GOSSIP WITH OUR FRIENDS .-- A lady of re finement sent me the following morceau, with the request to publish it, adding that she hoped it would "do some good:" "My husband slept—he dreamed a pleasing dream, For sunny smiles across his face did beam: He dreamt of me, for oft he murmured "Pet!"-I pressed him to my heart, close, closer yet, To drink into my ear the precious word-Alas, it was PET-ro-le-um I heard!"

It will "do good," though perhaps not in the way our esteemed correspondent supposes. We have had wretched weather lately, and if any of our friends visit us, we advise them to bring along water-proof boots and overcoat, and a large amount of patience. Saw a sprucely dressed gentleman fall this morning in full three inches of thick tarry mud. He looked like a stranger, unused to the uncertain character of New York mud or morals; and as his feet went up and his body down; he extended his hands into vain space so absolutely despairingly that-I laughed, though I had soul enough to turn away. To see his eyes cast upwards "into alien skies" was a sad warning to each passer by, us to what might be his own fate before night.

I have a piece of news that will place the RE-POSITORY in advance of all or any of the New York dailies. I actually saw two omnibus horses start off of themselves. I implored the driver, who came running up, to inform me with regard to the pedigree, age, etc., of his horses, but he only awore at me. I told him I was a public character, that I was a votary of science, that the world was interested in the questions I had propounded, in fine that I was an editor of the FRANKLIN REPOSITORY, Chambersburg, Pa. but the fellow only swore the more, and indeed spoke in a very flippant and irreverent manuer of our Paper. But then what can one expect from an omnibus driver!

I paid a very pleasant visit to the Five Point House of Industry, formerly under charge of Mr. Pease, and now conducted by Mr. Halliday. The good done by this institution is perfectly marvellous, and the House of Industry is fully as efficient as it ever was in Mr. Pesse's time. While there I saw an old gentleman, who had been shown around the establishment, sit down and write of cheque, to show that he was pleased. Mr. Halliday seems to be the right man in the right place. I was very much interested in looking over a collection of cartes de risite of some of the poor children belonging to the house-the plan being to have the portrait taken when the child first arrives, and then after he has been fed and clothed. It is not entirely a house of charity, for many parents keep their children there, on payment of so much per week, sometimes because of one of the parents being dead, or on account of absence. For instance, I met a fine looking sailor, belonging to one of our gunboats, who had come to see his children whom he had placed in Mr. Halliday's care, while he serves his country wherever he may be sent. He knows that he leaves his darlings in safe hands. A little German child was toddling about my chair, who, I was informed, was one of three children who had been deserted by their father, leaving the mother to earn ber living as best she could by scrubbing out a lager beer saloon, in Greenwich street. The poor woman had struggled long and well to support her family, but was at last obliged to give this one little fellow to Mr. Halliday. You must know that the transfer of a a child to the House of Industry is done formally and according to law, in such a manner that the parent has no further control of the child. It is sometimes an agony for the poor mother, and she seldom decides till famine and want compel her. This little fellow had learned two English words, and his eyes brightened as he pronounced them for me_"Hean soup." A little fellow named "Jack" was passing through the room. He was not a boarder, only a scholar. Jack was called on to make a bow! He placed the palms of his hands together in front of his breast, and inclined his curly head till it almost touched his ragged knees. Jack's pants were torn from his ancie to his waist, which made his oriental manners quite ther was a miserable drunkard, and had already sold the little fellow's clothes three times for rum. She strips and beats and starves him, and yet he loves his home and his inhuman mother. These children, so far as practicable, are provided with situations in different parts of the country. What a change for these pour out-casts, to get into some

"in going about doing good." In the best spirit imaginable I express a pro found hope that in a year or two the Devil of the REPOSITORY may grow up to be able to read my writing, for at the present year, 1865, he makes some hard work of my cacography. How do you think Byron would have liked his Maid of Athens to commence thus:

decent, comfortable home, from the fifth and wickedness of the kennels of New York. O there are many, many good and noble men and women in this great city who spend nearly all their time

"Majol of Athens eve ne past (Maid of Athens ere we part) Gin ole gin nie bask nug heart (Give, oh give me back my heart.") NEW YORK, March 11, 1865.

GRADUATED .- The name of John B. Lindsay, of this place, appears in the list of graduates of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. He commenced his course in the Drug Store of Mr. Wm. Heyser, of this place, afterwards was in the Drug Store of Frederick Brown, of Philadelphia, and after this thorough preparation entered this college, where he graduated a short time since with honor to himself. Mr. Lindsay has spared no means to qualify himself thoroughly for the busi ness he has chosen, and from his exemplary char. acter and industrious habits, we can well predict a life of usefulness and success to him.

We notice with pleasure the name of S. S. Huber among the long list of graduates at the commencement, held the 10th inst., of Jefferson Medical College, of Philadelphia. Mr. Huber took his preparatory course under the instruction of Dr. A. H. Senseny, of this place. It is but little more than three years since he commenced his studies, and by close attention to his profession he has in that short space graduated with honor. We wish the Doctor abundant success in his pro fession.

INSTALLATION OF REV. S. J. NICCOLLS.+On Sunday evening, March 4th, Rov. S. J. Niccolls, late paster of the Presbyterian Church of this place, was installed paster of the second Presbyterion Church of St. Louis, Mo. We learn from a St. Louis paper that a large concourse of people attended the services, which were very solemn and impressive. The installation sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Lord, of Chicago, and was an able; logical and eloquent discourse, admirably smited to the occasion. The constitutional ques tions were propounded to the paster and people by Rev. Mr. Page, who afterwards delivered an excellent charge to the installed pastor, and was followed by a similar address to the church and congregation by Rev. Mr. Coe. The new pastor has already won the confidence and affection of his people by his unaffected but carnest piety, coupled with the manners and address of a Christian gentleman. These characteristics combined with distinguished ability as a pulpit orator, seem to fit him for the wide field of usefulness opened in this church.

FINANCE AND TRADE

The noticeable feature of trade during the last eek was the steady decline of gold, which rece ded to 185, and was quoted at 184 yesterday. This decline is attributable to several causes. The success of our arms at various points, and the bright promise of early and decisive success in the movements centering on Richmond, have been the strongest element in depressing gold; but the avowed policy of the new Secretary, and his increased resorces by the capture of large quantities of rebel cotton, render dabbling in gold most precarious. In an address to the subordinates of the Treasury when about to assume the charge of the Finances, Mr. McCulloch said:

My chief aim will of course be to provide the means to discharge the claims upon the Treasury at the earliest day practicable, and to institute measures to bring the business of the country gradually back to the specie basis, a departure from which, although for the time being a necessity, is no less dangerous and demoralizing to the people the expensive to the Government.

Mr. M'Culloch can attempt a gradual return to specie basis only by a contraction of the currency and an increase of the volume of gold. To this end the captured cotton will probably be sent to Europe to bring the precious metal to our shores and he will doubtless attempt to restrict the currency as rapidly as possible. How far he will be able to succeed, time must determine. To main-tain the credit of this government in the prosecution of a war new costing not less than four millions per day, Mr. M'Culloch must rely entirely upon the sale of 7-30 bonds; and in addition to current expenses, he has between two and three hundred millions of unpaid requisitions on his table. As long as there is a great volume of currency in the country, investments will be made

Mr. M'Culloch begins to cancel his legal tender notes as he gets them in for bonds, the sale of his securities will begin to diminish; and whenever there comes a pressure in the money market the sale of government bonds will cease. Mr. Mc Culloch's idea of restriction, therefore, is at pres ent simply impossible nuless he would out off his own resources and bring about a contraction with its evils only to be followed by a greater expansion. Just now the credit of the government is good-the honds are selling freely; but if, without a reduction of actual/expenditures, a contraction is attempted, the government credit will suffer seriously, and 7-30's will become a circulating medium among the people, while the government will be compelled to eximust itself needlessly to recover from its own blunder. While the expense of the war is increasing rather than dimin shing, better let well enough alone. When the war shall cease, or diminish in its proportions, then can contraction be enforced without detriment to trade or the government; but not till then. All securities excepting government and Oil Stocks, sympathized with the decline of gold.-The operations in Oil seem to increase daily, and stock in new and old companies are sought for with singular avidity.

Mr. Wm! H. McDowell, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Imperial Oil Company, has been here for severals days, and gives a most flattering account of the value of the lands of the company Over fifty wells will be sunk for the company during the early part of the summer, and on lauds which have already proved most productive. The Sterling stock has been quickened by the developments on Cherry Tree Run, where a large well has just been struck, establishing the value of that hitherto untested section. Both the Imperial and Sterling have lands in fee on Cherry Tree Run, and the existence of Oil there in large quantities is clearly established. The Sterling is ow sinking five wells on Cherry Run, and will at once develope on Cherry Tree Run.

We learn that Messrs. Gehr and Sharpe, who went to Pittaburg to look into the Pittaburg and Cherry Run Company, are satisfied that the stock under judicious management must be a good investment. The well sold by the company was sold for all it was worth, and the land sold with it brought a large increase to the company; but we understand that the officers contemplate purchasing again with a portion of the funds, instead of dividing it among the stockholders. Directors have no authority to buy and sell real estate with out the express consent of the stockholders, and the sooner they are restrained the better. The remaining lands of the company are confessedly valuable.

A considerable amount of Sheridan and Cherry Run stock was taken in this section, and the books will close shortly. Persons who wish to invest in government 7-30's should do so promptly. Those on sale now are convertible into gold-bearing six per cent. bonds at maturity, while the new $600,000,000 authorized by the late bill, are not convertible intogold securities. The government has resolved not to issue any more gold securities of any kind. The National Bank of Chambersburg can supply these securities

SHAL, SIXTENNIH DISTRICT PENNA, Chambers urg, March 10th, 1865.
The following Opinion of the Attorney General of the inited States is jublished for the information of the people of this District.

GEO. EYSTER.

Capt. and Pro. Mar. 16th Dist. Penna. OPINION.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, February 9, 1865.

Sin: In your letter of the 28th January, you ask my, opinion on the legal points presented in the letter of Governor A. G. Curtin, to you, of date the 25th January.

Governor Curtin's letter is in relation to the construction of the Act of Congress, approved 3d March, 1853, commonly called the Enrolment Act. He insists—
1st. That the words "period of service," since the commencement of the rebellion, as used in the 12th section of the Act, do not require the President, in assigning the quotas to the several States to take into consideration the whole term of enlistment of the volunteer and militia man; and whole term or emissional of the Act of the 3d of March, 1863, and 2d. That that part of the Act of the 3d of March, 1863, which makes the period of service an element in the calculation necessary to determine the number of men due from a State, district, county, or town, has been repeated by the 2d section of the Act amountarry of the Enrollment Act, approved 24th Februarry, 1863.

It will be more convenient to consider these questions in the reverse order, inasmuch as if ft shall be found that the repeal has been made, as contended for, the first point made by the Governor need not be considered.

The great objects of the Enrolment Act are:
1st. To declare who shall constitute the national forces; and

nd. To organize a plan by which the national forces car 2d. To orgenize a plan by which the national forces can be made available.

Subordinate to the purpose of raising and organizing the national forces, the plan adopted by Congress shows a desire that the draft upon the industrial population of this several. States, and the communities thereof, should be equalized as nearly as practicable.

By the 4th section of the Act of the 3d of March, 1863, the United States is divided into districts, of which the District of Columbia shall constitute one, each Territory of the United States shall constitute one or more, as the President shall direct, and each of the rospective States as fixed by a law of the State next preceding the enrolment, shall constitute one. The $\frac{1}{2}\text{the enrolled States as fixed by a law of the State next preceding the enrolment, shall constitute one. The $\frac{1}{2}\text{the section provides, that there shall be a Board of Enrolment in each District. By the 5th section, it is provided, that if the Board of Eurolment shall deem if necessary, a District may be divided into two, and, with the assent of the Secretary of War, into any greater number of Sub-divisions, By the 12th section, it is made the duty of the President, in assigning to the Districts are situated, and the period of their service since the commencement of the present repetition; and shall so make storments of the present repetition; and shall so make storments are accusive.

in assigning to the Districts the number of men to be furnished therefrom, to take into consideration the number of volunteers and militin furnished by and from the several States in which said Districts are situated, and the period of their service since the commencement of the present rebellion; and shall so make said assignment as to equalize the numbers analog the Districts, considering and allowing for the numbers already furnished as aforesaid, and the time of their service.

It is evident, from the face of this Act, that the several States and Districts had furnished a number of volunteers and militia, and for periods of service.

The first duty of the President was to have the national forces curolled; his next duty was to ascertain what number of volunteers and militia had been furnished from the several States, and the periods of their service since the commencement of the present rebedien; and then, from what Districts in the several States they came, that he might equalize the numbers among the Districts of the several States, considering and allowing for the numbers already furnished as aforesaid, and the time of their service. Under the Act of the 3d of March, 1863, it is plain that he had no right and power to cut up a District into counties, townships, precursts or wards, in order to equalize the drift therein. The authority given in the 9th section to sub-divide a District was for the purpose of facilitating or expediting the enrolment, and with no reference to equalization. It might, and doubtless did happen in many Districts, that one well defined, had farmished few or none, thereby making a draft upon the District necessary; and yet, under the Act, it was not in the power of the President to make the draft otherwise than equal over the whole District. This was unjust and oppressive. In order to certer this flagram hardship and injustice, Congress, by the 2d section of the Act of 24th February, 1884, and which is in amendment of the Act of 3d March, 1863, declared that the quota of each ward section of the original Act—he must take into consideration the period of service; and yet, under the construction insisted upon, when he comes to equalize the draft, as antenzized to do by the amended Act, in the Districts, he must be controlled by simple numbers. It cannot be that Congress intended one mode of count for the States and Districts and a different and wholly inconsistent one for the Sub-divisions of Districts. Inextricable confusion would result.

the Sub-divisions of Districts. Inextricable confusion would result.

From the language used in various parts of the amendatory act it is evident that Congress did not intend to disturb the mode of count prescribed in the original act. For instance, in the 8th section of the amendatory act, it is said that the town, ward, or township; shall be credited by his scrites, and in the 7th section, "the period for which he shall have been enlisted," and "the period for which he shall have been drafted," all going to show that time of service was held to be an element in the count.

Nor do I think that the argament in favor of the repeal is aided by the language of the let section of the act, entitled "An act further to regulate and provide for the calling out the national forces," approved 4th July, 1864. The act says, that "any such volunter, or in case of draft, as hereinafter provided, any substitute, shall be credited to the town," &c. Congress meant that the credit should be given according to the mode of count prescribed in the set of 6th March, 1863.

The whole purpose of the 2d section of the amendatory structs are which the Decident accounting to the deal.

act says, that "any such volunteer, or in case of draft, as hereinafter provided, any substitute, shall be credited to the town," & C. Congress meant that the credit should be given according to the mode of count prescribed in the set of 3d March, 1863.

The whole purpose of the 2d section of the amendatory act was to enable the President to equalize the draft in the soveral districts, surely not to have one mode of count in ascertaining the quotas of the several States and districts, and another mode for equalizing the districts. Besides, it is hardly to be considered that Congress would thus incidentally strikefrom so important a statute a feature so prominent and equilable.

I am, therefore, of the opinion that the mode of ascertaning and assigning to States and districts their respective quotas, as pre-cribed in the 12th section of the act of the 3d July, 1803, is not repealed, and that the same mode must be pursued in equalizing the draft anteng the subdivisions of each district.

Next comes the question, what is the mode of count prescribed in the 12th section of the act of 3d March, 1863?

It is very plain that Congress reparted that a consideration of the period of service as well as for the man. Congress has fixed various periods of service, and States and districts, and fractions of districts, had firmished men-for those periods of service, and States and districts, and fractions of districts, had firmished men-for those proper to state, that it is insisted that the words "period of time" and 'time of service," as used in the 12th section of the act of March 3, 1863, mean something different from term of service. It seems to me that the phrases mean one and the same thing when the square proceeding to answer the question, it may be proper to state, that it is insisted that the words "period of time" and torn, both occur in after parts of the acts now under consideration. In the 18th section of the act of 1803, the term of service, as smalphing. When "the word pre-and term, both occur in after parts of
