TERMS OF THE "AMERICANA" JOSEPH EISELY. S PROPRIETORS.

H. B. MARRER, Better. Office in Centre Alley, in the roan of H. Mas THE "AMERICAN" is published every Saturday at TWO DOLLARS per annum to be paid half yearly in advance. No paper discontin-

No subscriptions received for a less period that SIX NONTES. All communications or letters on business relating to the office, to insure attention, must be POST PAID.

CHIE A TE WATCHES! JEWELRY.

No. 96 North SECOND street, corner of Quarry

quelity, Superior Quartier Watches, Imitation Quartier Watches, not warranted, Gold Spectacles, Ladies' Gold Pencils, 16 carats, 2 00 Gold Pinger Kings 374 cts to $8; Watch Glas-

Boot & Shoe ESTABLISHMENT.

with (oprosity the RED LION HOTEL) der. In the newtest and latest style, " werented of the best material, and made by the most experienced workmen. He also keeps on band a general assortment of fashionable Bo gentlemen, together with a large stock of fushion sble gentlemen's, boys', ladies' and children's Shoes all of which have been made under his own immediste inspection, and are of the best material and workmanship, which he will sell low for cash. In addition to the above, he has just received from Philad-lobin a large and extensive supply a Boots, Shoes, den. of all descriptions, which he also Repairing done with neatness and despatch. Sunbury, August 15th, 1846 .-

TO ALL COUNTRY HOUSEKEEPERS all times, pure and highly flavored RITE A.S.

June 27th, 1846.

PIANOS.

NOS, at this place. These Pianos have a plain, assive and bragtiful exterior finish, and, for depth A CARD ing a sojourn of two years at Paris.

est Philadelphia prices, if not something lower. sons are requested to call and examine for uselves, at the residence of the subscriber. unbury, May 17, 1845. H. B. MASSER.

il be seen that the only thing necessary to pro-the medicine in its purity, is to observe these orthumberland county: Milton-Mackey & mberlin. Sunbury-H. B. Masser. M'Ewens-Ireland & Meixell. Northumberland-Wm. yth. Georgetown-J. & J. Walla.

CERTIFICATES OF AGENCY

Pills.

sa C. C. Brobts. Bloomsburg John R. er. Josep Town Levi Binds. Washington, McCay . Limestone Ballies & McNinch. perye that each Agent has an Engraved Certe of Agency, containing a representation of RANDRPTH'S Manufactory at Sing Sing, upon which will also be man exact copies of use labels now used upon the Beandreth Pill

AND SHAMOKIN JOURNAL, THE THE THE SHAPE AND THE THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY O

Absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority, the vital principle of Republica, from which there is no appeal but to force, the vital principle and immediate parent of despotism.—Jarraneous

[From the Nashville Gazette.] orders are to place him in from and 111 be if it slian t be done, that's certain," stand.

Almoste, stated the matter as ordered, and ever, he stepped to the door, and ordered in tered with muskets in their bands one of whom

"Shoulder arms!" ordered the captain, in a

"Ready!"-up went the muskets to the eye-

"Aim!"-a dead silence here enemed, whilst an expression of supreme entisfaction settled upon the stern features of the Kentuckian as his eye glanced along the bright barrel. Santa

Anna grew deadly pale, and seemed to totter.

Dawson held in his hand a pondrous silver watch "I give you half a minute to consider-if at the end of that time you do not submit you are a dead man," saying which his eye rested again on the dial of his watch. Thoroughly frightened by this time, he made a gesture of submission, sat down in a chair, and leaned his head on the bed, over which he drew a blanket, and placed his feet in a position to be shackled.

When the irons were fastened on, he divested his head of his blanket, and asked if we were not ashamed to use the President of the great

"The President of the great Mexican nation be ---!" growled the Kentuckian, as he brought

"Right face-march!" cried the captain, in a quick, sharp voice. The room was cleared in an instant, and the captive President was left to

The next day we ironed Almonte-but Almonte was a philosopher of the right stamp, and took the matter in perfect good humor. He made a joke at the expense of the smith who was rivetting his chains, which set every one in a roar, and so tickled the Cyclop, himself, as to render him unfit for Susiness during several ped his irons off the moment that our backs were turned-in tact, he put them on and took them off at pleasure; but nobody ever inquired into the matter closely, for Almonte was a favorite

CHINAMEN ON A REILROAD. - Among the guests of the Farmer's Club on a recent 'excursion to

Greenport, Long Island, were Hening and Sum

Teen, the two principal dignituries of the Chinese junk, who with their robes of tea green silk and long queues stirred up an immense sensation all along the route both going and coming. He sing and Sum Teen, for the first time since their arrival, exhibited astonishment and delight.-

When the train plunged into the tunnel they thought they were going to take a short cut through the bowels of the earth, home again to Canton. They exhibited every symptom of alarm: and nothing could exceed their delight on emerging into daylight. The speed of the train brought their queves to complete perpendicular with fright, and their respective owners held on to the cars to prevent being spilled out. The whole railroad contrivance was a complete riddle to them. They could not make anything at all out of it, though they instituted several investigations to that effect. Hesing laughed outright at the idea of feeding the iron horses on blocks of

A WASH FOR FRUIT TREES .- A good deal

has been said about the application for this pur-pase-one recommending lime, another solution of soft sonp, and another a solution of potash -

I have tried the solution of black salts, the application of sosp, and also that of wood asher;

for large trees with rough back, the latter is quite as good, if not better than the former. A wash of ashes, and water can be made as strong as you please, and if put on some dry day, a good deal of the ashes will remain adhering to the bark, which the subsequent rains wash into crevices. This wash if applied in the summer time will, while the ashes remain on the tree, make it offensive and disagreeable to the insects, and deter them from lightning on it, also ultimately makes the bark small and healthy.

years a'thand most swam Miner's Journal be

REMARKABLE PROPERTIES OF GUANG -A native of 'Down East,' describing with characteristic exaggeration, the remarkable properties of Guano, as a premoter of vegetation said, that streak; and although he started off at the top of his speed, the vines overtook and covered him.

utes. It was the oninion that Al with us all.

his own melancholy reflection.

"click"-"click," went the locks.

exceeding calm and steady voice.

rehumme. Philadelphia is also authi

Sumbury, Northumberland Co. Pa. Saturday, August 21, 1847.

ner, we one day accepted an invitation to visit endeavored to remonstrate, but the General imthe penitentiary, there. We had letters to the patiently waved him off with one hand, whilst kind-hearted warden, Mr. Scattergood, (a most with the other he flourished the big glass inkappropriate same, by the way,) who extended to us all the courtesy we could have desired. Capt. Dick Dawson's patience was entirely We were conducted through the prison, and in exhausted-remonstrance was at an end-he company with Mr. S. we entered several of the had already mid more than he had ever been cells. The superintendent learning we were known to say to a mortal man whenever there from Boston, informed us that a prisoner was was a prospect of a row. Perfectly cool, howconfined there, for passing counterfeit money. who hailed from Massachusetts. He had been file of men; whereupon a couple of fellows enthere two or three year, and we found him a very intelligent man. His cell was exceedingwas a fierce looking Kentuckian, the most deadly cleanly, and upon the table in the corner, we ly hater of every thing in the shape of a Mexidiscovered several standard books, a Bible, &c. can, and particularly Santa Appa, I ever met which gave evidence of having been thoroughly read by the prisoner. He was said to be very industrious, and certainly appeared comfortable, under the circumstances. His name was Geo. -... He remarked that he was very glad to see any one from Boston, and seriously regretted that he should have been one of the few Bosmuians, comparatively, who had disgraced the honored name of the "Old Bay State." He. was happy, apparently, and as we parted, we shook his hand, and remarked that it was possible we might call upon him again, in a few weeks. 'You will be sure, sir, to find me at home, said he, with a smile, as we left the door of his cell! As we entered the reception room once more. bulky despatch was handed to the warden by ne of his deputies, and upon opening it lie informed us that it was a pardon for one of the onvicts. We enquired if it would encroach pon the prison rules, under such circumstances, to accompany the warden to the cell, while he should read it to the prisoner, and were kind. ly informed that we could join him. We soon reached the cell, where we found a fresh-laced young man, of perhaps twenty four, who was busily engaged at a little loom, weaving.

Good morrow, John, said the warden. 'Good morning, sir.'

'Thee keeps busy, John !" 'O, yes, sir-but it's very dull." 'Does thee tire of work, John ?" 'No, pir-but I think of home.'

'And thee would like to visit home once 'Ob, sir-if I could but do so.'--

'And thee would not return again." 'I would try to deserve better, sir.'. Well, John, what would thee say, if I should If thee I had a purdon for thee !" 'Oh, sir, such news would be too good." But thee would like to hear it?"

"I care not for myself so much," said the poor prisoner, and tears filled his eyes-but for my wife and child, I would be so happy'---

'And thee would shun wicked company

"Oh yes-and I would labor for my wife and ttle one'---Well, John, here is thy Adon, continued he good old man-and he read the document.

which freed this unfortunate being, who had seen the dupe of other knaves. We had the leasure of seeing him released, after a three ears' confinement, and of learning that he joind his young family, to whom he has since been faithful guardian.

We passed out to the ante-room again, where ve encountered a new comer, who had just reached the prison as we re-entered. He had been sent up for five years, on a charge of em-

He was elegantly attired in the latest style f fashion, and possessed all the nonchalance and devil-me-care appearance of a genteel rowdy. He twirled his watch chain, looked particularly knowing at a couple of ladies who chanced to e present, and seemed atterly indifferent about imself or the predicament he was pinced in!---The warden read his commitment, and addresed him with - - - district levelled a

'Charles, I am sorry to see you here.' 'It can't be beloed, old fellow! 'What is thy age, Charles !"

'Twenty-three.' 'A Philadelphian!' Well-kinder, or kinder not." Thee hast disgraced thyself endly."

Well, I sin't troubled, old cock. Thee looks not like a rogue. 'Matter of opinion.'

"Thee was well situated." Yes-well enough. - I min and the delign t 'In good employ.' s shavels and it vol Santo Well- so-so.' And thee has parents !!-----'Yes.'nen cade avew arest of Perhaps thee hast a mother, Charles ?---

The convict had been standing during this brief dialogue, perfectly unconcerned and reckess, until this last interrogatory was put. Had thunderholt struck him, he could not have fal-burst, on the instant! He recovered partially. and said imploringly to the warden-

Vol. 7--No. 48--Whole No. 360

'Don't you, sir-for God's sake don't sall her name in this dreadful place! Do what you may with me, but don't mention that name to me!" There were tears in other eyes besides the prisoner's, and an aching silence pervaded the group who surrounded the unfortunate convict.

drawn over his head, he was lead to an edjoining apartment and stripped, and shortly afterwards he re-appeared upon the corridor. He passed silently on, in charge of a deputy keepcr, to a lonely cell in a distant part of the prison, the door creaked on its hinges, he disappeared, the chain dropped from the outside bolts, and Charles ---- was a close prisoner for five years to come!

We left the prison with heavy hearts, relieved, however, by the reflection, that this was one of the best deviced institutions of its kind in the world, (notwithstanding the libels of Charles Dickens,) and that its administration in the hands of Mr. Scattergood, secured to its unfortunate inmates, the most 'equal and exact justice.' of minary team to year Boston Times .-

COL. MAY'S OPINION OF GEN. TAYLOR .-- Col.

Charles May, of the regular army is a democrat. He got his original appointment in the army from Gen Jackson. Said the old General, 'Well, young man, what can you do in Florida! Can you kill an Indian!' 'Yes, General, and eat him afterwards. 'Enough said . call up to-morrow and get your commission.'-Since that time, May has been in the service with old Zack-in the everglades of Floridsin the prairies of the West, and in the chaparreleand among the Mountains of Mexico. The Colonel was at the President's last night, and we met him at Coleman's on his return. A number of gentlemen from the States were also present, and the Presidency became the theme. And they who have imbibed the idea that May can fight, but not talk, are mistaken. Just express a doubt of old Zack, and the man is eloquent. Said he, 'I know the man, and I love him: a mere triendship for my old General. won't answer; but I love him. I know him well. I am a democrat. He is no politician; but he is a patriot from the crown of his chapeau to his spure; and I'll trust him even with the Presidency. He is no party man, but he is a republican. When he promises a thing, it is to If there is one thing in which he is really ignorant, it is his ignorance of his own solid worth. lam a democrat. I believe a national bank a national evil. I hold to the principles of my party; yet I go for General Taylor. He is as good as any party man we could get. I would trust him as I would trust Washington, who was no party man. I believe he will conduct the government after the plan of Washington. If I were to select a mun as the best impersonation of institutions, as the best living sample of a sturdy, substantial American, I would by my hand upon the shoulder of my old General, and I would say, 'gentlemen, this is the man." I tell you, gentlemen, when you express a doubt of Gen. Taylor's honesty of political independence, I feel bound to give him my feeble defence. You may talk about not going for any man excepting the democratic nominee, and going for the nominee, any how, and for no other man. But, gentlemen, you will excuse me, i I decline to be handcuffed. A freeman likes to have the free use of his bands, and the free exercise of his opinions."

Such are substantially, if not to the letter, the opinions of Col. May of the 2d Dragoons, as we heard him express himself last night; and although we have no authority to report him, but that he will be surprised to find his words in print, yet, as his sentiments are in every way creditable to the man and the soldier, we have chosen to give them a wider hearing than the half dozen persons who were present during this interview. It is useless to say that the Notional Convention waved all further litigation of the merits of the nominee over every o ther candidate .- Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald, not send fired of Alley Filling send DISINFECTING FLUID .- A report on Mr. Lo. doyen's "Disinfecting Pluid," by Dr. Southwood Smith, R. D. Grainger, and Jeech Toyabeo Dogre, has just been presented to Parliament. According to Mr. Ledoyen's mateinest, the the id disinfects nighteoil, not destroying, but increasing vegetation, more particularly as regards agriculture, completely preventing the disease in potatoes, when the land is manured with disinfected night-soil. It disinfects hospital wards of minema, also cellars, water-closets and buildings infected by impure gases. It disinfects sailors suffering from fever on board of yessels; it will also disinfect ships at sea and under qurantine. It disinfects patients the mob stopped the carriage; the lady was suffering with infectious disorders and wounds. len more suddenly than he did when the name also dead bodies, so that they may be hept did not much to use force or violence, and that And on taking out his knife to cut the 'darned of 'mother' fell on his car! He sank into a nearly a month, also different pertant the body and was then suffered to re-enter the corresponding form the should be sank into a nearly a month, also different pertant the body and was then suffered to re-enter the corresponding to the body and the sank into a nearly a month, also different pertant the body and was then suffered to re-enter the corresponding to the body and the bod the very fountain of his heart seemed to have coroner's inquests, &c. - Liver pool Times.

PRICES OF ADVERTISING.

column, $18, three squares, $12; two squares, $9; one square, $5. Half-yearly: one column, $18; three squares, $8; two squares, $5; One square, $3 50.

Advertisements left without directions as to the length of time they are to be published, will be continued until ordered out, and charged accord Casixtoen lines or less make a square.

The Countryman and Clam Soup.

A few days ago, just before dinner time, a nungey looking man entered the Refectory of Mr. Warner-and then propounded the usual nterrogatory

'Is this the place where they keep Clam Soup?

'Yes, sir,' said Mr. Werner, 'how much will you have !

'Well replied the customer, 'I guess I'll take hree cents worth.' Three cents worth!' exclaimed the astonished bost ; 'why man alive, where are you going to put three cents worth? You certainly wont pretend to est that much at a time!" 'How do you sell it!' asked the astonished 'One cent a gallon!' countryman.

Well, I'il try a gallon!' said the countryman, he lessurely took a seat in one of the box-

Mr. Warner, who felt in the humor for a joke, measured out a gallon of Clam Soup, and had it carried to the customer. He commenced devouring it, and after several temporary suspensions in order to wipe away the perspiration. and breath free, he at length found the bottom of his soup dish. Mr. W. enquired of the customer whether he didn't want more! He replied negatively, and enquired of Mr. Warner -

'How, in the world do you manage to make oup so cheap !'

'Why, said Mr. Warner, 'in the spring we buy about a hundred clams-put them into a hogshead of water, and by occasionally throwing in a few crackers, and sufficient pepper and salt, in few weeks have the soup ready for use, and keep it the whole year round.

'Well now! sin't that fust rate! What d'you ask for the receipt?'

For a country right, I ask $50, $30 for a township; and $3 for family right!"

'That'll just suit us, for we don't get clams whar I live, more than once a year. The next time I come down, I guess I'll buy a family right! I'm desperate foud of Clam Soup myself .- Trenton State Gazette.

AMERICAN MECHANICS IN RUSSIA .-- A correspondent of a New Haven paper gives the following account of the manufactory of Messre. Harrison, Wyman, and Eastwick, three enterprising Americans, who have made a contract with the Imperial Government for the construction of the engines and cars for a great rail-road from St. Petersburg to Moscow, under the superintendance of Major Whistler. Their facts ry, covering several acres, is at Alexandrosky, near St. Petersburg, and in the agreeable company of the centlemen of the firm, I have been through the whole establishment, visiting the model room-the foundries-the engine and car departments-and finally the immense warehouses erected to receive the finished work and where there are now 134 locomotives and 1200 cars of different kinds stowed away ready for the road. By their contract they are to make between two and three hundred engines and several thousand cars. Six steam engines were in operation, moving the most beautiful machinery, (the invention for the greater part of the ingenious proprietors themselves,) and pear 2000 serfs were employed in the several departments—the establishment turning out five complete locomotives in a month, as many cars a day-or as some of the company expressed it, "a mile of cars a month !"

The passenger cars, by the way, are built after the manner of those in general use through the United States-that is, long and not cut up into spartments for six or eight persons only, as are those upon all other European railways -This innovation when first proposed was not well received by the Russians, but its advantages were so strongly urged by our mechanics that the "Yankee notion" was finally allowed to prevail. I was also shown the model of an Imperial car, which is to be 70 feet in length, divided into a saloon, chambers, apartments for servants, &c , &., and fitted up with Imperial The Sea of Amelian estimated and and

The London Spectator, adverting to the recent deplorable exposure of official venality in France, makes the following ominous comment :

"The corruption is not the only alarming symptom. A wide and deep-rooted revolutionary spirit no doubt exists in the capital; it has been aggravated by this exposure, and by the ill-timed fete which the Duc de Montpensier gave, as if to contrast with the official crime, and the scarcely ended popular distress. The expression of the people in face and word, is noticed to be like that which characterised their aspect in 1930. A great freturm banquet, lately held. called forth a strong show of such feeling: A curious and startling anecdote of the Duke's Jute is current in Paris. In a carriage returning from it, was a lady who was reputed to have reciprocated fartre with royal gallante; made to slight, and was compelled to go the round of her cantors, such exacting a kier. encots, and of ,ca of hostility ogainst princes."

"Philadelphia Watch and Jewelry Store," jewelled, 18 carat cases, $45 00 ses, plain, 121 cts; patent, 181; Lamet, 25. O. ther articles in proportion. All goods warranted to be what they are sold for. O. CONRAD.

On hand, some Gold and Silver Levers, Lepines and Quartiers, lower than the above prices.

Philadelphis, Dec. 5, 1846.—19

DANIEL DRUCKEMILLER. At his Uld Establishment, in Market Street,

RETURNS his thanks for past favors, and re-spectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he continues to manufacture to or-CHEAP BOOTS AND SHOES.

offers for cash, cheaper than ever before effered in this place. He respectfully invites his old costo-mers, and others, to call and examine for them-

By the single pound or larger quantity, at the 'ekin Tea Company's Warehouse Bouth Second street, between Market and Ches.

PHILADELPHIA. Heretofore it has been very difficult, indeed, alback Tens. But now you have only to visit the of fragrant Tea as you could wish for. All rastes n here be writed, with the advantage of getting a

THE SUBSCRIBER has been appointed agents for the sale of CONRAD MEYER'S CEL-BRATED PREMIUM ROSE WOOD PL d sweetness of tone, and elegance of workmanp, are not surpassed by any in the United States. in following is a recommendation from Cana Ers, a cokbruted performer, and himself a man-

HAVING had the pleasure of trying the excellibited at the het exhibition of the Franklin Inute. I feel it due to the true merit of the maker in some respects even superior, to all the Pi-Portes I now at the capitals of Europe, and bese Pianos will be sold at the manufacturer's

Counterfeiter ? DEATH BLOW

he public will please observe that no Brandieth Pills are genuine, unless the hox has three laupon it. (the top, the sole and the bottom) i containing a fac-simile signature of my handing, thus—B. Buakonken, M. D.—These laare engraved on steel, beautifully designed, emember the top, the side, and the bottom following respective persons are duly authori

County : New Berlin-Bogat & Win Solingrove—George Guodrum MiddleIsaac Smith. Beavertown—David Hubler.
Isaac Smith. Beavertown—David Hubler.
Isaac Smith. Beavertown—David Hubler.
Isaac Smith. Beavertown—David Hubler.
Isaac Smith. Beavertown—Memsch
tay. Hardetom—Danid Long. Feedburg—F. C. Moyer. Lawinburg—Walla & Groon.
Jumbia county: Danville—E. B. Reynolds
Derwick—Shuman & Rittenhouse. Catsa—C. G. Brotts. Broomsburg—John R.

B. BRANDBETH, M.D. se 24th 4843, diagnose al -giril afff stussPUTTING THE "GYVES" ON SANTA An Incident of the Texan War. The elequent and graceful style in which

Taylor The southern portion of this cour that heroic personage, General Don Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, has, on all suitable occasions, talked of making a martyr of himself, for the sake of his country, together with the case and facility with which he has managed to elude the pains and consequences of the assumption of so interesting a character-thus appropriating all the glory without any inconveniences of martyrdom-will undoubtedly constitute one of the most remarkable features of the life of the "hero of Tampico." Had he died as often as he has expressed a resolution to do so, the nine lives appertaining to the feline species would be sudden annihilation in comparison. But luckily or unluckily, for himself and Lis people, all his resolves upon death have been met by counter inclinations to live, and so thus far, upon every approach of the king of terrors, he has contrived to give him the go-by. The world is beginning to suspect that the vain glorious Mexican is not half so ready and willing to shuffle off this mortal coil, as he would have them believe: in which opinion I fully coincide or rather the world coincides with me, as I have long been dubies of his courage. Having had the honor to be present myself, when Santa Anna was possessed of one of his deadly resoluvery affecting scene. The writer served a campaign, and a pretty long one, too, in the Texan revolutionary army of 1830. The company to which he was attached, in conjunction with another, had charge of Gen. Santa Anna during the latter part of his imprisonment at Orazimbo, a short distance above Columbia, on the Brizos. While we Mexican nation thus? were there, the army took it into their heads that in consequence of the many bloody mashis musket to his shoulder. sacres he had committed on their friends, Santa Anna deserved to be hanged, and they passed a resolution to that effect, and sent a request to Gen. Rusk that he would cause him to be brought to head quarters for the purpose of being executed. The General, however, happenpened to entertain different views from those o is intelligent cohorts, and refused to comply with their wishes touching the life of the distinguished captive; but sent an order to have him ironed and kept in close confinement. The order came in a few days, and a neighboring gyver, with which to put it into execution.

tions, I will endeavor to describe briefly that

The senior officer being absent, the duty of superintending the iron operation developed upon our Captain, Dick Dawson, who was second in command. Dawson expressed some embarrassment as to how the order should be executed, as he was totally ignorant of the Spanish language, and every other under heaven, save the sernacular of the Comberland mountains, and being purely a man of action, had never much occasion for even that. The captain. however, was not the man to hesitate long about any thing in which his duty was concernedhe would have undertook to chain the very devil had General Rusk ordered him. So, taking his great basket-hilted sword under his arm. followed by the grim visaged son of Vulcan, he proceeded towards the quarters of our illustrious prisoner. Without puzzling his brain any farther, he had fallen upon a plan peculiar to himself, and that was, to do the business in the plainest, straight-forward manner possible. Ar. riving at the door, they opened it without any great show or ceremony, marched into the room where they found Santa Anna alone, sitting at his table apparently too much absorbed in writing to notice their entrance. Dawson tapped him gently on the shoulder to attract his attention, and immediately commenced manipulating the air with signs indicative to the object of his visit. The General stared at him with vacant astonishment. Meantime, the sturdy blacksmith knelt upon the floor, and depositing his "jewelry" by his side, he laid his immense paws upon the delicate shanks of the prisoner. Santa Anna's attention was attracted to his feet, where the smith was, with great deliberation, arranging his irons, preparatory to fastening them on Instantly divining their attention, he made single spring which placed him beyond their immediate reach, and getting the table betwiat him and them, snatched up a huge glass ink stand, which he flourished around his bead swearing all the time, by every saint in the Mexican calendar, that he would perish by a thousand deaths rather than submit to such an

Fortunately for Santa Anna, Col, Almonte. who spoke English remarkship well, attracted by the noise, came in to see what the metter was, just as about half of Dawson's sword had found its way from the scabbard. Almonte beg- a few hours after planting cucumber seeds, the ged him to desist, with which be instantly com- dirt begun to fly and the vines came up like a plied, returning his sword to its place. Dawson told Almonte to say to Senta Appa that he in any way, "but," continued the captain, "my seed in his pocket!"

An Hour in the Penttenttery. During our sojourn in Philadelphia, last suin-