

At 12 o'clock, nominations were made for United States Senator, and over one hundred were named. Of these, those nominated in the Senate yesterday were a portion, and besides, Charles McClure, E. W. Keyser, Jos. R. Ingersoll, E. C. Reigert, John W. Ashmead, Jacob Broom, Henry Chapman, John Smith, Jr., and some fifty or sixty more were named. It seems almost a pity that there is only one vacancy to fill.

The tariff question was the principal feature of the day, and a very animated discussion took place in regard to it; both Democrats and Whigs assuming to be in favor of the act of 1842. The subject came up on proceeding to the second reading of Mr. Bright's resolutions, which read as follows:

"Whereas, Capitalists have been induced to make investments under the act of Congress on the subject of the tariff in full confidence and faith that said law would not be altered. Therefore,

"Resolved, &c., That our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our Representatives requested to oppose the passage of any bill which may have for its object any reduction whatever in the present tariff as established by the provisions of the act of Congress, passed on the 30th August, on thousand eight hundred of forty-two.

"Resolved, That the Governor of this Commonwealth be requested to forward a copy of these resolutions, with the yeas and nays attached, to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress, with a request to lay the same before the respective bodies of which they are members."

These resolutions having been read a second time, Mr. Baily moved to amend by adding to the end thereof, after the word "forty-two," these words—"which might prove injurious to the manufacturing and agricultural interests of his Commonwealth, sternly to resist any reduction in the present duties on iron, coal and wool, and to omit no effort to sustain all the great interests of the nation." Lost.

[The resolutions were unanimously adopted, without amendment, on the 14th inst.]

A HARMLESS ROBBACK.—We have seen stated in sundry Whig papers, that Mr. Clay's estate account during the last year, amounted to some $10,000. Now, upon applying to the proper source for information, says the Washington Constitution; we find that the whole amount of postage received at the Lexington office for the year 1844, was $9,930 99. No comment is necessary.

MOST HORRIBLE.—Thomas Wilson, a hand in a rolling mill at Pittsburgh, met with a most distressing accident on Saturday week. As the red hot iron was passing through the rollers, it curled up and struck him in the right eye, and then wound around his arms and body, burning them in a horrible manner. Some moments elapsed before the hot iron could be removed, so completely had it wound itself around him. He is still living.

The Governor of Ohio estimates that there are 20,000,000 acres of land in that State suitable for cultivation, and that about 9,000,000 acres, including meadows and pasture land are now actually cultivated. He also estimates, as real property of the State, with the improvements, to be worth $420,000,000 and the personal and effects at $180,000,000, making a total aggregate of $600,000,000.

The coffer-dam which has been built around the bulk of Captain Kidd's vessel at the foot of the Dunderberg mountains, is nearly completed, and it is expected the water will be pumped out about the 1st of February. A steam engine will be employed for the purpose of throwing out 36 barrels per minute. We shall then know what the vessel contains if nothing more. From the structure of a gun recovered from her, it is certain that she is very old.—About 45 men are now employed in the work.

In the back part of the county of Lunenburg, at a place called Chelsea, a party of Indians had encamped for the purpose of catching moose, finding the moose long in coming, they thought it best to separate, and drive them into the yard. While one of them was in search of the game, he encountered a party of bears, four in number. He succeeded in killing three, but the fourth was too strong and unfortunately killed the poor Indian. When found by his companions who went in search of him, his gun was completely bent over, as is supposed by blows given to the animal, and the poor fellow had rasped his knife in the hope of despatching him. He was considerably mangled.

SEPENTIN.—Johannes Ronge, a Catholic priest at Laurahutte, Germany, has published a letter censuring severely Bishop Arnoldi, the Catholic Bishop of Treves, for practising a gross imposition upon the people, by exhibiting for public show and adoration, a relic, said to be the coat of Christ, and possessed of the power of healing the sick.

HORSEWHIPPING THEATRICAL MANAGERS.—The following eye advertisement appears in the "Savannah Sun" of January 3—

"To Mr. Potter, the Coward.—You well enough know that I called upon you on Thursday with my bill, which in amount was $100 25, for services rendered in your theatre in this city. I am willing to take half, or even quarter, and give you a receipt in full. Your conduct to a lady on that occasion, merited, by its grossness, the chastisement you received at my hands in the absence of my husband, who is now at Macon. In consideration of the horsewhipping I gave you, I hereby exonerate you from all indebtedness to me, or any demand I might have made upon your box-office.

Jan. 3, 1846. CLARA S. RUSSELL."

Idle Threats.
The old story about dissolution of the Union is revived, and by those who are instructed by the conflicting political factions of the country. This story has been told in all quarters, by all parties successively, and probably by all with equal sincerity. We have long since ceased to regard it as anything more than a scare-crow, raised by a faction to promote its purpose of the day; and as such we always regard it with very little more than contempt, though we always entertain due indignation for any one who serious thinks of it as desirable. Many years ago it was threatened by the old "Federal" party of Connecticut; one of their leaders, a celebrated lawyer, named John Allen, beginning the movement by several essays in one of the newspapers of Hartford, and probably the Conn. Courant, written with great plausibility, and designed to show the necessity of separation to the safety and prosperity of New England at least, if not of the Middle States. This was succeeded by a similar movement in Massachusetts, before and during the war of 1812; separation being only recommended as necessary to the safety of the commercial States. The war ending successfully, the old "Federal" party, the majority of whom never countenanced separation, having disbanded, and "the era of good feelings" having begun with the administration of Mr. Monroe, we heard and saw no more of this scare-crow till 1818, and subsequently, when Pennsylvania and others of the Middle States began to urge the doctrine of protection. Then South Carolina and Georgia began to talk of separation, and used it as a stereotyped threat till about two years ago. Then Mr. Adams presented a petition from Massachusetts, praying for a "dissolution of the Union." This, of course, produced great excitement and great opposition; and foremost in deprecating such catastrophe were the delegation from South Carolina, who had before been foremost in the threat. This movement tested the sincerity of the threat, and showed the Southern threateners into silence on the threadbare subject, until about a year ago, when Mr. M'Duffie uttered some nonsense about "three confederacies." But now the subject is revived by the Northern Abolitionists, who gravely offer elaborate arguments in support of separation. Thus do we find this scare-crow transferred from field to field, always for some temporary purpose, to be soon laid aside by one faction till wanted by another.

We believe that if Northern separation should be subject to the same test which the Southern could not endure, that it would fall quite as rapidly. No party in favor of separation, numerous enough to govern a single State, can ever be raised in this country; and every faction that attempts to raise such a standard, will soon drop it if treated with deserved contempt. Even in South Carolina, where the dissolving faction is less weak than in any other State, it never could command a majority of votes; and in New York or Massachusetts, where another dissolving faction now talk of separation, an overwhelming majority would regard the project as preposterous. Therefore whenever this scare-crow is brought from faction's garret, and set up to frighten the majority into yielding some point, we laugh at the attempt to do something against which all the interests and feelings of the country will ever wage an interminable, uncompromising war.

One of the newspapers, with its usual affection of political wisdom, says that the "Democracy" of New England and the Middle States are beginning to dissolve their partisan connection with the Southern States, and in consequence of the position and policy of Mr. Calhoun in relation to annexation; and that if this course should defeat annexation, it will save a triumph to the Abolitionists of the North, that will react upon the South, and terminate in the dissolution of the Union into Mr. M'Duffie's "three confederacies." We do not yet believe, after the defeat of all former projects for dissolving this Union, that it is quite such a rope of sand as any faction may suppose, whether Abolitionists of the North, or "Slaveocracy" of the South. The majority of the free States will not leave the Union because Texas is annexed, and the majority of the Slave States will not leave it because Mr. Calhoun's projects for the extension and perpetuation of slavery are defeated. This Union will survive annexation, and Mr. Calhoun, Mr. M'Duffie, the Abolitionists, or slavery. This mighty confederacy, these United States of America, free republican, prosperous and happy, extending from Labrador to the Gulf of Mexico, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, including Texas, Oregon, Nova Scotia and Canada, will exist for ages after every vestige of domestic slavery shall have disappeared from the earth. We have no fears about disunion, and therefore laugh at "disunionist," Northern and Southern; and all such will disappear, when sure of creating their only desert, public contempt.—Phila. Ledger.

SEASONABLE ADVICE.—Take time by the forelock," says the adage. Take medicine at the proper time, say we. It is a matter of less difficulty to ascertain the proper time to seek relief from medicine, than it is to discover the proper medicine which is to administer comfort to the afflicted patient. Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, which have obtained a celebrity in the "Annals of Physic," unequalled in ancient and modern times, have performed such astonishing cures, that thousands of people, in justice to Dr. Brandreth, have publicly recorded their opinions of their wonderful and extraordinary health-restoring qualities.

Cantrell's Aque Mixture, or Tonic Medicament.
For the cure of all Bilious affections, if taken according to directions.
It is a never failing remedy which no family ought to be without, especially in low marshy countries.
As this medicine is put up under the proprietor's immediate inspection on the most scientific principles, being Purely Vegetable, and having tried its efficacy on thousands, for upwards of 12 years, and to his knowledge, when taken strictly according to directions, there has not been one failure. Under such circumstances I recommend it to the public, adding a certificate in support of my assertion.
I, John Burns, do certify that I was in the ship Tobacco Plant of Philadelphia, Capt. Reed, in June, 1827, bound to Liverpool; took the fever and ague and laid in Liverpool some time under the doctor's hands, went from there to Baltimore, lay in the Infirmary for four or five weeks—from thence to Philadelphia; was six months under Dr. Coats; from thence to New York—went to the Hospital, remained there about four weeks without any relief—tried every thing without any benefit. For five years. Hearing of Cantrell's Aque Mixture from a friend, I went to his store, told him how I was afflicted, and got a bottle of his mixture and used it according to directions. It made a perfect cure, and I have not had the least return since. I do with confidence recommend it to the public.

DYSPEPSIA.
THIS Medicine is offered to the public generally from a full conviction that it is superior to any other in decline now in use, for the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, and Bilious Weakness, &c.
Its efficacy has been tested in a private practice of near eight years, and it is now more extensively circulated, at the solicitation of many who have received the most signal benefit from the use of it.
The following is one among a number of certificates received in relation to the success of this medicine:
LAWRENCE Co. March 18.
DR. GEORGE W. ALLEN,
Dear Sir.—It is with great pleasure that I inform you of the success attending your Dyspeptic Medicine, which employed in my practice. From past experience, I firmly believe that in eight cases out of ten, the Dyspeptic, by the use of your medicine, may entirely rid himself of his thorn in the pathway of life; not only in dyspeptic cases, but in all cases of indigestion, and diseases depending on a disordered state of the nervous system, together with a torpid state of the bowels, will your Elixir be found of inestimable value. Numerous instances wherein the usefulness of the medicine has been realized, may be forwarded, if required. I wish you great success, and recommend the medicine to the suffering part of mankind.
Yours, with great respect,
ROBERT AGNEW, M. D.
