

Revisit to Sunbury.

Mr. Editor:—The sentiments conveyed in the following lines, arose in the mind of the subscriber upon revisiting Sunbury, after an absence of nearly three years:

Three years have past, three long, three weary years
Of hope, love, joy, of pleasure and of pain,—
Of soul-enobling hopes, of blighting fears,
And now I stand on thy green banks again,
My beautiful Sunbury. Once again,
I see thy hilly barriers round thee crowd;
I hear thy Sabbath bell boom o'er the plain,
In solemn cadence, mournful, sweet, and loud,
Like saintly warnings from some passing cloud.

Oh, I have stood and looked with solemn awe,
Upon the Thunderer's massy Altar, when
The trembling earth received the overthrow
Of blackening water; and confessed, that then
I felt a holy joy, as I surveyed
The struggle with pure promise overhead;
And turned with bower heart to Him who made
Niagara's dread voice, whose tones sublime
Shall ne'er be hushed, or stayed, throughout all time.

And I have stood upon the verge
Of the Prairie Ocean. I have climbed
The gloomy heights, whereon the funeral dirge
Of valiant Wolf (that dirge the rolling drum
Was heard when foemen met in deadly strife;
When fiery hearts from rival nations come,
And brave men fell beneath the murderous knife;
When breathless Quebec listened to the hum
Of distant battle, while her lip with fear was dumb.

Aye, I have trod the fairest walks of earth:
The quiet glade, the grotto, dell, and stream—
The flowery meadow, and the mountain's death;
Have seen the city spire, like torch-light gleam
Beneath the burning sunlight. I have seen
The moonbeams dancing in old Ocean's breast,
Have watched the Day-God, gloriously serene,
Sinking in burning, in the yellow west,
With gorgeous tinted clouds wrapped round
him like a vest.

But now, I feel a deeper, holier thrill
Of joy steal o'er my heart string, as I stand
Upon thy banks, sweet Sunbury, and view
The bridal of the Waters.—Calmly grand,
Two streams unite like the glad gushing heart,
And mingle their low vows beneath my feet,
While in my heart the new-waked echo starts,
While nameless voices joyous sounds repeat,
And fill this earthly Paradise with music sweet.

Captain Jack's Certificate.

"Having seen in the newspapers some pieces respecting the Declaration of independence by the people of Mecklenberg county, in the State of North Carolina, in May, 1775, and being solicited to state what I know of that transaction, I would observe, that for some time previous to, and at the time those resolutions were agreed upon, I resided in the town of Charlotte, Mecklenberg county; was privy to a number of meetings of some of the most influential and leading characters of that county on the subject, before the final adoption of the resolutions, and at the time they were adopted. Among those who appeared to take the lead, may be mentioned Ezekiah Alexander who generally acted as chairman, John McKnight Alexander, as secretary, Abraham Alexander, Major John Davidson, Major (afterwards General) William Davidson, Colonel Thomas Polk, Ezekiel Polk, Doctor Ephraim Brevard, Samuel Martain, Duncan Ocheltree, William Wilson, Robert Irvin.

"When the resolutions were finally agreed on, they were publicly proclaimed from the courthouse door, in the town of Charlotte, and received with every demonstration of joy by the inhabitants.
"I was then solicited to be the bearer of the proceedings to Congress. I set out the following month, (say June) and in passing through Salisbury, the general court was sitting; and at the request of the Court I handed a copy of the resolutions to Colonel Kennon, an attorney, and they were read aloud in open court. Major William Davidson, and Mr. Avery, an attorney, called on me at my longings the evening after, and observed, they had heard of but one person (a Mr. Beard,) who did not approve of them.

"I then proceeded on to Philadelphia, and delivered the Mecklenberg declaration of independence of May, 1775, to Richard Caswell and William Hooper, the delegates to Congress from the State of North Carolina.
"I am now in the eighty-eighth year of my age residing in the county of Elbert, in the state of Georgia. I was in the revolutionary war, from the commencement to its close.

"I would further observe, that the Reverend Francis Cummins, a Presbyterian clergyman, of Greene county, in this State, was a student in the town of Charlotte at the time of the adoption of the resolutions, and is as well or perhaps better acquainted with the proceedings at that time than any man now living.

"Colonel William Polk, of Raleigh, in North Carolina, was living with his father, Thomas, in Charlotte, at the time I have been speaking of, although too young to be forward in the business, yet the leading circumstances I have related cannot have escaped his recollection.
"JAMES JACK.

"Signed this 7th of December, 1819, in presence of "JOB WESTON, C. C. O.
"JAMES OLIVER, Attorney at law."
This is this monstrous fabrication crushed to the earth. No one will believe that Ezekiel Polk, who "took the lead" in a Declaration of independence more than a year prior to the Declaration by Congress, could ever have been a Tory in the Revolution.

POLK, DALLAS AND SHUNK.

Grand Democratic Mass Meeting of the THIRTEENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, AT MILTON, PA., ON SATURDAY, 14th OF SEPTEMBER.

RALLY DEMOCRATS! Rally Freemen! Rally Brethren! Rally from the Pines of gallant "OLD LYCOMING." Rally little CLINTON, the glorious Banner county of the district! Rally down-trodden but patri-otically Democrats of UNION! Rally your legions NORTHUMBERLAND! Come on, ye noble sons of the "STAR OF THE NORTH!" All come with the family! Come one, come all! Come old, come young! All to the rescue!

To our brethren of all sections we send greeting, and we shall be glad to welcome you among us. Come on! Democrats will always do their duty.
Hon. James Buchanan, Pennsylvania's gifted and talented favorite son, has written to us, "that God willing, he will be here," no day can suit him better. Who will not spend one day to listen to that eloquent champion of the people's rights.

We have also invited the following able speakers to attend, viz:—

B. H. Brewster, Col. James Page, Charles Brown, and E. B. Schnabel, of Philadelphia, Col. Rich Frazier and John W. Forney, of Lancaster, R. M. Barr, of Reading, Wilson McCandless, of Pittsburg, Gen. Robert Fleming and Wm. F. Packard, of Lycoming, Col. H. B. Wright and Hon. B. A. Billak, of Luzerne, James McManus and Col. James Burnside, of Centre, F. W. Hughes, of Schuylkill, and other eminent speakers.
The names of those who will certainly attend will be announced in the papers as their consent is received.
Democrats, this is no time for repose. Federalism, with its hydra head, is leaving no means untaken to fasten upon us its aristocratic principles and measures, therefore, arouse in the night and strength of Freemen, whose are determined to remain free, and show Federalism that the Democratic party values the true principles of our government and is fully determined that they never shall fall.

By order of the Milton Democratic Club.

Milton, August 24, 1844.
FIREFUL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last our fellow townsmen, E. Q. Henderson, Esq., met with an accident which had well nigh cost him not only his own life, but those of his wife and child. They were riding down the turnpike, and had just passed the Five Locks, when a team of Horses, attached to a heavy wagon, having been left by their driver, ran away and soon came up with Mr. H. who, hearing the noise behind him, had turned out to the edge of the precipice, but not sufficiently far to escape collision, and his Horse, carriage and inmates were precipitated down the bank, which was at least forty feet high—apparently to their utter destruction. Yet as if by a miracle, after falling some 5 or 6 feet, the top of the carriage caught in a tree, and held them suspended upwards of 30 feet above the Canal, until a gentleman came and extricated them—the Horse detached from the carriage, fell about 12 feet. The carriage was broken to atoms, and the Horse seriously bruised and injured, while Mr. H., his lady and child, extraordinary as it may seem, escaped with no other injury than the fright naturally induced by their perilous situation.

A FREAK OF LIGHTNING.—The barn of Mr. Benedict Babcock, one mile from Clinton, on the road to Utica, was struck by lightning, and burnt about 6 o'clock on Friday evening last. The building was full of hay, oats, and other grain, belonging to Mr. I. P. Cook, tenant of Mr. Babcock. Mr. Cook had just finished his summer's harvest, and drove in the team with the last load of grain, closed the doors and went to the house to get his supper, leaving the horses attached to the wagon, when in a moment the whole was enveloped in flames, and so rapid was its progress that he did not save the horses.

Frederick the Great must have destroyed a great many thousand lives before he became so proficient in the art of killing; yet, when in the presence of his own physician he resigned his laurels to the M. D., and surrendered all claims to superiority over him in that department. Napoleon, in his fatal Russian campaign, destroyed about one million of human beings, and we call him a hero! Dr. Brandt's Vegetable Universal Pills have saved the lives of at least half that number, and when the properties of his medicine shall be duly appreciated, he will receive the thanks of his fellow citizens; a richer gift than either titles or crowns.
In order to secure the medicine in its purity, he has excluded druggists from any participation in its sale.

SHUGERT'S PATENT WASHING MACHINE.

THIS Machine has now been tested by more than thirty families in this neighborhood, and has given entire satisfaction. It is so simple in its construction, that it cannot get out of order. It contains no iron to rust, and no springs or rollers to get out of repair. It will do twice as much washing, with less than half the wear and tear of any of the late inventions, and what is of greater importance, it costs but little or half as much as other washing machines.
The subscriber has the exclusive right for Northumberland, Union, Lycoming, Columbia, Luzerne and Clinton counties. Price of single machine $5. H. B. MASSER.
The following certificate is from a few of those who have used the machine in use.
We, the subscribers, certify that we have now in use, in our families, "Shugert's Patent Washing Machine," and do not hesitate saying that it is a most excellent invention. That, in washing, it will save more than one half the usual labor.—That it does not require more than our third the usual quantity of soap and water; and that there is no rubbing, and consequently, little or no wearing or tearing.—That it knocks off no buttons, and that the finest cloths, such as collars, laces, tucks, frills, &c., may be washed in a very short time without the least injury, and in fact without any apparent wear and tear, whatever. We therefore cheerfully recommend it to our friends and to the public, as a most useful and labor saving machine. CHARLES W. HEGINS, A. JORDAN, CHS WEAVER, CHS PLEASANTS, GIDEON MARBLE. Sunbury, Aug. 24, 1844.

The Philosophical WASHING MACHINE.

THIS WASHING MACHINE, plain and simple in its construction, cannot fail to find its way into every family when its real value becomes known. The price (six dollars) is fixed at the lowest rate, in order to enable every family to obtain one. The inventor guarantees that it will not require more than one fourth the usual quantity of soap.—That it will wash in one-third the usual time, and what is a matter of great importance, the wear and tear is so small, or at least so little, that it is not perceptible, such as finest black worsted and woollen can be washed, if necessary, in the same suds with linen and cotton. This may seem strange to those who do not know the principle upon which it works. It is the only machine ever invented that washes upon the principle of the friction of water alone. All others wash upon the principle of friction or rubbing, by bringing the clothes in contact with some part of the machine. Independent of the great saving of labor, economy should bring it into general use. The poor man cannot afford to do without it, while the rich man will use it as a convenience, if nothing else. Large families will save from five to fifteen dollars a year in soap alone, and not less than 20 per cent. in the wear and tear of washes, besides the great saving of labor and expense in clothing. The subscriber will guarantee that it will perform all that he has stated, if properly used. He has secured from the patentee, the right to Northumberland, Union, Lycoming, Columbia, Luzerne and Clinton counties.
