GOSSIP WITH OUR FRIENDS.—I wish I had the ability to describe in becoming language the incidents of the past week in New York, particularly from Monday till Wednesday. All day and all night of Tuesday two long lines, four deep, extended far away from the City Hall, where the remains of our loved President reposed in state. Immediately about the Hall was packed a solid mass of thousands of men, women and children. Carts, stages and vehicles of all descriptions were stopped, and it was only by making a long detour that pedestrians could get past the crowd. All business was entirely suspended there, not being a desire to attend to the usual avocations of life. People patiently awaited their turn for hours, and there did not seem to be even a show of impatience from any one. As we had fallen upon the multitude, and a solemnity pervaded the vast assembly that death could only produce. There was no confusion, no excitement, no struggling. At quite an early hour on Wednesday morning, the cars and ferry boats began to empty into the city crowds of people from the suburbs and the surrounding towns and cities, and by ten o'clock Broadway was lined from the Park up to a dense mass. I had sufficient foresight to hire a coach the night before, and from the top of it, stationed at a cross street, had a fine opportunity to see the funeral cortege as it passed. I have seen crowds, but never such a one as on that day. There was positively room for no more to see, and as it was many could not see at all. From house to house was a solid body, so compact that there appeared to be no individual movement. The ladies have spent all their powers in noting the procession. Enough for me to say that its magnificence and extent surpassed all I could have imagined. New York paid all the honor she could pay to the dead President; and when we recall to mind the immense majority given Geo. B. McClellan, and the opposition to the administration, the honor seems all the greater. The soldiers, horse, foot and artillery, the sailors and marines, the societies of all kinds, the various nationalities, the foreign officials, all seemed to vie with one another to do honor to the mournful occasion. And then the lookers on were so quiet, so solemn. As the funeral car approached, each citizen took off his hat, and bowed in reverence, and it was not until it had fairly passed that he replaced it, and that too with the air of one standing in a sacred place. The day was bright and beautiful, the air balmy and exhilarating, but a cloud hung over the hearts of the true and honest though like a pall. I gazed at the passing pageant until my brain was almost dizzy, and then left from their inability to look any longer. It will be a day long remembered in New York.

GARDEN SEEDS.—A great deal of labor and care is bestowed on the business of raising and planting garden seeds. This can be avoided by getting fresh and genuine seeds, raised in Pennsylvania, and sent by express to the customer. The seeds are of the best quality, and are sold at the lowest prices. LIET. COL. CONGER sent Garrett's son into the barn to let the fugitives to surrender to him their arms, and come out deliver themselves up. Booth threatened him, saying that he had betrayed them, and he must leave the barn. Liet. Col. Conger then went to the door and demanded them to surrender, upon which a long parley ensued, Booth positively refusing.

FINANCE AND TRADE.—The surrender of Johnston to Sherman and the destruction of the last vestige of military power of treason east of the Mississippi, did not effect securities materially. Gold receded to 144 and the upward tendency of stocks was arrested for a few days, but no sensible change in prices was effected. We have now reached a point when military events must cease to influence trade, and business men can calculate with reasonable certainty as to their operations. We look for a rapid revival of trade, and very likely a strong speculative tendency.

REBEL NEWS. BY TUESDAY'S MAILS. Rebel News Webb Bloom. The steamer Mississippi, from New Orleans, reports that the rebel Gen. Webb passed New Orleans in broad day, displaying the stars and stripes, and having on board a few miles from the Port St. Philip. Her conduct was of order, and she was deserted and blown up. As far as known she inflicted no damage save cutting the telegraph wires. A portion of her crew have arrived at New Orleans. The remainder have left for parts unknown.
