Gossip with our friends.—Next Sunday will be the anniversary of the burning of Chambersburg...

At 3 A. M. All the bells of the town will be rung; all the hotel gongs will be sounded, and all the drums and triangles beaten to rouse the women and children...

At 5 A. M. A hurried breakfast will be taken, standing, wherever it can be had, and the children sent to crying.

At 7 A. M. The procession will be started from the Public Square (by the firing of a cannon, about a mile and a half west of Chambersburg) in the following order:

1st. Band, in dress uniform, playing "The Storm Gallop," with an unusual number of Dr. Cops.

2d. A minister on horseback, with saddle-bags filled with half-burned sermons. A lawyer carrying a copy of Coke on Littleton. A doctor with a bottle shaped like a piece of putty thrown against a rough stone wall, taken from his own cellar after the fire.

3d. Effigies of Early and Greeley, Gilmer and Bennett, and a half-starved New York pickpocket, in U. S. uniform paired with an Adams County Farmer; hanging in twos from lofty trees.

4th. Thirty-four young ladies, without bonnets, barefoot, hair disheveled, each encircling by the hands a little black boy and white girl.

5th. Nine colored men in sky blue silk round-bottoms, covered with silver stars, and pants made of alternate strips of white and red silk, each accompanied by a little colored girl and white boy.

6th. A little boy with a white wheelbarrow, containing the relics of his mother's entire wardrobe; and a little girl with a front-door key of her father's house that was.

7th. Six wagon loads of bricks and one six-horse team of crockery souvenirs.

8th. A dray load of piano wires, out of the ruins, topped by a silver pitcher containing the reward for "Smith."

9th. Thirteen old ladies, with baskets and bundles on their arms and backs; and as many old gentlemen staggering under heavy trunks and chests.

10th. The Friendship and Protection, dressed in black, following the remains of the Hope, with the following appropriate motto on their banner: "Hope, for a season, bade the world farewell."

11th. Twelve ladies, dressed in black bombazine, with black caps and a black flag—composing the jury that has been empaneled for the past year to try McCausland.

12th. Thirteen little girls selling photographs of the Pennsylvania Legislature, to defray the expenses of the anniversary solemnization. Their flag will be ornamented in beautiful worsted work with:

"Millions for losses— Not one cent for defense!"

13th. A miscellaneous crowd of sufferers, little sufferers and big sufferers, young sufferers and old sufferers, white sufferers and black sufferers, all kinds of sufferers, in every stage of sweat, dirt and suffering—all with the same expression of acute suffering upon every countenance—will follow bigdilly pigdilly, headed by a young lady in an old borrowed sun-bonnet.

14th. The noble hearted brave boys who have perished life and limb for their country, having just returned, will march behind and gaze around upon the ruin and desolation of their share in their preserved country.

15th. Officers of the day—comprising the "prominent citizens."

The procession will proceed to the Associate Reformed Church to hear a discourse preached by the Rev. Dr. Moore, of Richmond, from the text, "Old things have passed away."

When (after marching till noon) the rear of the column reaches the corner of 2d and King streets, extending towards Greencastle, (this arrangement will, when they wheel), word will be given by the Chief Marshal "Rebs!" upon which each one will rush with an impassioned speed to the depot, where a train will be waiting to make better to carry them to Harrisburg. After the filing of the cars, the multitude will quietly disperse, to reassemble one year from date to commemorate anew the day so peculiarly eventful in Chamberburg's annals.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the day will be hot, dry and dusty, to give full effect to the arrangements.

so that we expect to hold court in it ere long, while the court officers will be ready for occupation in a month. The building is a vast improvement on the old one, those foolish columns on Market street being removed, the Court Hall greatly enlarged, and the whole building improved in its internal arrangements and external appearance.

Next is the old Franklin Hall, as our readers are aware lately published by the "Repository Association," which has a fine building under contract, to be finished by the first of January. On the next lot, J. Hoke & Co. are putting up a fine business place, where they expect to conduct the dry goods business. Going along the street still further, we pass Mrs. Montgomery's Hotel, a very large and excellent back building with the bar on the street, where the too dry way-farer may stop for those excellent—well, next is Trost's. (You'll know Dan, of course.) With commendable enterprise he has put up a very fine hotel on the site of the old "White Swan," which he already occupies, and he has also built an astonishing stable in the rear, looking for all the world like an extensive freight depot. No interior town in the State can boast of better hotels than Chambersburg at this moment. It is hardly necessary to refer to the fine house built by Jacob Sellers on the corner of Second and Market streets, or the excellent hotel of John Miller on West Market street, both places being familiar to our readers for the excellence of the entertainment as well as the convenience of their houses.

Still further down Miss Susan Chambers has built a good two story dwelling, Alonzo Fry a three-story house and Abraham Hull an excellent back building. On the opposite side of the street Allen Smith has built a three story dwelling and store, and John Schofield a back building, with preparation for a front, which are the only houses re-built on that side north of the Diamond, except the fine residence of Benjamin Chambers across the Spring, which he again occupies.

Returning to the Diamond we are confronted by the elegant new building of Messrs. Miller, Hamilton & Co., intended for the tin and stove business. Next A. J. White has erected a very fine building with an elegant iron front, intended for the clothing trade. Between the houses last named are the lots of Capt. John Jeffries and H. M. White, Esq., both of whom intend re-building shortly. On the alley in the new building in course of erection Messrs. Brand & Flack, who here conduct the hardware business. We like this house, because it breaks in upon the monotonous uniformity of style with which we are threatened. Opposite Messrs. Etter & Eyster (stove men) have put up a large building, now occupied by them. Beside this Dr. Richards has reared a magnificent pile of pill-boxes and occupies it himself, while Spangler, druggist, has ceased under the same roof. On the next lot (corner of the Diamond) Mrs. Gilmore has built a good back-building, and next to this the National Bank of Chambersburg is erecting its banking house. William Gelwick is also about putting a new business house on the site formerly occupied by him, and James Watson is getting ready for the erection of a dwelling and business stands on the adjoining lot. We must not forget to mention that A. J. Miller is putting up new store rooms and a dwelling on the corner opposite Hoke's, which he expects to occupy himself with his drug store. This occupies the site of the stone house on the Diamond, formerly noted as one of the oldest structures in the Borough, and now doubly famous as the place where two rebel incendiaries exploded the flames they had kindled.

But let us again pass the fine buildings just noticed and wind our way along Main Street. The Eyster Bros are delving in the cellars of their old place, we see, and are finding re-build immediately. Further up we find a strong smell of building on the Fisher's Hotel property owned by Wm. Wallace. The store room on the corner has been finished for some time and is already occupied by Wallace & Co. By the way, John Fisher "keeps" around the corner in one of the three new houses re-built by Mr. Wallace on Queen Street. If you are weary be refreshed, kind reader, for his bar will be the first thing you will "run against" in passing up Queen and if you are going farther east you will find Brown's at the top of the hill. Lewis A. Shoemaker is also building a fine house on Main Street, which he will occupy with his "Candy Store."

Gelwick's & Burkhardt have returned from Philadelphia and New York with a new and very heavy lot of goods. It is their determination to make this business place by selling great quantities of goods and not by large profits. We advise all who wish to buy goods cheaply and to have the largest and most varied stock to visit their place, to call with this firm before buying elsewhere.

The LIGHTNING FLICKER.—The best article ever known to kill flies, mosquitoes and other insects in a short time. At MILLER'S DRUG STORE, next door west of Brown's Hotel.

BEFORE SPRINGS.—Bedford Water, fresh from the springs, sold by the gallon, at CRESSELL'S Drug Store. Also Delicious Soda Water, with choice syrups.

GO TO GELWICKS and BURKHART for the best and cheapest of any kind of goods. A fine assortment and sell cheap wholesale and retail.

HORRIBLE MURDER OF A WOMAN and CHILD.—THE THREE MURDERERS KILLED.—We are informed that a horrible tragedy took place in Madison county, about four miles from London, last week, but our informant could not give names. We recite this awful story as we heard it. A farmer sold his farm to three men, who gave him $15,000 in cash in part payment. In the evening he walked to London, leaving his wife and child at home.

Some time after a peddler, who had often stayed overnight at the house, drove up and asked permission to remain, but the farmer's wife declined, because it was doubtful if her husband returned that night, and she knew there was a large amount of money in the house. The peddler then left the house, and the farmer observed a light in a room in which he usually slept. He went to the door and the peddler that there were burglars in the house.

The peddler produced a pair of revolvers, and the two, stationing themselves at points where the burglars would probably attempt to escape, gave the alarm, and three men rushed out. The peddler killed two of them, when the third ran towards the farmer, who killed him. Upon entering the house, the farmer was horrified to find his wife and child murdered. When the bodies of the murdered man and woman were discovered that they were the parties who had purchased the farm that day, one of them being a Jew and the other a woman.—Daggon Journal

WOMEN ON A RAMP.—The town of Greenfield, Ohio, was the scene of great excitement one day last week. It appears that, enraged by the almost constant nightly rows and riotous proceedings in a number of the whisky shops of the town, the ladies resolved to put a stop to whisky-selling in their midst. They improvised a meeting to be held on Monday morning, met, passed resolutions, and marched in solid phalanx to several places where whisky was sold in quantities to suit the purchasers, and demanded the liquor to be sold. They were promptly refused; whereupon, with axes and hatchets, they made a furious attack upon the doors of the establishments, went in and rolled the casks out and spilled the liquor in the streets. They were most determined set of rascals. The male portion of the community looked on complacently, thinking it a matter not committed to their hands, and let the ladies have their own way generally. The result of this raid is the combination of the whisky sellers, who have commenced a new party, and are endeavoring to dispose citizens held a meeting and resolved to stand by the ladies, and see their through to the water. The best legal talent will be employed by the ladies, who have already with little effort, in raising a large fund already, to prosecute the case thoroughly.

ISAAC M. VEITCH, Grand Scribe of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., has issued his proclamation, inviting all the Grand Lodges of the State to send representatives to the Grand Lodge of the United States, to assemble at Baltimore on the third Monday of September next. For four years the Southern Grand Lodge and Grand Encampments have been represented, and the Most Worshipful Sir expresses the hope that the brotherhood may renew its fraternal internal intercourse, and that "its great heart may ever vibrate in unison with the beatings of charity."

HENRY A. WISE'S PLANTATION. A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Norfolk, says: I have visited Henry A. Wise's farm up the eastern bank of the Elizabeth river. The mansion until a few days ago, was occupied by the teachers of the freedmen's Bureau. It is now vacated, with the exception of one room occupied by soldiers in charge of the farm or freedmen. The greater part of the furniture has been carried away. One broken marble-top centre-table and a calico-covered sofa are left in the parlour. Old John Brown's picture hangs against the wall, looking down with the appearance of grief at the bare floors and cold hearth. The "Grammar" of the United States Government, which he hung Brown, whose presence, if it were treason, was committed against it, and not against Virginia.
