

THE OWL'S SOLILOQUY.

BY T. WESTWOOD. 'Twas the twilight hour, 'Twas-tuwhoo! Said the Owl, as he peered the branches through...

'I'm the king of birds, and I would ill agree With my royal state and dignity. To mix with the vulgar throng; So I wait till the shades begin to fall...

'If I were to sing in the broad daylight, I've not the least doubt they would all be quite As pleased and as mute as now; But I've often been told, and I think they're right...

'—Alas! there's that silly young bird again— That nightingale, with his tedious strain— Now really it's very wrong;— He listened to me, one summer's eve, And ever since then without my leave...

'Twas-tuwhoo, tuwhoo, tuwhoo— He'll be sensible soon, what a vain to do He has made with his rivalry; Indeed, I've a mind myself to teach The bird, how completely beyond his reach...

'So now for a stave!—'Twas-tuwhoo! Said the owl, as he fluttered the branches through, Of the grim, dark churchyard tree; And a proud old fellow was he that hour, As perched on the top of the belfry tower...

NEVER DO IT.—Never ask the age of an unmarried lady when she passes five-and-twenty. Never expose your poverty to a rich relation...

Never let come to the ears of a rich and childless relative that you secretly pray for his sudden and premature dissolution. Never tell a man he's a cursed fool...

Never take a newspaper without paying for it, it's the shabbiest act you could possibly be guilty of. A CAUTIOUS WIDOWER.—In a village in Picardy...

It would seem from the following, the "Reveille" entertain the same apprehensions of the influence of widows, as Tony Weller:—

Beware of the Widows.—Young widows are always blithe. They ever meet one with a smile and flattering word. Can any one tell why?

Young widows pay very scrupulous attention to dress. None knows so well as they what colors, black, or otherwise, are best suited to their complexion...

Young widows are better pleased with bachelors than with widowers. What can be the reason? Young widows are the most charming part of creation...

How to get a feather bed.—The following is an extract from Lover's "Handy Andy":—"In carrying off even the small thing of a feather bed, Jack Tate, the bowld burglar, showed the skill of a high practitioner...

"Backwards!" exclaimed Larry Hogan; "what's that for?" "You'll see by and by," said Croggins. "He descended backwards, when suddenly he heard a door opening, and a female voice exclaimed—"

"Where are you going with that bed?" "I'm going up stairs with it, ma'am, said Jack, whose backward position favored his lie; and he began to walk up again.

"Come down, said the lady, 'we want no bed here man.'" "Mr. Sullivan, ma'am sent me home with it himself," said Jack.

"Come down, I tell you," said the lady in a rage, "there's no Mr. Sullivan lives here." "I beg your pardon, my lady," said Jack Tate, turning round, and marching off with the bed fair and easy.

"Well, there was a regular shillio in the house when the thing was found out, and cart ropes wouldn't hould the lady for the rage she was in."

A MURKY MANS.—Nancy, you must have my things ready to-morrow morning early—the boat starts at 7 o'clock.

"O, dear, husband! with you it is always must, must, must—you are the most mucky man I ever knew."

OAKLEY'S DEPURATIVE SYRUP.

THE valuable properties of Oakley's Depurative Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as a purifier of the blood, is as well known to the public generally...

It is unnecessary to occupy much space in setting forth the advantages to be derived from its use; wherever the medicine has once been introduced, it takes precedence over all others...

It is also under the care of two of the most distinguished physicians of this city, but without receiving much benefit, and I despaired of ever being cured. In the fall of 1836, the disease at the time being very violent, I commenced using the Rose Ointment...

It has now been nearly a year and a half since, and there is not a vestige of the disease remaining, except the scars from the deep pits formed by the disease. It is impossible for me to describe in a certificate the severity of the disease and my suffering, but I will be pleased to give a fuller account to any person wishing further satisfaction...

JOHN MOYER, Tailor, Walnut street, near Fourth, Reading, Pa. ROSE OINTMENT, FOR TETTER.

RINGWORMS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, AND OTHER CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS. THE following certificate describes one of the most extraordinary cures ever effected by any application.

PHILADELPHIA, February 10, 1838. FOR twenty years I was severely afflicted with Tetter on the Face and Head; the disease commenced when I was seventeen years old, and continued until the Fall of 1836, varying in violence, but without ever disappearing. During most of the time, great part of my face was covered with the eruption, frequently attended with violent itching; my head swelled at times until it felt as if it would burst—the swelling was so great, that I could scarcely get my hat on. During the long period that I was afflicted with the disease, I used a great many applications, (among them several celebrated preparations) as well as taking inward remedies, including a number of bottles of Swain's Panacea, Extract of Sarsaparilla, &c. In fact it would be impossible to enumerate all the medicines I used.

I was also under the care of two of the most distinguished physicians of this city, but without receiving much benefit, and I despaired of ever being cured. In the fall of 1836, the disease at the time being very violent, I commenced using the Rose Ointment, (prepared by Vaughan & Davis). In a few applications the violent itching ceased, the swelling abated, the eruption began to disappear, and before I had used a jar the disease was entirely cured. It has now been nearly a year and a half since, and there is not a vestige of the disease remaining, except the scars from the deep pits formed by the disease. It is impossible for me to describe in a certificate the severity of the disease and my suffering, but I will be pleased to give a fuller account to any person wishing further satisfaction...

THESE are the names of the physicians who have cured me. JAMES DURNELL, No. 156, Race St. The Rose Ointment is prepared by E. B. Vaughan, South East corner of Third and Race Streets, Philadelphia, and sold on agency in Sunbury, Pa. by H. B. MASSER, Agent, May 14th, 1843.

ROSE Ointment, for Tetter. A PROOF OF ITS EFFICACY. PHILADELPHIA, May 27th, 1839. THIS is to certify that I was severely afflicted with Tetter in the hands and feet for upwards of forty years; the disease was attended generally with violent itching and swelling. I applied to a number of physicians, and used a great many applications without effecting a cure. About a year since I applied the Rose Ointment, which entirely cured the itching, and a few applications immediately cured the disease, which there has been no return of, although I had never been rid of it at any time for forty years. WM. HELLMAN & CO., Commission & Forwarding Merchants.

Foot of Willow Street Railroad, on the DELAWARE. Having associated with them Joseph Barret, late of Easton, Pa., respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have taken that large and well known store and wharf at foot of Willow Street Railroad, lately occupied by Jacob Martin, where they purpose doing a General Commission and Forwarding Business, and from the local advantages of the place being connected with all the public improvements that have their outlet in the city, they flatter themselves they will be able to do business to as great, if not greater advantage, and upon as reasonable terms as any other house, and they assure their friends that any communications made to them shall have their strict attention, and no exertions spared to give entire satisfaction.

They are also prepared to receive and forward goods to any point on the Delaware and Lehigh rivers, between Muncy, Easton, and Philadelphia, via Delaware Division and Lehigh Canal; also to any point on the Juniata river, or North and West Branches of the Susquehanna via Schuylkill and Union, or the Chesapeake and Tide Water Canal.

For the accommodation of Boats coming or going via Schuylkill and Union Canals, a Steamboat will be kept expressly for towing boats from the Schuylkill around to the Delaware and back, which will enable merchants to have their produce delivered on the Delaware, and their goods shipped at a saving of 50 to 75 per cent, on the price for hauling around, with these advantages they respectfully solicit a share of patronage.
