Correspondence of the Public Ledget. Important Message from the President.

WARHINGTON, March 23, 11, P. M. I learn this evening, from a source which to both Houses of Congress a "War Message," to use the language of my informant, in reply, probably, to the resolution of Mr. Dayton, offered in the Senate two or three weeks since, calling on the President for an expression of opinion as to whether any circumstances in the state of our foreign relations render necessary an increase of our land and naval forces, and if so, what those circumstances are ! I have once or twice before alluded to this resolution, and to importance to the country. The impression .has gained strength, since the arrival of the Hifor the construction of ten war steam-ships, &c., should be passed ; and it is stated that the mesaugmentation of the navy, and other measures for placing the country in a state of defence. If my information shall prove correct, and it is of his cost. possible to obtain a copy, I will forward you the message to-morrow afternoon ; if I cannot obtain a copy, you shall have the substance. J.

Correspondence of the Public, Ledger,

WASWINGTON, March 23, 1846. Whether the Oregon debate will be termin ated the present week, now appears to be doubtful, as several Benators, I leave this morning. have privately expressed their intention to address the Senate, and Mr. Webster among the number. The ultimate vote of the whigs on the question of notice, appears again to be involved in some uncertainty.

A message was announced from the Presicordingly rose, and the Speaker resumed the chair, when the message was delivered in writing by the Private Secretary of the President. proceeded, substantially, "The President of the United States herewith transmits to the Senate and House of Representatives covius of the correspondence which has recently taken place between the United States and the government of Great Britain-(here several members ted risen to their feet, and those who retained their seats stratched themselves forward esgerly distening for the the word)-in reference to certain duties on imposts alleged to have been imposed in violation of the convention of 1815 !" A general laugh followed this unexpected denoument. I have seldom witnessed a more exciting scene. It was evidently the expectation that further correspondence on the Oregon question, of an important character, was about to be communicated. A proposition is under by Mr. Pakentum for a refunding of duties on both sides, imposed in violation of the treaty, and this proposition is acceded to by Mr. Buchanan.

IMPORTANT RUMOR .- We learn by a slip from the New Orleans Picayune, of March 16, that a commercial house of that city had received a letter from Galveston, Texas, dated the 14th inthink may be relied upon, that the President of stant, which states, information had been the United State will to morrow (Tuesday) send brought by the schr. Mary Shields, from Matamoras, bound to New York, having put into Galveston in distress, that the American Consul at Matamoras, J. P. Schatzell, Esq., was in prison, accused by the authorities of corresponding with General Taylor at Corpus Christi.

This is important information, if true, and may lead to an active demonstration on the part of the American forces sooner than was supposed. General Taylor, by the last accounts, had commenced marching his army to the Rio the probability that it would elicit something of Grande, on the West bank of which not far from its mouth Matamoras lies. This close neighborhood will eaable him to act promptly, according bernia, that the bill of Mr. Faitfield, providing to his orders. In the event of the news being confirmed, he may have the duty assigned him of releasing the Consul from his confinement, sage to which I have referred will recommend an and chastising the insult offered to our country.

"Genius will always work its way through." as the poet said when he saw a hole in the elbow

BRANDRETR'S PILLS cure all affections, simply because they make the blood pure-abstract out of it those qualities which produce disease, and give to it those qualities which produce health.

Now every solid part of the human frame is nade from the blood, and the food we get is converted into blood to supply the waste our bodies are continually sustaining. So in the ordinary course of nature we manufacture our entire bodies in about nine years, from the food taken into our stomachs. Suppose the sir we have lived in for some time has been loaded with matters detrimentel to bealth, or our food for a long period has been of an unwholesome kind, or that the mind has been much troubled-for grief, suziety, or great attendent of the United States. The Committee ac. | tion to any particular point is sure to occasion bad effects in the blood. Any of these causes existing. good blond cannot be supplied to the body.

But let Braudreth's Pills be used daily under (Cries of 'read it!' 'read it!') The reading was these circumstance-, in doses of from two to six accordingly commenced by the clerk, and the pills, or as the case shall determine. What is their interest, great at first, became intense as he effect ! It is to carry off the impure matters from the blood, leaving only the good to renew every part of the body. What was unsound now becomes sound, and the stowach soon gets into so bealthy a condition that even bad air or unwholesome food for a time are unable to injure the health mate inly.

be recollected was convicted last fall of a serie of bold and daring burglaries in this borough and sentenced to pine years imprisonment a hard labor in the County juil, was shot dead by Mr. Watson, keeper of the prison, yesterday morning. The facts of the case are as follows: about 6 o'clock Mr. Watson went into the passage, as usual, to serve the prisoners with break-fast; when the came to the cell occupied by Gibbs he opened the outer door, and the convict instantly put his arm through the hule in the inner door, drew back the bolt, and rushed into the passage towards Mr. Watson. The latter drew a revolving pistol, and ordered him to stand back, or he would shoot, and finding him still advancing, he drew the trigger, but it mis sed fire. Gibbs then clinched the keeper, and threw him on his back, but Mr. Watson turned himself so that he got his teet against the priconer's breat, by which means he pushed him off and again attempted to fire, but without effect. Gibbs closed on him a second time, and threw him, when a deadly struggle took placethe convict using the most desperate efforts to wrench the pistol from the keeper's haud. In the course of the struggle the convict said, "Give me the pistol and I will let you slone; it you don't I will kill you-or if you make any noise I'll kill you." noise I'll kill you." An alarm, however, would have been of little consequence, as the door leading to the passage was locked on the inside. Watson knowing this, and seeing that the issue was for life or death, straggled manfully for a few moments, when he got his arm around the convict, and discharged one of the loads in his back. Gibbs instantly relinquished his hold, and both regained their feet, when Watson fired again, and the shot took effect in Gibbs' left side, in the region of the heart. He then retreated to his cell, tollowed by the keepor. When he was inside he again turned upon the keeper, who fired the third time, the ball passing directly through his breast, when the convict fell, and in a few moments expired. Gibbs was a light mulatto, aged about 40 years, twelve or fifteen of which he has spent n the Eastern Penitentiary. He was a most lesperate and hardened villain, and has several times threatened to take the life of Mr. Watson. It is but a few weeks ago that he nade an ingenious but cosoccessful attempt to escape. It is evident that his intention was to take advantage of the stillness of the Sabbath morning, wreat the keys from the keeper, force him into his cell, and thus make his cecape; but fortunately he was foiled, and Mr. Watson deserves credit for sending to his final secount such a black hearted and blood-thirsty villian who constantly placed the lives of all in eopardy who came in contact with him. The Coroner held an inquest, and the jury eturned a verdict of 'justifiable homicide.' After the rendition of the verdict, the body vas suffered to lay an hour in front of the jail -a sickening sight to gratify a morbid curiosiy-after which it was removed to the alms-iouse for burial-and thus ends a career of crime and infamy.

A CARD.

HAVING had the pleasure of trying the excellent Piano Fortes maninetured by Mr. Meyer, and exhibited at the last exhibition of the Franklin Institute, I feel it due to the true merit of the maker to declare that these instruments are quilt equal, and in some respects even superior, to all the Pa-ano Forter, I saw at the capitals of Europe, and during a sojourn of two years at Paris. These Pisnos will be sold at the menufacturer's lowest Philadelphia prices, if not something lower. Persons are requested to call and examine for themselves, at the residence of the subscriber. Bunbury, May 17, 1845. H. B. MANSER.
