RECAPITULATION.

Table with 2 columns: Democrats, Federal. Rows for Senate and House.

NOTE.--Two members in Huntingdon were elected as working men. Working men are usually monarcs, and such, it is fair to class them.

From the United States Gazette.

Mr. Editor.--I notice in the United States Gazette of the 22d inst. a communication signed "A Subscriber" requesting information on the subject of Anthracite Pig iron, and whether its conversion into Malleable Iron has been effected without extra expense sufficient to render the manufacture un-profitable.

After having worked nearly 500 tons of the various sorts Anthracite Pig Iron; smelted in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, I feel myself fully competent to give an opinion on the subject, and would state that I have converted the above amount of iron into good sheet iron, rods, &c. &c. with but trifling extra expense, if any, when compared with the ordinary brands of charcoal Pig iron.

I would not be understood to say, that Anthracite Pig Iron is fully equal in quality to the very best brands of charcoal Pig Iron for conversion into Malleable Iron, but, much of the Anthracite Iron which I have tried, has proved greatly superior in quality to the ordinary sorts of charcoal Pig Iron, and was converted into the malleable state at about the same cost. I find too that its conversion is generally more rapid and consequently attended with rather less consumption of fuel than charcoal iron.

I have reference now to its conversion by the ordinary process of puddling with Anthracite Coal as fuel, but by the boiling process (as it is termed) I have with the same kind of fuel in a properly constructed furnace, converted the poorest No. 3 Anthracite Pig Iron into the most superior quality of Chain Iron, at an extra expense of $5 a ton per ton when compared with the very best charcoal Pig Iron. With reference to the was, I find it in the best sorts of Anthracite Iron to differ but little from charcoal Pig.

I have had no experience in its conversion by the process ordinarily used in Pennsylvania by means of charcoal as fuel, but I have been informed by an intelligent Iron master, who has tried the experiment, that the Anthracite Pig produced by the Lehigh Crane Iron Co. yielded a first rate quality of Bar Iron by that process.

There is no doubt a great prejudice existing among Iron Masters with regard to the employment of Anthracite Pig iron in their forges, this I think time will overcome, and I would suggest to the smelters of Anthracite in Pennsylvania, whether as a matter of policy it would not be advisable for them to convert their more inferior sorts of Pig Iron, into Plate or refined metal, and sell it to the Forges in that State; this, although it has not yet been done entirely with Anthracite as fuel, can I believe be effected or certainly by a mixture of charcoal and anthracite. By pursuing this course a much better article will be produced at no great extra expense, their Furnaces may be more heavily burdened so as to produce the utmost quantity of Pig Iron possible for refining, and probably at more profit than running with lighter burdens for grey iron--and its advantages to all puddling establishments would be great, as the labor of puddling pig iron, particularly in hot weather, is excessive, the Plate Iron can more easily be converted in greater quantities, and with less fuel, and the wages for conversion would be reduced in proportion.

One of the most intelligent Anthracite Furnace proprietors in Pennsylvania has assured me he shall pursue this course, and I have no doubt will be productive of much benefit and profit both to himself and the forge owners purchasing the refined metal.

A NEW JERSEY IRON MASTER.

The news of the assignment by this institution, created, as was to be expected, considerable excitement in London. Joined to the news carried out by the same steamer in relation to McLeod, and the change in our Cabinet, it seems to have put the London mercantile world into a ferment for two hours--quite as long as any news produces a general sensation there. The Morning Herald thus speaks of the Bank:

"The final declaration of the insolvency of that mighty institution ought not to be passed over in silence. The directors, by the assignment of all its remaining property to trustees for the liquidation of its debts, have consummated its now irrevocable bankruptcy--a bankruptcy more prodigious, it may be said, than ever the world witnessed--for it is the bankruptcy of a magnificent establishment which started with a capital of thirty-five millions of dollars; and so total is the wreck, that it may be doubted if a single cent of surplus money will remain, after the indispensable payment of debts, for division among the shareholders. The famous Mississippi association of Law in France, or the South Sea Bubble in this country, were not, on their final explosion, to be compared with this gigantic failure."--U. S. Gazette.

KNOWLEDGE OF GEOGRAPHY.

One of the best religious newspapers of London, and one of the ablest and most intelligent journals, speaks of the "State of Cincinnati, in America." It is not strange that British writers are ignorant of the theory of our government, when they cannot learn even the names of the States. It would be difficult to find a school boy in this country who would make such a blunder as to speak of the "Kingdom of Liverpool," but it is not long since we read in a London paper an account of a destructive fire in a city in the "State of Mohale."--N. Y. Observer.

To those who Desire Health.

I hereby certify, that I was afflicted for eight years with a severe nervous disease, attended with constant pain in the breast, side and stomach, loss of appetite, no rest at night, sickness and dizziness in the head, pain in the stomach after eating, and other symptoms which attend indigestion, my bowels were weak and irregular. Having had advice of various physicians during this long period, and used much medicine which only produced temporary relief. In the year 1830, I was often unable to leave my house, and being a poor widow, dependent on my own labor for a living, was obliged to go from house to house to obtain it. I at length gave up all hopes of recovery, and trust to Him "that created all things." I fortunately was favored with work in Eighth street, when the family, discovering my miserable situation, immediately recommended Dr. H. A. R. L. I. C. H. S. COMPOUND STRENGTHENING GERMAN APERIENT PILLS, which they procured for me. I used them, and continued for about three months; during the time my strength rapidly increased, my countenance and pallid cheek returned to their former and natural color. Since I have fully recovered, and used much medicine which only produced temporary relief. I used them, and continued for about three months; during the time my strength rapidly increased, my countenance and pallid cheek returned to their former and natural color. Since I have fully recovered, and used much medicine which only produced temporary relief. In the year 1830, I was often unable to leave my house, and being a poor widow, dependent on my own labor for a living, was obliged to go from house to house to obtain it. I at length gave up all hopes of recovery, and trust to Him "that created all things." I fortunately was favored with work in Eighth street, when the family, discovering my miserable situation, immediately recommended Dr. H. A. R. L. I. C. H. S. COMPOUND STRENGTHENING GERMAN APERIENT PILLS, which they procured for me.
