From the Baltimore American.
TWENTY SEVENTH CONGRESS.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13, 1842.
UNITED STATES SENATE.

The main business of the Senate has been of but little importance to the public.

Mr. BUCHANAN presented a memorial from Lancaster County, Penna., praying for the issue of a Government Stock of $200,000,000 to be loaned to the State, and based upon the Public Lands. The memorial was laid upon the table.

Mr. WRIGHT presented a memorial from the manufacturers of Glass in Baltimore, Jersey City and New York, stating that they have discovered the mode of manufacturing Glass into Cloth, as lately commenced in England, and asking that a duty of 50 per cent. may be imposed on the foreign article. The memorialists state that no evils can arise from the imposition of this duty for the reason that the article is used by the wealthier classes alone. From the improvements of Machinery they think that ere long it may be manufactured at reduced rates. Mr. Wright moved that the memorial be laid upon the table and printed.

Mr. PRESTON sneered at the prayer of the memorialists. By and by he would not be astonished if it was asked to have ice produced by the cold temperature of their own frozen regions protected in order to prohibit the exportation from their Canadian neighbors.

Mr. SIMMONS said all there was desired, was to be protected from that "divine principle of free trade," much as Senators might sneer. He would state that he had seen a lady's shawl made of glass threads which would vie in gorgeous splendor with the most magnificent fabrics of the orientals. Give these people the protection desired, and in a little while every farmer's son and daughter might be dressed in a fabric that the crowned heads of Europe could not have purchased 50 years ago.

Mr. TAPPAN did not desire that the honest and modest matrons and maidens of our Republic should be arrayed in such flaunting apparel. The memorial was disposed of as proposed by Mr. Wright.

Thomas Jefferson and a Protective Tar-
Below we give the opinion of Thomas Jefferson upon the utility of American manufactures, and the necessity of their protection by the government.

In a letter to Benjamin Austin, in January, 1816, Mr. Jefferson says:

"You told me I am quoted by those who wish to continue our dependence on England for manufactures. There was a time when I might have been so quoted with more candor. But within the 30 years which have since elapsed, how are circumstances changed! Compare the present state of things with that of 1786, and say whether an opinion founded in the circumstances of that day can be fairly applied to those of the present. We have experienced, what we did not believe, there exists both proficiency and power to exclude us from interference with other nations—that to be independent for the comforts of life, we must fabricate them ourselves. We must now place the manufacturer by the side of the agriculturist. The former question is suppressed, or rather in a new form. The grand inquiry is now, shall we make our own comforts or go without them at the will of another nation? He, therefore, who is against domestic manufactures must be for reducing us either to a dependence on that nation or to be clothed in skins and to live like wild beasts in dens and caverns. I am proud to say that I am not one of them.—Experience has taught me that manufactures are now as necessary to our independence as to our comfort; and if those who quote me of a different opinion will keep pace with me in purchasing nothing foreign where an equivalent of domestic fabric can be obtained, without regard to any difference of price, it will not be our fault if we do not have a supply at home equal to our demand, and wreat that weapon of distress from the hand which has so long wantonly violated it."

The Room with a Light in it.
The following anecdote is only equalled by an occurrence that took place in early times, in Tennessee, in which Gen. Jackson, (then a young man) was one of the principal actors: The writer heard the story often in the town where the occurrence took place. The General was riding the circuit at the time referred to, as a lawyer, and Court was sitting in the little town of R—now much larger. It was a pleasant summer evening, and a group of the gentlemen of the bar were standing in front of the only tavern in the place, engaged in discussing the news of the day, when a stranger rode up to the door of the tavern and dismounted. There was much of the dandy in his appearance. He walked into the house, looking neither to the right nor left, and paid no attention whatever to the friendly greetings of the gentleman before mentioned. The house was kept by an aged widow lady, who was respected and esteemed by all who knew her. The important gentleman sought her presence. "A room to himself and a light in it," Mrs. R. politely informed him that as Court was then sitting and her house somewhat crowded, it would be impossible to accommodate him in the way proposed, but that he could have a room, if he would share it with another gentleman. This he refused and finally became so insolent and annoying in his remarks upon the want of accommodation, that the lady sent for General Jackson as one in whom she could confide, and requested his advice. To him she stated the case and he desired her to leave the matter to him. He immediately took a servant, and made him enter the little log corn crib, rake the corn all on one side, and sweep the floor. The light so much wanted was placed upon the floor. The entrance was a hole about two feet square, with a door, or shutter which was fastened with a padlock. The General then repaired to the great man, and told him his room was ready, with a light in it! The grinning darkey took another light and preceded him, while the General, with due deference, brought up the rear. Jack led him to the hole, at which he stopped with very manifest tokens of rage. "There's your room," said the General. "Don't keep us waiting!" "Do you mean to insult me?" stammered the stranger, as he encountered the flashing eyes of the General directed upon him. "Get in air! (was all the reply) or by the Eternal, you shall go neck and heels. Jack! (to the negro) help him in, he wants a room to himself! Jack's aid was not needed. The dandy crawled in, the key was turned, and as he inhaled upon—he had the room to himself, with a light in it."

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT AT A FUNERAL.—A correspondent informs us that a few days, since in a town in the interior of Rockingham county, N. H., at the close of a prayer made at the funeral of an aged lady, one of her sons, who was intoxicated, exclaimed audibly, "That's a good prayer!" A remark in the sermon induced him to say aloud to the minister, "That's not the text you came here to preach from!" after which he staggered out of the room, muttering something which was not understood. As the hearers were depositing the remains of his mother in their final resting place, this son stepped from the procession, reeled and fell, his head striking a grave stone. He arose, the blood oozing from the wound, and dropping from his chin, but did not return to the house with the mourners. This man was educated for a school-teacher, and might have been useful and respected, had he not fallen a victim to Intemperance, which destroyed his character and ruined his abilities, while the rum-sellers took possession of all his property, as a reward for furnishing him with the poisonous beverage which has degraded him from a human rational being, to a point far below the brute creation!

BALTIMORE MARKET.
Office of the BALTIMORE AMERICAN, AUG. 15.
FLOUR.—There is but little demand for Howard Street Flour, and holders continue to ask $5 for good standard brands. We have not heard of any sales to-day. Sales were made on Saturday at $5. The wagon price is unsettled.

City Mill's Flour is in fair demand. Moderate sales are making at $5, cash.
Sales of Susquehanna Flour on Saturday and to-day at $5, cash. There is very little now in market.
GRAIN.—There has not been much Maryland Wheat at market for a day or two past. Sales of prime Md. reals were made to-day at 90 a 95 cts, and inferior to good lots at 50 to 85 cts, as in quality. Several parcels of Pennsylvania reals were sold on Saturday at 96 a 97 cts; and to-day two parcels white and red mixed were sold at 102 cts. There is no change in the price of Corn, which we quote at 55 a 57 cts. for white and 53 a 54 cts. for yellow. Sales of Md. Rye at 50 a 53 cts, and of Md. Oats at 21 a 23 cts.

WHISKEY.—There is very little demand, and prices are declining. We note small sales of blis, at 23 cts, and of blis, at 24 cts.

A TRUE PATRIOT exhibits his love of country by administering to the comfort and happiness of the community in which he resides. He who discovers, and makes known the means of preserving the health, and consequently the happiness of his fellow citizens, evinces as much patriotism as the general who meets and conquers an invading foe. But what is he who joins the invader's rank, or spreads disease or death among the people? A Traitor! Dr. Brandreth has discovered a medicine called Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, which has proved a blessing to the people. But Druggists have joined the one-way ranks by counterfeiting these Pills, and are selling poisonous drugs in their name: therefore buy out of them, they cannot be genuine.

Purchase in Sunbury, of H. B. Masser, and the agents published in another part of this paper.

TAKEN.
On Sunday evening last, by the Rev. J. P. Shindler, Mr. GEORGE HARRISON to Miss REBECCA BOWEN, both of this place.
In Northumberland, on the 1st inst., by the Rev. Mr. Mills, Mr. W. L. GRAY to Miss ELYSE WELLS, both of that place.

DIED.
On Thursday last, in Augusta township, WM. SAYDICE, son of John Saydige, aged 17 years.

Principal Reasons
WHY Dr. HARRIS'S Compound Sarsaparilla and German Aperient Pills are used by all classes of people, in preference to other Medicines, because they are prepared from a pure extract of herbs, a wholesome medicine, mild in its operation and pleasant in its effect—the most certain preserver of health, a safe and effectual cure of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, and all stomach complaints, a preserver and purifier of the whole system.
Because they soothe the nerves of sensibility and fortify the nerves of motion, imparting to their morbid fluid its pristine tone, thus giving strength and clearness of mind.
Because they never destroy the coats of the stomach and bowels, as all strong purgatives do.
Because science and experience teach us that no more purgative alone will cure the disease of the stomach and bowels. Weakness is the primary cause of a host of diseases, and by continually resorting to Drastic purgatives, you make the disease much worse, instead of better.
Because Dr. Harris's Medicines are put up upon the common sense principle, to "relieve and strengthen," which is the only course to pursue to effect a cure.—Lastly,
Because these Medicines really do cure the disease for which they are recommended. Principal Office for the United States, is at No. 19 North Eighth street, Philadelphia.

WHARTON'S
No. 237, North Third, above Callowhill St., PHILADELPHIA.
THE subscribers take pleasure in acquainting their friends and the public in general, that they have taken the large and commodious Hotel, recently built by the Messrs. Hart, on the same site once occupied by the old established Hotel known as the Bull's Head, in Third street above Callowhill St.
This Hotel is finished in the very best possible manner, and of the best materials. Its location is very desirable, particularly for country merchants; the arrangements for heating and ventilating each room is such as to secure any temperature. The bedrooms are all light and airy, all furnished in a neat style, so as to insure comfort.
The receiving parlors are also furnished in a superb style, the windows are on the French style, forming an entrance to a balcony in front, which makes a pleasant recess. Particular attention has been given to the beds and bedding, which, with the furniture, are entirely new.
From years' experience in hotel business, we trust, by strict attention to business, to make this house a desirable stopping place. Our table will always be supplied with the very best our market can afford, and our bar with the best liquors and wines of the most approved brands.
P. S. There are first rate stabling and carriage houses attached to the hotel, attended by careful and sober hostlers, and our charges will be low, in accordance with the present high times.

Martz, on which there is a good large Brick House, with a well of never failing water at the door, a large Barn in good repair, a good Orchard, and a good seat for a mill or any kind of water power. Nearly all the land is cleared and in good cultivation, twenty-five acres of which is good meadow. The Danville and Pottsville Rail Road runs through said farm. It will be sold as the property of Wm. Waters, dec'd. Any person wishing to purchase can do so, and the terms are reasonable. Possession and a good title can be given next Spring. For further particulars, persons are requested to apply to the widow, who lives on the premises, or to Godfrey Waters or E. Greenough, Esq., in Sunbury. GODFREY WATERS, C. R. WATERS,
May 7—1f. Executors of Wm. Waters, dec'd.

MERCHANTS HOUSE,
No. 237, North Third, above Callowhill St., PHILADELPHIA.
THE subscribers take pleasure in acquainting their friends and the public in general, that they have taken the large and commodious Hotel, recently built by the Messrs. Hart, on the same site once occupied by the old established Hotel known as the Bull's Head, in Third street above Callowhill St.
This Hotel is finished in the very best possible manner, and of the best materials. Its location is very desirable, particularly for country merchants; the arrangements for heating and ventilating each room is such as to secure any temperature. The bedrooms are all light and airy, all furnished in a neat style, so as to insure comfort.
The receiving parlors are also furnished in a superb style, the windows are on the French style, forming an entrance to a balcony in front, which makes a pleasant recess. Particular attention has been given to the beds and bedding, which, with the furniture, are entirely new.
From years' experience in hotel business, we trust, by strict attention to business, to make this house a desirable stopping place. Our table will always be supplied with the very best our market can afford, and our bar with the best liquors and wines of the most approved brands.
P. S. There are first rate stabling and carriage houses attached to the hotel, attended by careful and sober hostlers, and our charges will be low, in accordance with the present high times.

WHARTON'S
No. 237, North Third, above Callowhill St., PHILADELPHIA.
THE subscriber respectfully informs the public, that he has removed to that large and commodious Brick House, on Market square, opposite the Court House, (formerly kept by Hiram Price,) where he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with a call. Being thankful for past favors, he hopes by strict attention to business, to receive a liberal share of public patronage, &c.
