed together by each with a long rope running between each two through the entire length of the line...

SHERMAN'S GEORGIA MARCH—A letter from Sherman's army says that he has not yet adequately described the scenes of the march through Georgia...

EARLY DESCRIPTIONS OF OIL SPRINGS.—The following passages, copied from the Massachusetts Magazine, for July, 1792, may interest those who have struck, or are expecting to strike...

IN the northern parts of Pennsylvania there is a creek called Oil Creek, which empties itself into the Allegheny river...

THE MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGAN.—With your eyes shut, you cannot distinguish its sound from that of the organ...

REMOVAL OF QUAKERS FROM NORTH CAROLINA.—The disadvantages experienced by Friends in North Carolina, from residing in the midst of the deleterious influences of slavery...

WHO TAKE OIL PETROLEUM.—Petroleum is shipped to almost every commercial port in Europe. Great Britain is the largest consumer...

EXTENSIVE DISCOVERIES OF SILVER.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office has received intelligence of the discovery of rich and extensive silver mines in Washington Territory...

HIDDEN TREASURES.—The rich rebels who read the 'March' through Georgia, had instances of their valuable, which often were buried by the inquisitive Yankees...

There was despair in the tones and in the anguished face raised to his, but the old man's heart was not so easily moved...

"Oh, sir! Is there truly no other way?" "I tell you no, there isn't; and a pretty question to ask at this time of day, and of me, who am so poor and so poor a man...

"God help me!" the poor young widow moaned as she turned away from the door...

Truly there seemed to be no help for her. Reared in luxury, and taught to useful things, now too feeble in her broken health to put such knowledge to use...

She awoke one morning to find little Charley dead in his arms, and she was alone in the world...

She had yielded all her life to wills stronger than her own, and she was now alone in the world...

The morning had arrived and the servants, charged by Mr. Hiram, to take the bath, came to announce to Corn that she must prepare herself for the ceremony...

Standing before her mirror arranging the beautiful hair that had been Charley's admiration and delight, she saw the gate, and came slowly up the avenue...

There was an outside appearance of firmness and calmness, but the meaning of Corn's face and her children were preparing to leave their home...

What was her surprise then, when approached by the lawyer, to find that the man whose heart she had loved, and whose name she had borne...

One cry of terror burst from her lips, followed, almost immediately, by another...

The Savannah Republican, of the 29th ult., contains the proceedings of a public meeting called by the Mayor and a large number of influential citizens...

That we do not put ourselves in the position of a conquered city asking terms of a conqueror...

AN EPIGRAM ON REV. JACOB GRUBER.—Your recent editorial allusion to the late Rev. Jacob Gruber, of the Baltimore Conference...

"And you had instructed him to give up the bonds and deeds, placed in his hands for security to my lawyer," answered Charley...

But he was not ready to relinquish the coveted prize quite so easily. He had determined that Corn should be his wife, and had indeed displayed an unwonted generosity...

He possessed, however, the idea too common among persons not endowed with delicate perceptions, or refined ideas...

But he was not ready to relinquish the coveted prize quite so easily. He had determined that Corn should be his wife...
