CANNING PRACHES.-Put into a nice reelain or brass kettle any desired quantity of water, sweeten with pure white sugar; when boiling, thow into it either whole or stoned peaches as desired. Let these also boil to a certainty, when, with a prong or fork fill one bottle with the fruit, afterwards covering with the boiling juice. Let the bottle be quite full, cork and seal, or cover with the lid immediately, completing one bottle at a time. As the fruit is exhausted in the kettle more should be added, also some boiling water from the tea kettle, and sugar as the supply of juice diminishes. Be careful a reliable quick yielding manure.

To season the bottles with warm water before sponsible dealers. The Alibert filling with the boiling fruit, or you will be very likely to crack many of them. It will be of no use for you to allow the fruit to remain in any bottle, however slightly flawed or cracked, as the contents will not keep. In such case the fruit should be returned to the kettle, brought to a boil and placed in a perfect bottle, but there is no necessity for cracking or injuring one in ten thousand. Do not allow yourself to be more than a few seconds in filling and completing entirely, each bottle. Care should be taken not to place a bottle after filling and while hot, near to any very cold substance-for instance, on a cold plate, marble, stone shelf, table, or kle with cold water. 'Any one understanding the principles of heat and cold will perceive immediately the commonsonse of these

ROASTING AND FRYING MEATS. The English are acknowledged to be the best meat cooks in the world. They never allow any water or broth in the pan where the meat is. The roast, from time to time is pasted with the drippings from the fat. In frying a steak or mutton chop, the pan should become thoroughly heated before placing the meat in it, which should have been previously seasoned with pepper and salt. The latter should not be applied till just before the cooking, as it has a tendency to harden. The steak or chop should be turned constantly till done brown.

HINTS TO ICE CREAM MAKERS. - The proportion of ice and salt should be near as possible—two parts of ice to one of salt. In packing, make one myer of ice, then a layer of salt, and so on, to the desired depth. If the cream freezes but slowly and does not come to an ice as rapidly as usual, the process may be very much hastened by adding a little more salt and a few fresh pieces of ice. Before putting into the freezer the cream or Grocery and Variety Store. A most Powerful Vitalizing Agent and milk should be as cold as possible.

TOMATO CATSUP.—Pour boiling water on the tomatoes, let them stand until you can rub off the skin, then cover them with salt. and let them stand twenty-four hours. Then then add a pint of wine.

To Pickle Tomatoes.-As you gather them, throw them into cold vinegar. When you have enough, take them out, and scald some spices tied in a bag, in good vinegar and pour it hot over them.

To PICKLE ONIONS .- Peel, and boil in milk and water ten minutes, drain off the milk and water, and pour scalding spiced vinegar on to them.

CURRANT ICE WATER .- Press the juice from ripe currants, strain it, and put a pound of sugar to each pint of juice. Put it into bottles, cork and seal it, and keep in a cool, dry place. When wanted, mix it with ice water for a drink. Or put water with it. make it very sweet, and freeze it. Freezing always takes away much of the sweetness.

CURE FOR SHYING.

If a lady's horse beaddicted to shying, I will give her a sure and simple cure for the same, one which I have never known to fail. Let us for instance, suppose the existence of a heap of stones on the near side of the road, The horse sees an indistinct gray object, and prepares to shy at it, The moment he shows such symtoms let his fair rider turn both her eyes on exactly the opposite side of the road. and look steadily away from the offending heap, and I engage that the horse will walk nietly by. For many years I have ridden horses of all tempers and dispositions, some of them much given to shying, and have never yet found this simple remedy to fail in The reason is this :- The human eyes has, doubtless, a great influence on all animals, and there is a strong and secret sympathy | BLOOMSBURG FANCY TRIMMING between the horse and his rider. The horse sees an indistinct object, and looks doubtfully at it; his rider becomes alarmed, imagining that the animal is going to commit some eccentricity; the fear is communicated to the animal, and he starts in terror from the object which has frightened him; whereas if he and every variety of articles usually kept in a finds that his rider sits unmoved and unconcernedly, he regains his confidence, he goes on "in the even tenor of his way." I believe that one-half of our horses are ruined for life by being "hit over the head" by grooms, to cure them of shying.

Cattle bought that had been mealed, I give more. If stabled, give plenty of air in front, this is important. It is important to have the right kind, Shorthorn and Hereford grades are best. These may be fed at any age. If common cattle, get them deep at the flanks and wide across the loins, with good points generally; such may be fattened at rising four years. There are so few Herefords they are not worth writing about. I am feeding 300 Michigan wethers.

THENEW Spring & Summer Medicine. FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA

COMBINED WITH

IODIDE OF LIME. PREPARED FOR G. W. PETTES, BOSTON, JAMES R. NICHOLS & CO. Manufacturing Chemists.

MANUFACTURERS OF THE ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK WITH Protoxide of Iron. Which has become so favorably known as a

TONIC AND RESTORATIVE. By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the coun The new preparation. "Sarsaparilla In combina-tion with Indide of Lime," presents one of the most prompt alterative agents, in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the altera-tive, resolvent, or tonic effects of lodine, are exerted most decidedly ween associated with other alter alives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seem o fulfill perfectly all the favorable requisitions. The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" staken, is an increase of appetite showing that i has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, acrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions. nd the vital functions assume a healthy condition. It is admirably adapted to a large number of chron or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suit ed to them both by the mildness and efficiency o medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclinat on to take the syrup, encountered, in White Swedings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persist ently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained. In the Spring of the Year, and during the Warm Weather, the accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very trouble situde, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH TODIDE OF LIME No preparation like it, or which approximates to is as an Alterative, or Blood Purifier, has everbefore been placed within the reach of invalids Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combinaon, in no respect resembling anything hitherto em The opinion of medical men concerning it, the de cription of its chemical character, therapoutic vaue, manner of use, etc., are given to a circular which can be had at the store of any and all first class Druggists.
