BOSS WITH OUR FRIENDS.—We have had our first spring wind, rain, thunder and lightning storm last evening, about 7 o'clock. It made a great excitement in the crowded streets of Brooklyn, where I then chanced to be.

New York is now filled with delegates and visitors to the many anniversaries, in consequence of which Broadway don't look so gay as usual.

"Gold is heavy" the money articles quote, as though any child didn't know that. There has been hard tugging between buyers and sellers this spring, and the buyers have come off best.

Have our gossips yet seen Louis Napoleon's life of Julius Caesar, in which Louis tries (and nearly in his attempt) to prove that his uncle was the parallel of the said Julius, and himself of Augustus.

Yesterday I rode in a car between a black man and a black woman, and I, this far, have caught no disease, neither were my clothes discolored, nor yet has the moral tone of my general character undergone any perceptible alteration.

THE BRIDAL CHAMBER.—A note of warning to those who are about to be married. The bride and groom should be warned of the dangers of the chamber.

THE OATH.—The oath taken by the President and Vice President is a solemn one, and should be taken with reverence.

THE WEATHER.—The weather has been very fine since the storm, and has brought out the ladies in their spring dresses.

should follow the example of Waynesboro', collect their dead and honor them with appropriate monuments. Let it be said that throughout this broad land, there is not a soldier who has to complain of the ingratitude of the Republic.

MEMBERSHIP CLASS.—The Mercersburg class of the German Reformed Church, will hold its next regular sessions in Shippensburg, commencing on Friday evening next, and continuing till Tuesday evening or Wednesday morning of next week.

ROXBURY GLASS.—We have recently been shown a Roxbury manufactured from sand obtained near Roxbury, Franklin Co., and which is to supply the material for the glass works which will soon be put in operation at that place.

HANNIBAL, the world-renowned elephant, exhibited in this place a few weeks ago in connection with Messrs. Thayer & Noyes' Circus, died at Centreville, Pa., on the 7th inst., aged about 66 years.

AN effort is being made to consolidate the Cumberland Valley and Franklin Railroad companies. A meeting of the stockholders of the two companies will be held in this place, on the 31st inst., to consider the matter.
