From the London Literary Gazette.
The Cure of Blindness.

Some time ago we mentioned that we had heard of Dr. Turnbull's Cure of Blindness by the Juice of Prussic acid, but had no personal knowledge of the process; which notice immediately procured us an invitation from Dr. Turnbull to witness the cases of several patients, from five or six to above twenty years of age, who were under his treatment for this sad calamity. We accordingly attended; and it is not easy to express our astonishment and gratification at what we saw. The various stages of cure, advanced in our presence, by the simple application, for about half a minute, or until a little warmth was felt by the patient, of the vapour of hydrocyanic acid, in a small phial, held up to the eye, with an aperture fitting the form of that organ; the various nature of the diseases so assailed—opacities of the cornea, inflammation, cataract, amaurosis, iritis, &c. &c.; the various stages of relief which the patient had reached, with sometimes one eye open to sight and pleasurable to look upon, and the other left nearly blind and in its pristine deformity, to show what had been achieved; the various appearances of films removing, cataracts breaking up and gradually reabsorbed, pupils being redeveloped, and other altogether extraordinary symptoms of remedy and regeneration, filled us, we repeat with wonder and delight.

One child had been totally blind from six days old, had been taught to read on the raised letters by the humane system taught in the Blind-school; but it could now see these letters, and—it was a curious phenomenon to behold—could equally read them by touch and by sight! The only difference was a singular alteration in the tone of voice and pronunciation when reading in two ways; that by the eye being far more natural, and like the usual reading to which we are accustomed, than the other which was monotonous, and with an air of difficulty even amid the singular readiness acquired by this method.

Other cases were of the wonderful production of the power of vision to those born blind; but we select a case of a girl 22 years of age, and there fore fully capable to comprehend and to answer any question put to her. In utter darkness for 13 years previous to her coming under Dr. Turnbull's treatment, she now can see her way, and can distinguish countenances and colors.

Having witnessed and assured ourselves of the reality of these things, we sought the rationale, the source of the discovery, and the causes of the effects. Dr. Turnbull's answer was, that the datum which had suggested the first experiments to him was the evidence afforded in all cases of death from poisoning with prussic acid; it was recorded, in every instance, that the eye of the corpse was observed for days as clear and lucid as if still in life. This led him to conceive that the acid exerted a specific action on the eye. He argued that any medicine which produced such a symptom after death must possess certain powers over the living subject; and he ventured upon his course of investigation accordingly. The principle was speedily developed. The eye and all around it soon dilated and reddened. It was evident that the red arterial blood rushed into the minutest fibres of the veins, and excited a strong action throughout the whole of the capillary processes. Not the slightest pain arose; a sedative influence appeared to be exercised on the nerves of sensation, and even if inflammation existed, it was rapidly removed. The eye, however, presented all the symptoms of violent inflammation, which is the truly natural curative process, yet without the suffering of the struggle between nature and disease. The humors became quickly and singularly active by degrees the seat of the disease was assuaged, and a healthful tendency created, either to supply deficiencies or to remove obstructions. By repeating the applications, the cures were completed.

On inquiry what the results might be on old or short sighted, Dr. Turnbull laughingly replied, that hydrocyanic acid would soon supersede spectacles; it so altered and helped the vision in either case, that no doubt could exist of its applicability to their relief and restoration. Be this as it may, we hesitate not strongly to recommend the wonderful discovery of the Cure for Blindness.

The York, Pa. Republican states that the barn of Mr. Daniel Smith, in that county, was burnt by lightning, together with the entire produce of the harvest. The attention of farmers is directed to the fact that barns filled with newly cut grain or hay are very apt to attract the electric fluid, and ought in all cases be protected by a lightning rod.

BALTIMORE MARKET.

Office of the BALTIMORE AMERICAN, AUG. 8.
FLOUR—On Saturday sales of Su-quehanna Flour were made at $5 3/4; to day two sales of 500 bbls. each were made at $5.25, and a lot of 300 bbls. at $5.12 1/2—all made from new wheat.

GRAIN—On Saturday the Wheat market became very unsettled, and prices began to decline. To-day sales of Md. Wickets were made with difficulty at 95 cts. a $1.10 for prime reds, and from 60 a 90 cts. for inferior to good lots. On Saturday a load of prime new Pennsylvania red was sold at $1.15, and another parcel at $1.05. To-day a parcel of red was sold at $1.05, and a lot of red and white mixed at $1.16. White Corn is wanted. We note sales to day of white at 53 a 55 cts. and of yellow to-day 53 cts. Sales of Md. Rye at 60 cts., and of Pennsylvania at 65 cts. We quote Md. Oats at 20 a 22 cts. A sale of a lot of Pennsylvania old Oats at 28 cts.

WHISKEY—The market is very dull, and the transaction limited to small lots at 25 a 26 cts. for bbls. Large parcels could be purchased for less.

ANOTHER LIFE SAVED—John H. Frost, deck hand on board the steamboat Hornet, having taken a severe cold by exposure in rescuing a fellow being from a watery grave, at the foot of Market st., Philadelphia, one of those cold nights in February last, his head and face had become so swollen, that, to use his own words, he could scarcely see—attended with violent pains throughout his whole body, he was urged by his friends to try Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills. He did so, and is happy to state that two boxes of this celebrated medicine completely restored him.

Remember, no Drug Store has the genuine Brandreth's Pills for sale—therefore be careful.

HEALTH IN MISSOURI.

Dr. Haritch's Pills.
WHEN these pills were introduced into this State, the Agent did not urge them on the notice of the public with any superfluous praise, confident that a fair and impartial trial was all the recommendation they required, to prove their usefulness. They have now been tested by a number of persons laboring under that miserable complaint Dyspepsia, in this section of the country, and in every instance, as far as we have heard, have proved beneficial. We wish to give sufficient time for a full and fair trial, when we will add such testimony of their efficacy as will do justice to so valuable and safe a medicine.—Jefferson (Mo.) Enquirer.
N. B. Those who may be suffering from the various diseases incident to men, would do well to procure immediately the above medicine, whereby they may soon be relieved of their malady.
