

ANECDOTES OF GENERAL TAYLOR.

One Sergeant Harris, who was wounded at the storming of Monterey, and ordered home for the recovery of his health, related the following characteristic anecdote of 'old Rough and Ready' to a correspondent of the N. Y. Herald. They are, of course, interesting:

The character of General Taylor is pretty much what it is represented. He is mild and affable, yet firm and unflinching. If a soldier under his command thinks he is aggrieved, it is to the General he looks for redress, and never fails in getting it, in case General Taylor, on inquiry, ascertains it to be well founded. The 'old man,' as he is familiarly termed by officers and men, is approachable at all hours. He will sit and talk with the commonest soldier in the most affable manner, and my informant tells me that he has often wondered at seeing him enter minutely into the private affairs of the soldiers under his command, give them his advice when asked, as it frequently is, and when that is over, read to them from the newspapers the anecdotes of the army, which have made their way into print in the northern cities, at which he would laugh as heartily as any of them. He is beloved by all in his command, officers and men. All take pleasure in obeying his commands; and when an order is given by him, there is emulation among all who hear it, obey it. His treatment of the Mexicans is marked with the same urbanity. They, according to my informant, at least such of them as have been in the habit of serving the camp with milk and other little nice uses, love him as much as his own soldiers do.

On a certain occasion one of these poor creatures complained to Le Capitaine that a volunteer had entered his rancho, and appropriated to his own use some of his edibles, without paying for them. Now this was a breach of orders which Gen. Taylor could not overlook, so he had the rascaler indentified by the Mexican, and brought before him. The General examined and cross-examined him, in relation to the offence, for upwards of two hours, at the end of which time he arrived at the conclusion that the volunteer was not quite so much to blame as the accuser represented, but thought him deserving of some punishment, and what was the punishment do you suppose he inflicted upon him? Why he directed a barrel to be placed in front of his tent, directed the volunteer to mount it, and kept him standing there for two hours. At the end of which he gave him a few words about not doing the like again, &c. and sent him back to his quarters. Occasionally it occurs that a man will want to write a letter to his friends, and has no materials to do so. Without hesitation he applies to the 'old man,' and gets all he wants, pen, ink, and paper, and water, which comes from his private stock, which is always at the service of the soldiers.

We have all heard the soubriquet of Rough and Ready had its origin in the Florida war, in which Gen. Taylor treated the red skins in the roughest way and in the readiest manner; but I have not seen it stated when it was first used in this war. According to Sergeant Harris, it was in this war: After the memorable battles of Rosaca de la Palma and Palo Alto, the old General directed the men to be brought up before him in review, which was of course done. While reviewing them to see, no doubt, how they looked after their scuffle with the yellow bellies, an old soldier, who served under him in the Florida war, proposed at the top of his voice, 'Three cheers for old Rough and Ready,' which were given with all honors. As soon as they had subsided, the old General, every feature in his open countenance speaking volumes, gracefully took off his cap, and returned thanks, and said, 'Gentlemen, I would be happy to treat you all, but I have got nothing except some Rio Grande water with which to do it.'

On one occasion a volunteer getting tired of discipline, thought he would relieve himself of it for a time at least, and with that view absented himself for a week without leave, and made a trip to the country. As soon as his absence was known to the camp he was proclaimed a deserter, and men sent in pursuit of him. He returned, however, before he was arrested, and immediately made his way to the old General, and told him in mitigation of punishment, that he was always accustomed to open back-wood life, and it went hard with him to be confined so much. 'Well, (said the General) don't do so again, my boy, without leave,' and directed him to go to his quarters. That man, says my informant, thinks General Taylor the best man living, and he would willingly lose life itself at his bidding.

Gen. Taylor's modesty is equalled by magnanimity. It was not known in camp until three weeks after it was known to the General himself, that he had received a Brevet, and all the army heard of the sword presentation to him, was through the papers.

REASONABLE HINTS.—The Journal of Health has the following remarks upon sleeping in cold bedrooms, which are quite appropriate to the season, now that the fire and cloaks are beginning to flourish: Cold Bedrooms.—A person accustomed to undress in a room without a fire, and to seek repose in a cold bed, will not experience the least inconvenience, even in the severest weather. The natural heat of his body will very speedily render him even more comfortably warm than the individual who sleeps in a heated apartment, and in a bed thus artificially warmed, and who will be extremely liable to a sensation of chilliness as soon as the artificial heat is dissipated. But this is not all—the constitution of the former will be rendered more robust, and far less susceptible to the influence of atmospheric vicissitudes than that of the latter.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS. From the Camden Democrat. WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.—These celebrated Pills, so universally used and admired, have become to be considered almost as necessary in families as water or fuel. In fact, the principle upon which this medicine has established its reputation—purgative—is now pretty generally acknowledged to be the only true one, by which health may be preserved, or restored when impaired.

From the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post. WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS, are attracting great celebrity in New England, as well as other parts of the United States. The attempt of persons to defraud the public by the sale of spurious articles meets with general reprobation. Dr. Wright is an indefatigable business man, and shows an array of cures by the medicine which evinces confidence in the virtues of his Indian Vegetable Pills.

From the Philadelphia Spirit of the Times. WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.—People are pretty well satisfied by this time that colds, and other thousand and one minor preparations of the shops, are better adapted, as a general rule, to kill rather than cure the patient; as a matter of course, vegetable medicines are therefore in great request. There are many humbugs however, among the latter, and we would advise all those who have the least regard for their health, to try Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills of the preparation of one in a hundredly acquainted with the healing art.

From the Boston Daily Times. WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.—Of all the public advertised medicines of the day, we know of none that we can more safely recommend for the 'ills that flesh is heir to,' than the Pills that are sold at the depot of the North American College of Health, No. 128 Tremont street, Boston. Several instances we know of where they are used in families with the highest satisfaction; and no longer ago than yesterday, we heard an eminent physician of this city recommend them in high terms.

The following highly respectable storekeepers have recently appointed agents for the sale of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, in Northumberland county: Henry Masser, Sunbury; E. & J. Kniffin, Augusta township; Samuel Herb, Little Mahony; William Deppen, Jackson; Beneville Holube, Upper Mahony; John G. Rinn, Upper Mahony; Samuel John, Shamokin town; Parshley, Wilson & Co., Northumberland; E. L. Piper, Watsonburg; Ireland & Hayner, McEwen'sville; James C. Pollock, McEwen'sville; Wm. G. Scott, Rushville; Hartman Knoble, Elvysburg P. O.; Am. T. Beisel, Turbato; Gid-on Shabel, Upper Mahony; Rhodes & Farrow, Snyderstown; John King, Farmersville; Siles C. Cook, Martin's Creek; J. De Young, Hicksville; Abraham Swier, Richmond; Samuel Taylor, Statefort; John H. Vincent, Chillispaque; Wm. Heinen & Brodley, Mifflin; Hays & Co., Carlisle. The public are cautioned against the many spurious medicines, which in order to deceive, are called by names similar to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills. The safest course is to purchase of the regular agents only, who are gentlemen that may be relied on.

OFFICE devoted exclusively to the sale of WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS, of the North American College of Health, No. 288 Greenwich Street, New York; No. 128 Tremont Street, Boston; and PRINCIPAL OFFICE, No. 169 Race Street, Philadelphia, June 12th, 1847.—197.

SOMETHING NEW!

THE Subscriber has the exclusive right of vending J. M. THATCHER'S Hot Blast Hot Air Cooking STOVES, in the counties of Northumberland, Columbia and Schuylkill; and from the encouragement met with already, they expect to do a large business. This stove is constructed on an entirely new principle, and on the only principle that can make both a good wood and coal stove. The inventor has overcome all the difficulties that so frequently belong to other stoves. He has by his arrangement, constructed a brooding oven in front, where, in broiling, roasting, frying or baking may be done, and all the smell that arises therefrom, must pass into the combustible chamber, and is not at all thrown into the room. Besides this, there is an oven only two inches less than the whole size of the stove, wherein broiling or roasting may be done as well as it can be in the common brick oven. This oven is always fit for use when the stove is heated, as the whole draught of hot air passes around it constantly. Public attention is particularly called to this stove. It can be seen at our Store and Tin Establishment in North Danville, at the sign of the Columbia Tin shop, and at the Foundry of Rohrbach & Clement in Sunbury, where its particular qualities will be fully shown and explained to any person wishing to examine it. The subscribers continue to have on hand all kinds of parlor stoves, such as radiators, cylinders, fancy and plain, suitable for all who may favor us with a call; also common sheet and Russia Iron, which can be made in any desirable shape; together with a general assortment of tin and japanned ware, wholesale and retail. Country merchants are invited to call and examine our stock, as our work cannot be surpassed, and prices moderate. N. B. We can safely recommend the above mentioned stove to persons who wish to embark in a good business. The patentee will sell either county or state rights, to suit purchasers, and on reasonable terms. He or his agents may be found in Danville, Pa. J. & J. ARTER.

The undersigned, having been in operation the hot blast hot air cooking stove, invented and patented by J. M. Thatcher, certify that we believe, from the manner of its construction and operation, that it is the best one ever offered to the public. The arrangement is so complete and the construction so judicious, that there is a saving of one half the fuel and time, in doing any given amount of a roasting, over other celebrated stoves. In short we recommend it in preference to all others, for the simple reason that it embraces every branch of economy. Samuel Garrett, John W. Garrett, David Chatfield, W. F. Kitchin, John M. Gray, E. Small quantities given without Charge. No. 114 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA. THIS new and splendid article, as its name denotes, is prepared to be superior to any Shaving Cream in the United States or Europe. It is unsurpassed for beauty, purity and fragrance, somewhat analogous to Gu-rain's Ambrosial Cream and other similar compounds. It further possesses the advantage over the imported article, in being freshly prepared, no skill being wanting in its manufacture. E. Roussel having had many years' experience in the celebrated Laboratory of Laugier, Pere et Fils, rue Renaud & Co., of Paris. Besides being the best, it is the cheapest article for shaving; it is elegantly put up in boxes, with splendid steel engraved labels.
