Towands Bellef Notes

We are frequently asked the question, "Will the Towanda Relief Notes be redeemed !" It is a pretty difficult question to answer ; but the quanti. 'ty of that kind of currency in fast hands through this region, makes it quite an important one. We "can only give our own impressions for what they me worth. The spurious is sees of $. G. Boyd and T. Over, will erobably never be paid. The commonwealth wont pay them, and the bank con'tthough there is no doubt of the moral, and but in-"le of the legal obligation of the latter to make igood the acts of her faithless agents, had she the ability to do so. Those who hold Towanda notes here, however, would be perfectly willing to lose their Dyer and Boyd paper if they could get rid of other less questionable at reasonable rates,

The regular Relief notes of the bank, being the proper issue under the act of 4th May, '41, will of course be redeemed by the commonwealth. The only difficulty in this matter seems to be to ascertain which are of this issue ; as under the wretched mismanagement of the bank, there see ns to have been no regularity or system in its proceedings, The State Treasurer has announced his intention to receive these in payment for dues to the commonwealth.

The next description, and by far the largest in amount, are the notes issued "By order of the Board of Directors," In relation to these, we are satisfied as to one thing : every cent of property which any Director in the Board at the time of this "order" may have, should be taken to redeem them; for they were all paid out by the bank at par, for full value received, and a little more. The obligation of the State to provide for the payment of this class of the Towanda paper, will depend entirely, we conceive, upon the extent of the instrumentality of its government in producing their issue. If they were put forth under the sanction of the constituted authorities, it would become the State to see to it that they do not prove a loss in the hands of innocent holders. If we are not misinformed, they were principally paid out upon the claims of contractors on the public works. If so, then is it certainly the duty of the State, having received the benefit of their issue, to adopt some means for their redemption. But there are mysteries in this whole transaction which we do not pretend to understand. or profess to be able to explain. We would propose, however, as a serious duty of the Legislature at this session, an investigation, to ascertain whether there is any responsibility for this species of currency-and if so, where it is to be found .-Witkesbarre Farmer.

Dr. Paris' Soothing Syrup.

How many thousands of little children die annu ally from the effects of Protracted Dentition. Those who have the care of these "tittle ones," should never be without "Dr. Paris' Celebrated American Southing Syrup," for Children Cutting Teeth, by which they can prevent many alarming symtoms which often prove fatal. Thousands of mothers and nurses can testify to the immediate effect of this invaluable Syrup when appled to the gums.
