

From the New York Evening Post.

A Letter from General Jackson.

We are pleased to publish the following characteristic letter from General Jackson. Nothing less frank, less manly or less magnanimous could have been expected from the venerable occupant of the Hermitage. Mr. Tyler has reason to be proud of the generous but discriminating approbation of the honest and fearless patriot, whose opinion in all questions in which true dignity and honor are concerned, is more than that of all Clay's and Webster's, Tallmadge and Bells that the world has produced.

General Jackson shows that he is still faithful to the cause of the people; and describing the nature of government, insists upon giving that simplicity and directness to its action, which alone can secure its highest advantage.

HERMITAGE, Sept. 11th, 1841.

Sir,—Your letter of the 28th ult., with its enclosure, the resolutions of the Democratic Republican Convention, held in the 9th Ward of the city of New York, on the 28th of the same month, have been duly received, and are acknowledged with sentiments of profound gratitude for the honor they confer upon me.

The state of my health, which is now much disordered by an attack of fever, does not allow me to express at length the reflection excited in my mind by the patriotic views embodied in the resolutions. I cannot refrain, however from saying, that they meet generally with my concurrence—and particularly that which gives praise to Mr. Tyler for his veto on the Bank Bill. If he but maintains the positions he has assumed against this great lover of Federalism, this deadly foe to the principles of our government, the designs of that party, in other respects, will be less difficult to counteract; for the slip of State, relieved of the corrupt influence of a bank of the United States at its helm, will naturally give itself.

It is true, a great error was committed in the repeal of the Sub-treasury, but this may be remedied here there is no Bank substituted in its stead, he people are not so much for forms—they go for instances—for practical measures—measures that will ensure economy and accountability in the administration of government; that will secure the application of the public moneys at all times and at all places to constitutional objects.—These are the things which it would be the office of a Bank to ward; and they are the things which it would be the tendency of the Sub-treasury to promote; hence, I believe, that that system, or something like it, cannot be long dispensed with.

Doubtless the President believes that the Sub-treasury has been condemned by the people, and so leaving, he ought not to be censured for giving sanction to its repeal. But the independence has manifested in his veto, authorizes us to hope that he will deal fairly and candidly with the whole subject hereafter, and that he will conform his policy to the principles of the Virginia school of Republicans.

You are pleased to refer in terms of much commendation to the course pursued by me on the subject of the former Bank Charter. I acted as the under a high sense of duty, and derived much satisfaction from the many evidences I have received from many who then censured me, of the approbation of my country. But, sir, I considered labor as but the commencement of the work of God in regard to the Banking system. Much her praise is due to Mr. Van Buren, against whom the whole force of the spirit of monopoly was sought to bear. It has driven that distinguished man and an unperturbed patriot into retirement, it has rendered him dearer than ever to his country, because of the noble sacrifice he has made in the cause of equal rights.

My strength failing me, I cannot follow out these actions. Every effort to write admonishes me that my life is nearly spent. Let me conclude, therefore, this hasty and imperfect response to your letter, with an assurance to my Republican and Democratic friends, every where, that I am proud of their respect and have an abiding faith in the success of their efforts to secure the blessings of God and equal rights to themselves and their posterity.

Very respectfully,

Your fellow-citizen,

ANDREW JACKSON.

ASST GILBERT, Esq.

TAXES.

Our Whig friends who are laying to the charge Governor PORTER a great increase of the state and the heavy taxation to which our citizens subjected, in order to sustain the credit of the monarchical, seem to forget, that the Tax Bill in last session was contained in what is commonly known as the Relief Bill, was vetoed by Governor PORTER, and passed by the constitutional majority in the two houses. The same bill authorized the debt to be increased upwards of THREE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS. This bill was voted for by all the Whig members of the legislature, and a majority of the Democratic members, and was sustained by the entire Whig press of the commonwealth. Is Governor PORTER answerable for this? We think not.—We shall take occasion, in the course of a day, to show from the journals, the various resolutions for additional taxation which were urged by the Whig members, and voted down by the Democrats, in order to show the people how utter-ly groundless are the assaults made on Governor PORTER and the Democratic party.—Amer. Sr.

Porter's Election Certain.

error has taken possession of the entire federal press. The leaders are frightened, and the party disgusted. They see Thaddeus Stevens in the place of John Banks, and remember the disgrace brought upon them before. They read Tyler's name and remember how they have been deceived. There is not an honest man among them who does not admit that Porter will be triumphantly elected. The only difference is about the amount of majority which will receive. All concede that it will be large.

McLEOD.

From the correspondence of the New York Journal of Commerce, in relation to the proceedings instituted against this individual, we learn that his trial will, most probably, not take place until the ensuing week. His counsel anticipate his full acquittal. Great exertions are making to have him found guilty. No excitement or improper feelings exist in or near Utica. The majority of the people there think he ought to be acquitted, and expect it, as a matter of course. There are no U. States troops at Utica, although there is a detachment within a few hours journey from that place, at Rome, whether they were sent to protect the U. S. arsenal, without reference to the trial of McLeod.

From the correspondence of the Albany Argus, we learn that the depositions of several witnesses on the part of McLeod, have been taken.

The witnesses examined were Thomas Hector, of Toronto, a person of whom nothing very favorable is known; Sir Allen McNab, who is, perhaps, too well known; John Harris, a dissipated old soldier, whose home is any where he is permitted to stop; and Angus McLeod, a brother of Alexander McLeod, who boasts "that he helped at the destruction of the pirate Caroline."

Joseph Center, Esq., appeared as counsel for the State of New York, and Hiram Gardner, Esq., as counsel for McLeod. The commission was taken on the part of McLeod, and it is understood here that the government of this province pays the expenses of its execution.

It is not generally known what is the precise amount of the depositions taken; but it is represented that the deposition of McNab goes to prove that he ordered the expedition which destroyed the Caroline, and that he acted as the agent of the government, of which he had the approval.

The depositions of Hector and Harris, it is stated, go to prove that McLeod was at another place, at the time the steamer was destroyed at Schlosser—and thus it is intended to establish an alibi. But these witnesses are liable to be impeached.

Angus McLeod deposes, I understand, that he was with the party that committed the act of which his brother was not. But it remains to be seen how far or with what allowance, his testimony will be received.

The Liberty Ticket.

In naming the several counties in which the whigs were divided, we accidentally omitted Mercer, Beaver, and Huntington. In the two former, tickets have been framed by the friends of the immediate abolition of slavery, which they denominate "Liberty Ticket." Dr. F. JULIUS LEMONS, of Washington county, is the candidate for Governor of the "Liberty party." Four fifths of the votes for Dr. LEMONS throughout the commonwealth, we presume, will be taken from Judge BANKS.—In Huntington county, a working men's ticket has been got up in opposition to the regular whig ticket. The Democrats have no ticket, but will generally support the working men's ticket.—Amer. Sentinel.

One of the whig papers at Lancaster claims a majority for Judge BANKS of 18 or 20,000; one of the Harrisburg papers estimates it at 5,000. The Harrisburg Intelligencer has an earnest appeal to the whig voters to turn out, that "one vote may turn the scale," that "JON BANKS might lose his election by one vote." The "Bible pedlars," to use the language of some of the whig papers, and "the drovers," who traverse every section of the state, tell a different tale. They say, that Judge BANKS does not stand the slightest chance of being elected and that Governor PORTER will have a large majority. The distracted state of the whig party, and the dispute, among the friends of CLAY and SCOTT, about the succession, add strength to the opinion of the "Bible pedlars" and "the drovers."—Amer. Sentinel.

About twenty old federalists have come out against Gov. Porter in the county of Berks, and issued thousands of circulars to that effect. We are much pleased to find them on their own side—for all converted federalists have universally proved themselves the most troublesome kind of devils to the Democratic party. This circular circulates 4,500 majority for Porter in old Berks.—Coal Regionist.

The Philadelphia Enquirer remarks that the great iron steamer now being built at Bristol, Eng., will no doubt, when completed, be regarded as one of the most extraordinary mechanical wonders in the world. She will carry five masts, and her tonnage will reach the enormous extent of 3600. Her length on deck is 324 feet. She will have four engines of 300 horse power each, and she is expected to be completed by the 1st of May next. She is designed in the first place, for the Archimedes screw; but should that fail, she is so constructed that paddlers may readily be resorted to. Her hull is divided into compartments, so that if one should become injured, the accident would not affect the safety of the vessel. Her workmanship throughout is described as of the very highest style of art. She will be filled with water before she is launched, and thus her tightness tested. The iron (all wrought) is more than half an inch thick. She will cost something like $500,000, and, as is supposed, will be commanded by Captain Hosken.

The remains of Com. PERRY have been removed says the Newport Herald from the grave where they have remained since they were brought from Trinidad, to their new final resting place, at the side of the monument, which is to be at once completed, under the direction of a committee of the state.

The outside coffin was almost entirely decayed, leaving the leaden case exposed to view.

THE REMAINS OF THE PATRIOTS.—The Common Council of Brooklyn have appointed a committee of fifteen citizens to take the necessary measures for removing the bones of the Revolutionary Martyrs, and erect over them a suitable monument. The Mayor is, ex officio, Chairman of the Committee.

BALTIMORE MARKET.

Office of the BALTIMORE AMERICAN, Oct. 5. FLOUR.—There has been but little done in Howard street Flour to-day. The only sale that we hear of was a lot of 100 barrels good standard brands at $6.04. We quote the receipt price at $6.

Holders of City Mills Flour ask $6.25, but we hear of no sales.

Sales of very limited parcels of Susquehanna Flour at $5.25.

GRAIN.—The supplies on Saturday and to-day were quite small. The few parcels at market sold at $1.30 a $1.30 for fair to strictly prime rods. A lot of good Pennsylvania sold on Saturday for shipment at $1.37.

Sales of Md. white Corn today at 66 a 68 cts. and on Saturday at 65 cts.

A sale of Md. Rye at 72 a 73 cts. and of Pennsylvania at 75 cts.

PHILADELPHIA MARKET, BICKNELL'S REPORTER, Oct. 5, 1841.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—Early in the week sales were made of Flour to some extent at $6.25 per barrel, but to-day we cannot quote over $6.12 1/2 for fair brands, at which rate sales have been made of several thousand bbls. for export which leaves the market barely supplied, and has induced most of the factors to be firm in demanding $6.25 per bbl. The sales of the week reach about 10,000 bbls. Rye Flour is steady at $3.62, but Corn Meal has declined, and sales have been made of Penn's at $3 per bbl. Receipts generally moderate. Cleared this week 2522 bbls. Flour; 300 bbls. Corn Meal.

FISH.—The receipts of Mackerel are increasing, sales moderate at last quotations for Nos. 1 and 3; No. 2 is in more demand, and has advanced to $11 per bbl.

GRAIN AND SEED.—The market for Wheat and Corn has been heavy this week, and the receipts have been mostly stored. Early in the week sales of Penna. Wheat were made at 135 and 136c, but yesterday and to-day it was offered at 133 a 133 1/2c for prime; inferior sold at 130 a 132c per bushel. No sales of Rye. Corn has declined, and we cannot quote over 65 a 67c for white and yellow flat. Southern Oats are quick at 45 a 46c per bushel. Flaxseed is in demand at $1.90 a $2 per bushel, and Clover $6 a $6.50 per bushel.

SICKNESS. THERE are many persons that we daily behold, whose countenances and frail limbs denote affliction which we find has principally originated from neglect of proper remedies at the commencement of sickness. At first the patient complains of bile on the stomach attended with sickness, costiveness, &c. he neglects to procure proper medicine; at length he complains of pain in the side and stomach with sour eructations; his appetite becomes impaired, his rest troublesome, his mind harassed, and all things around him appear not in their proper station. He still neglects himself, when in all probability the disease may at length be so fast seated, that no medical aid will replace him again. At the first attack of sickness there should be "no time lost" in procuring Dr. HARRICH'S COMPOUND STRONGLY ENFORCED PILL, which immediately removes bile from the stomach, obviates costiveness, removes disorders in the head invigorates the mind, strengthens the body, improves the memory, and enlivens the imagination; thus restoring the body again to its proper functions.
